Mrs. FDR Answers Russian "Warmonger" Charge

Declares U. S. Retains Right To Find Fault

Yugoslavia "Mocks" Council, Spaak Says

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 3 (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told the United Nations, and particularly Soviet Russia, tonight that "we cling to the right of criticism and disagreement" in the United States.

That was her initial answer—and the first official United States reply in the United Nations—to the two broadsides fired by Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet chief delegate and Deputy Foreign Minister at what he called "warmongers in the United States."

Neither Vishinsky nor Secretary of State Marshall was present when Mrs. Roosevelt spoke.

"Sometimes the government and certain people disagree but we cling to the right of criticism and disagreement," Mrs. Roosevelt told the 57-nation General Assembly's Social, Humanitarian and Cultural Committee.

"It is the price one pays for freedom and for democracy that the government often has to wait for the enlightenment of the people."

The United States reply to the Russians capped a United Nations day which saw these other developments:

Spaak Blasts Yugoslavia

1. Belgian Premier Paul-Henri Spaak accused Yugoslavia of "mocking" the Security Council by refusing to co-operate with the now-defunct investigating commission in the Balkans.

2. Czechoslovakia urged the five big powers to declare as soon as possible whether they were willing to enforce any United Nations decisions on the future of Palestine. The Czechs raised the question before the Assembly's Special Palestine Committee. The United States said off the floor its plans still are indefinite. Russia also has not given any hint of its position on enforcement but the British have served notice they will not tackle that task alone again.

3. Australia demanded in the Security Council that it direct an international commission in Indonesia to undertake at once an effort to settle the Dutch-Indonesian conflict. The council approved the demand 9 to 0, with Poland and Russia abstaining.

4. Pakistan told the Assembly Legal Committee that Moslems by the "hundreds of thousands are being butchered" in communal hostilities between the new Moslem and Hindu dominions. India replied that the Pakistan statements were "as baseless as they are untrue."

Mrs. Roosevelt's declaration had been expected since the United States delegation disclosed she had been picked by Marshall to answer Vishinsky. The Soviet delegate was represented by one of his chief aides, V. A. Zorin. Mrs. Roosevelt and Vishinsky have clashed in this committee on other subjects at previous assemblies.

Jury Ponders Fate Of Young Heiress, Lover

State Demands Pair "Be Put Out Of Way"

SANTA ANA, Cal., Oct. 3 (INS) The fate of Beulah Louise Overell and her lover, George "Bud" Gollum, charged with murdering the girl's wealthy parents, was placed in the hands of a jury at 4:16 p. m. today.

The six men and six women jurors began deliberating after the chubby heiress broke into tears while the state was demanding that she and Gallum "be put out of the way."

As the jury filed out, the young lovers, who allegedly bludgeoned the Walter E. Overells to death and then dynamited their yacht, were returned to their cells in the county jail across the street from the courthouse. There they will remain until they hear the verdict.

"I am confident the jury will come in with a speedy acquittal for us."

Six Possible Verdicts

Judge Morrison said the jury could deliberate until midnight and then it would be locked up for the night if it had not reached a verdict.

However, her cousin, Marjorie Jungquist, said she would remain in Santa Ana until a verdict is returned.

Judge Morrison read to the jury six possible verdicts that it could return against Miss Overell. He then read eight possible verdicts which could be returned against Gollum.

Then he commented:

"I have read these verdicts for your consideration. You will agree on a verdict for each defendant on each count.

"It must be a unanimous verdict, however. When you retire to your chambers you immediately will select one member as your foreman.

Gollum licked his lips nervously.

The court clerk then swore in two deputies who have custody of the jurors and another deputy and a deputy's wife who were to have custody of the man and woman alternates.

Beulah's Tears Flow

Seated among the spectators in the packed courtroom was Gollum's mother, Mrs. Wilhelmina Stomel,

LAVAGETTO MOBBED—Teammates mob "Cookie" Lavagetto (center) after his ninth-inning pinch double to right broke up the fourth World Series game at Brooklyn yesterday. Lavagetto's drive, after two were out, ruined a no-hitter for Yankee Pitcher Bill Bevens. The blow drove across two runs to give the Dodgers a 3-2 victory and tie the series at two games each. Supply Would Last For Year, Distiller Says

Half Of Industry Pledges Grain Cut

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP) — The President's food committee got a pledge from about half the distilling industry tonight to cut the use of grain for liquor in order to help feed Europe. But one big distilling company declared the pact "doesn't accomplish enough" and called for a complete shutdown of the industry.

Publicker Industries, Inc., one of the "Big Five" distillers, sent a telegram to Charles Luckman, chairman of the food committee, saying:

"In view of the international food crisis and the huge quantities of grain now being used for beverage production, our companies, representing a large part of the country's distilled spirits industry, stand ready to join immediately in discontinuing all use of grain of any kind in the manufacture of distilled spirits whenever the industry is requested by the government to do so."

Earlier in the day Luckman met with officials of the Distilled Spirits Institute, which he said represents 60 per cent of the industry. He said the institute decided to recommend that all the industry use no more wheat and 50 per cent less other grains during the present "emergency."

Industry Official Amazed

Luckman announced at the White House that about half the distillers in the industry pledged themselves to that program.

Luckman estimated the emergency might last four to 10 months.

Quickly officials of Publicker, which is not a member of the institute, called a new conference.

A. P. Fenderson, an official of Continental Distilling Company, one of the Publicker industries, said his group was amazed at the talk about using no more wheat "because distillers do not use any wheat—they use only corn, rye and malt."

Officials of the institute said some wheat was used in rye whisky to give it a malt flavor.

Fenderson said:

"The distilleries now have enough whisky to last at least four years. There should be adequate supply at reasonable prices for at least a year without further production.

"The industry now has close to an all-time high inventory. According to alcohol tax unit figures, the industry has upwards of 475,000,000 proof gallons, compared with the prewar average of 450,000,000 gallons over the period of 1938 to 1941.

"This year the industry has been using straight whisky at a maximum rate of 75,000,000 gallons per year. The industry now has an all-time high of 60,000,000 proof gallons of neutral grain spirits, or at least an eight months supply."

No Shortage For Year

Fenderson predicted that there would be "no detectable shortage of bottled whisky for at least the next 12 months." He said the distilling industry is using between 10 and 16 million bushels of grain—chiefly corn—a month. Normally the industry uses no more than 5,000,000

Tenn. Political Figure Dies In Mysterious Auto Blast

T. Burkett Ivins Is Victim Of Explosion

ETOWAH, Tenn., Oct. 3 (AP) — T. Burkett Ivins, a controversial political figure ousted from office in the famed 1946 McMinn County election battle, was killed today in a mysterious automobile explosion.

As Ivins stepped on the starter of his car in his garage a terrific explosion ripped off his right leg, mangled his left arm, injured his five-year-old grandson, Danny, and tore the front of the car to pieces.

"It looks like some new explosive more powerful than dynamite," said Sheriff Knox Henry. "We've got nothing to work on."

The 65-year-old veteran Democratic leader died in a hospital in nearby Athens within a few minutes. The boy was treated for lacerations and dismissed.

Held Public Office 26 Years

Ivins had held public office for 26 years until he and his political allies were beaten in a bloody election by a non-partisan veterans group in August, 1946. The election resulted in a political turmoil throughout the county with wholesale resignations within a few weeks.

Henry, who took office on the veterans ticket after Sheriff Pat Mansfield left the county during the battle in which the veterans stormed the county jail, said he believed the blast had "no political implications."

Ivins was to go on trial in Athens for murder Monday, Henry said.

Ivins recently was tried for murder but a mistrial was declared. He shot Charles Dunn, nephew of a political enemy, on an Etowah street last April. He pleaded self defense.

Made "Lot of Enemies"

Etowah Police Chief C. O. (Bull) Kennedy said:

"He was in office a long time and made a lot of enemies. He had killed seven or eight men, most of them as sheriff."

Ivins was sheriff from 1920-32 but was Circuit Court clerk when the fight of ballots and bullets occurred.

The explosion this morning was heard throughout Etowah, which is located between Chattanooga and Knoxville. So powerful it peppered Ivins' body with steel fragments from the car, blew a fender through the garage roof and made a hole in the dashboard large enough for two persons to crawl through.

At the hospital, Henry said, Ivins made this death bed statement:

"Give me something to ease me. I should have died a long time ago."

Jap Surrenders After Hiding Out 3 Years On Guam

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP) — Lonely after the suicide of seven companions, a Japanese soldier who hid in the jungles of Guam for three years finally surrendered Wednesday—and was surprised to hear the war was over.

The Navy told the story today.

The soldier, Pvt. Shigero Arimoto, father of seven children, gave himself up to American authorities on Guam.

Through an interpreter, Arimoto said he arrived at Guam with his Regiment November 10, 1943. When American troops invaded the island, his company and battalion commanders were killed, and with seven companions he fled into the jungle.

One after another, he said, his mates took their own lives. He himself tried three times to commit suicide, but each time the thought of his children stopped him.

Wilhelmina Will Relinquish Power

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Oct. 3 (AP) — Wilhelmina, whose golden jubilee as Holland's Queen is less than a year away, soon will relinquish temporarily her royal power to Princess Juliana for reasons of health, the Netherlands government announced today.

The 67-year-old queen, who has been reported suffering from fatigue, plans to stay at her summer palace, Het Loo, for a rest, her secretariat said.

A communique, issued after Premier L. J. Beel told newsmen of the queen's decision, said Wilhelmina had requested it be made clear that there was no reason for alarm over her condition. The bulletin added:

"Nevertheless it is not surprising that the heavy burdens which weighed and still are weighing on her did not leave her health unaffected."

Legislation appointing Princess Juliana as regent will be introduced soon at a joint session of the two chambers of the Dutch Parliament, it was announced.

The 36-year-old Princess is married to Prince Bernhard. They have four daughters.

Reece Says Republican Will Win Presidency

DETROIT, Oct. 13 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece expressed belief today that the GOP would win the presidency in 1948 "regardless of which of several good potential candidates we nominate."

He declined comment when asked which probable candidate appeared to be ahead for the GOP nomination, but asserted, "It's a healthy sign when there are so many good men seeking it."

Reece, in a speech at the concluding session of a two-day conference of Republican women leaders from 19 midwestern states, termed the high cost of living "probably the most immediately acute problem facing the nation."

Trapped Whale Survives Bullets And Vanishes

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 3. (AP)—A weary whale, helplessly enmeshed in lobster trap-lines for two days, survived seven rifle shots today and revived sufficiently to break away from fishermen who had cut it loose and were towing it ashore.

Stout ropes coiled around its tail had anchored the big mammal to the trap lines near Trundy's Reef, eight miles from here.

Fred H. Darling, whose lobstering the whale had disrupted, put seven shots into the whale from a 38.55 rifle but, he related, they had as much effect "as bounding peas off its head."

Darling and three companions cut some of the lines and began towing the creature to the wharf. Twice the whale became energetic enough to part tow lines, the second time coming up from a dive with "a mighty larrup" just behind Darling's 39-foot boat.

Then it left the cove and vanished.

LONDON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Buckingham Palace announced today that Lt. Philip Mountbatten had been received into the Church of England by the Archbishop of Canterbury at a formal and private ceremony in preparation for his November 20 marriage to Princess Elizabeth.

Previously a member of the Greek Orthodox Church, Philip thus has embraced not only the religion of the kings and queens of England but also renounced his Greek nationality and his title of Greek prince.

More Immigrant Ships Reported Palestine Bound

Strike Is Staged By 1,500,000 Arabs

HAIFA, Palestine, Oct. 3 (AP) — A British source said tonight five more Jewish immigrant ships were believed headed for Palestine, where some 1,500,000 Arabs struck today in protest against partition.

The general strike, protesting a proposal to divide the Holy Land into Arab and Jewish states, paralyzed Arab parts of the country, but police stood guard with automatic weapons and the manifestation generally was peaceful. One Britisher was hurt slightly in the stoning of a group of correspondents in Haifa.

A naval informant said the British had information that three more Jewish refugee ships were en route to Palestine to defy the British blockade, "with two other probables," both believed being fitted now or already on the way.

Hagana "Offensive" Opens

He said the self-styled Jewish defense army Hagana, sponsor of most efforts to run Jews into Palestine over the 1,500-a-month quota, had begun a late summer "offensive" with the sending of the coastal vessels Paducah and Northlands, reported variously to have brought between 4,000 and 5,000 jews from Europe.

British naval parties boarded these ships in Palestine waters yesterday and brought them into Haifa. Transfer of the passengers to Cyprus detention camps began today.

Arab boys gathered at the dock cages and stoned a group of correspondents in automobiles and later a police car, but then were dispersed without difficulty.

The Paducah, renamed the Redemption, and the Northlands, renamed the Jewish State, were reported to have come from Black Sea ports by way of the Dardanelles, carrying mostly Jews from Romania and Bulgaria.

Papers Decline To Search Files For Probe Data

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 3 (AP) — The Hagerstown Daily Mail joined the Kent County News, an Eastern Shore weekly, today in declining to search its files to obtain information sought by United States Senate investigators.

Information sought by the probers dealt with the amount of space contracted in the two publications in connection with the 1946 senatorial campaign of former Gov. Herbert R. O'Conor. The Senate committee is investigating charges of election irregularities brought against Sen. O'Conor by his Republican rival, D. John Markey.

Prices Of Butter Continue Decline

[By The Associated Press]

The price of butter declined a second day Friday in the wholesale markets of several cities, and reductions in butter prices paid by retail shoppers were reported in many stores and dairies.

Grain prices showed little change after an eratic day of fluctuations on the Chicago Board of Trade, and livestock took trends both up and down in the nation's markets.

The price of butter tumbled four to 4½ cents in the New York wholesale market today after a decline of three to four cents a pound yesterday.

A 4½ cent decrease was reported in Philadelphia, and further declines were reported at Chicago where the price went three cents lower yesterday.

Dealers said that supplies were plentiful, but buying was light with retailers reporting that their customers were buying less of the spread than usual because of high prices.

Wholesale prices for top grade butter today were 74 cents at New York, 72.5 cents at Chicago, and 72 to 73½ cents at Philadelphia.

Wheat closed unchanged to one cent lower in Chicago, with December contracts $2.85 to $2.83½ a bushel. Corn was as much as 3⅝ cents lower, December quoted at 2.25½ to ¼. Oats were ½ cent lower to one-fourth cent higher, December closing at $1.12¼ to ½.

Meanwhile, a retail increase of one cent a loaf in the price of bread in several cities recently, was expected by bakers to become general. Atlanta reported bread up one to two cents a loaf with the new prices 14 and 15 cents.

Army Clears Lee, Reports Finding Some "Errors"

Eisenhower Praises Commander In Italy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—The Army mixed words of praise for Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee with a finding of some "errors" in his command and marked "closed" today its investigation of Army life in Italy.

Its only action was to order correction of what it called the occasional "errors" in the treatment of enlisted men.

Lee, a veteran West Pointer who is called "Court House Lee" by critics of his discipline, was said by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to have "performed a service to his country which has won the approbation of associates both civilian and military."

The investigation of Lee's conduct as commander of the Italian theater stemmed from a series of articles in which Robert C. Rurak, a Schipps-Howard newspaper columnist, related charges of mistreatment of enlisted men and lavish living by officers under Lee.

Ruark Plans Reply

In New York, Ruark said he intended to study the official Army report before replying and "in my own good time I will have the necessary answer."

Maj. Gen. Ira T. Wyche, Army Inspector General, made the report. He said Ruark's charges were based on "a few facts, half facts, rumors and untruth." He said there have been only "a few isolated cases of maladministration and probable miscarriages of justice, none of which were condoned and fostered by Gen. Lee."

However, in a memorandum which Eisenhower attached to the 12,000 word report, the Army Chief of Staff noted that there had been some "errors." He said he was sending out orders to the new theater commander (General Lee is in this country awaiting retirement) to correct them.

Specifically, Eisenhower said:

Gen. Lee should have "taken special steps" to make clear that his endorsement of membership in an organization called the "Fellowship of United States-British Comrades"

German Girls Involved In Stowaway Plan Fined

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 3 (AP) — An American Military Government court gave light fines today to two 21-year-old German girls involved in a bizarre plan to ship themselves to their fiances in the United States in small air freight boxes.

Doris Von Knoblock was fined $10 for attempting to leave Germany without proper authorization. The five-foot, four-inch blonde was discovered yesterday wedged in a box addressed to Rolph Berndt, New York.

Sigrid Kraft was fined $5 as an accomplice. She packed Miss Knoblock in the box and planned to try to ship herself in a box if her friend arrived safely. Miss Kraft said she was engaged to John Walters, Laurinburg, N. C., a former United States soldier at Darmstadt, Germany.

Senate Republicans Train Heaviest Guns On Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (INS)—The Senate Republican Policy Committee charged President Truman today with "questionable ethics" and "misleading" tactics in his relations with the 80th Congress.

The bitter attack appeared in material prepared by the office of George H. E. Smith, staff director of the GOP group, which is headed by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio.

Senate Republicans trained their heavy artillery on Mr. Truman as Taft headed east from a month-long western speaking tour which was to determine whether he would seek the 1948 GOP presidential nomination.

The committee, which maps major GOP policies in the upper chamber, where Mr. Truman sat for 10 years, accused the President of "poor sportsmanship." The document was entitled "The Story of the 80th Congress First Session."

Mr. Truman was charged with promising to co-operate with the Republican Congress after the 1946 elections and then "deliberately" attempting to "beat" the GOP by "doing in advance those things he knew they were pledged to do . . ."

The committee contended that the President was "thus taking to himself the public credit Republicans had earned." It declared:

"He even carried this to the point of misleading congressional leaders."

The President also was accused of "public evasion" of the Taft-Hartley labor regulation law through a veto message which was "strongly antagonistic . . ."

Republicans argued that Mr. Truman deliberately appointed men to administer the act "who were well known to be out of sympathy with the law."

The committee accused the President of having "discouraged" the Justice Department from making a thorough investigation of the Kansas City, Mo., vote fraud charges. It said Mr. Truman did this "by his public silence . . . and possibly by more direct action."

Earth Shock Swings Mexico City Lights

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3 (AP) — An earth shock strong enough to swing office lights was felt here at 5:33 p. m. (CST) and lasted about a minute and a half. It was the third shock recorded here within 17 hours.

There was no immediate report of damage.

The government meteorological observatory said it recorded today's first shock at 12:35:52 a. m. (CST) with the epicenter located about 7,000 kilometers (4,347) miles from the capital, but its direction was not determined.

The second shock came at 2:11:40 a. m. with the center located about 340 kilometers (211 miles) north of the capital.

Wife Of Weirton Steel President Killed In Pa. Superhighway Crash

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Lauretta Millsop, 48, wife of Thomas E. Millsop, president of the Weirton Steel Company and Mayor of Weirton, W. Va., was killed and six other persons injured in a head-on automobile crash tonight on the Pennsylvania Turnpike eight miles east of the New Stanton interchange.

State police at Bedford said a rear tire apparently blew out on the Millsop car, driven by Mrs. Millsop. They added that the machine jumped the superhighway's six-inch-high center line, directly in the path of oncoming traffic, crashing into another machine driven by Gilbert Olenhausen, 57, Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh.

Olenhausen's wife was the most seriously injured of six persons brought to Westmoreland Hospital here, suffering fractures of both legs and deep head cuts. Olenhausen, transportation manager and director of the Duquesne Brewery at Pittsburgh, has a broken right ankle and bad cuts. Both were reported in "fair" condition.

Also injured were Mrs. Millsop's three-year old granddaughter, Joan Close, Weirton; Mrs. Erma Strochlein, 45, Baltimore (street address unavailable); and Mr. and Mrs. William Dudley, Weirton, chauffeur and maid to the Millsop family.

Millsop arrived here from Weirton about 9 p. m. and arranged to have Mrs. Millsop's body returned tomorrow to Weirton, where funeral services will be held, with burial at Hubbard, Ohio.

The steelman then returned to Weirton, taking with him his granddaughter. She was released from the hospital in care of a

White Lie Plotted To Ease Dying Boy Through Premature Christmas

DETROIT, Oct. 3— (AP) —They plotted a gentle white lie today to ease a dying boy through a premature last Christmas.

Nine-year-old Tommy Scott, suffering from incurable cancer, will have an early Christmas because his doctor said he may not live to see the real one.

The date hasn't been set but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lesther Scott, said it will be some time this month.

Dr. J. J. Angel described the husky, blond youngster as a "smiling and cheerful patient, who knows something is wrong but doesn't realize how serious it is."

"There's nothing we can do but try to make him comfortable and prolong his life," the physician added.

He said the boy first came to his attention a year ago when his mother complained that he lost interest in school. She described him as a "normal boy, a little more ornery than most."

That "ornery" streak, the doctor told her, was the result of his painful ailment.

Outside the window of the modest Scott home a tiny pine sways gently in the autumn breeze, a symbol of the gayety that will mask the pseudo Christmas pageantry.

Underneath the pine, the Scotts have decided, shall rest all the things a boy dreams of—erector sets, jigsaw puzzles, books, tops, toy automobiles and airplanes.

There will also be baseball bats and gloves and roller skates—the little white lies of a small boy's final Christmas.

Only Tommy is unaware that another summertime of baseball and out-of-door sport may never arrive.

One after another, he said, his mates took their own lives. He himself tried three times to commit suicide, but each time the thought of his children stopped him.

Wilhelmina Will Relinquish Power

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Oct. 3 (AP) — Wilhelmina, whose golden jubilee as Holland's Queen is less than a year away, soon will relinquish temporarily her royal power to Princess Juliana for reasons of health, the Netherlands government announced today.

The 67-year-old queen, who has been reported suffering from fatigue, plans to stay at her summer palace, Het Loo, for a rest, her secretariat said.

A communique, issued after Premier L. J. Beel told newsmen of the queen's decision, said Wilhelmina had requested it be made clear that there was no reason for alarm over her condition. The bulletin added:

"Nevertheless it is not surprising that the heavy burdens which weighed and still are weighing on her did not leave her health unaffected."

Legislation appointing Princess Juliana as regent will be introduced soon at a joint session of the two chambers of the Dutch Parliament, it was announced.

State Demands Pair "Be Put Out Of Way"

SANTA ANA, Cal., Oct. 3 (INS) The fate of Beulah Louise Overell and her lover, George "Bud" Gollum, charged with murdering the girl's wealthy parents, was placed in the hands of a jury at 4:16 p. m. today.

The six men and six women jurors began deliberating after the chubby heiress broke into tears while the state was demanding that she and Gallum "be put out of the way."

As the jury filed out, the young lovers, who allegedly bludgeoned the Walter E. Overells to death and then dynamited their yacht, were returned to their cells in the county jail across the street from the courthouse. There they will remain until they hear the verdict.

"I am confident the jury will come in with a speedy acquittal for us."

Six Possible Verdicts

Judge Morrison said the jury could deliberate until midnight and then it would be locked up for the night if it had not reached a verdict.

However, her cousin, Marjorie Jungquist, said she would remain in Santa Ana until a verdict is returned.

Judge Morrison read to the jury six possible verdicts that it could return against Miss Overell. He then read eight possible verdicts which could be returned against Gollum.

Then he commented:

"I have read these verdicts for your consideration. You will agree on a verdict for each defendant on each count.

"It must be a unanimous verdict, however. When you retire to your chambers you immediately will select one member as your foreman.

Gollum licked his lips nervously.

The court clerk then swore in two deputies who have custody of the jurors and another deputy and a deputy's wife who were to have custody of the man and woman alternates.

Beulah's Tears Flow

Trapped Whale Survives Bullets And Vanishes

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 3. (AP)—A weary whale, helplessly enmeshed in lobster trap-lines for two days, survived seven rifle shots today and revived sufficiently to break away from fishermen who had cut it loose and were towing it ashore.

Fred H. Darling, whose lobstering the whale had disrupted, put seven shots into the whale from a 38.55 rifle but, he related, they had as much effect "as bounding peas off its head."

Darling and three companions cut some of the lines and began towing the creature to the wharf. Twice the whale became energetic enough to part tow lines, the second time coming up from a dive with "a mighty larrup" just behind Darling's 39-foot boat.

Then it left the cove and vanished.

Strike Is Staged By 1,500,000 Arabs

HAIFA, Palestine, Oct. 3 (AP) — A British source said tonight five more Jewish immigrant ships were believed headed for Palestine, where some 1,500,000 Arabs struck today in protest against partition.

The general strike, protesting a proposal to divide the Holy Land into Arab and Jewish states, paralyzed Arab parts of the country, but police stood guard with automatic weapons and the manifestation generally was peaceful. One Britisher was hurt slightly in the stoning of a group of correspondents in Haifa.

A naval informant said the British had information that three more Jewish refugee ships were en route to Palestine to defy the British blockade, "with two other probables," both believed being fitted now or already on the way.

Hagana "Offensive" Opens

He said the self-styled Jewish defense army Hagana, sponsor of most efforts to run Jews into Palestine over the 1,500-a-month quota, had begun a late summer "offensive" with the sending of the coastal vessels Paducah and Northlands, reported variously to have brought between 4,000 and 5,000 jews from Europe.

British naval parties boarded these ships in Palestine waters yesterday and brought them into Haifa. Transfer of the passengers to Cyprus detention camps began today.

Arab boys gathered at the dock cages and stoned a group of correspondents in automobiles and later a police car, but then were dispersed without difficulty.

The Paducah, renamed the Redemption, and the Northlands, renamed the Jewish State, were reported to have come from Black Sea ports by way of the Dardanelles, carrying mostly Jews from Romania and Bulgaria.

Papers Decline To Search Files For Probe Data

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 3 (AP) — The Hagerstown Daily Mail joined the Kent County News, an Eastern Shore weekly, today in declining to search its files to obtain information sought by United States Senate investigators.

Information sought by the probers dealt with the amount of space contracted in the two publications in connection with the 1946 senatorial campaign of former Gov. Herbert R. O'Conor. The Senate committee is investigating charges of election irregularities brought against Sen. O'Conor by his Republican rival, D. John Markey.

Prices Of Butter Continue Decline

[By The Associated Press]

The price of butter declined a second day Friday in the wholesale markets of several cities, and reductions in butter prices paid by retail shoppers were reported in many stores and dairies.

Grain prices showed little change after an eratic day of fluctuations on the Chicago Board of Trade, and livestock took trends both up and down in the nation's markets.

The price of butter tumbled four to 4½ cents in the New York wholesale market today after a decline of three to four cents a pound yesterday.

A 4½ cent decrease was reported in Philadelphia, and further declines were reported at Chicago where the price went three cents lower yesterday.

Dealers said that supplies were plentiful, but buying was light with retailers reporting that their customers were buying less of the spread than usual because of high prices.

Wholesale prices for top grade butter today were 74 cents at New York, 72.5 cents at Chicago, and 72 to 73½ cents at Philadelphia.

Wheat closed unchanged to one cent lower in Chicago, with December contracts $2.85 to $2.83½ a bushel. Corn was as much as 3⅝ cents lower, December quoted at 2.25½ to ¼. Oats were ½ cent lower to one-fourth cent higher, December closing at $1.12¼ to ½.

Meanwhile, a retail increase of one cent a loaf in the price of bread in several cities recently, was expected by bakers to become general. Atlanta reported bread up one to two cents a loaf with the new prices 14 and 15 cents.

Earth Shock Swings Mexico City Lights

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3 (AP) — An earth shock strong enough to swing office lights was felt here at 5:33 p. m. (CST) and lasted about a minute and a half. It was the third shock recorded here within 17 hours.

There was no immediate report of damage.

The government meteorological observatory said it recorded today's first shock at 12:35:52 a. m. (CST) with the epicenter located about 7,000 kilometers (4,347) miles from the capital, but its direction was not determined.

The second shock came at 2:11:40 a. m. with the center located about 340 kilometers (211 miles) north of the capital.

Army Clears Lee, Reports Finding Some "Errors"

Eisenhower Praises Commander In Italy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—The Army mixed words of praise for Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee with a finding of some "errors" in his command and marked "closed" today its investigation of Army life in Italy.

Its only action was to order correction of what it called the occasional "errors" in the treatment of enlisted men.

Lee, a veteran West Pointer who is called "Court House Lee" by critics of his discipline, was said by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to have "performed a service to his country which has won the approbation of associates both civilian and military."

The investigation of Lee's conduct as commander of the Italian theater stemmed from a series of articles in which Robert C. Rurak, a Schipps-Howard newspaper columnist, related charges of mistreatment of enlisted men and lavish living by officers under Lee.

Ruark Plans Reply

In New York, Ruark said he intended to study the official Army report before replying and "in my own good time I will have the necessary answer."

Maj. Gen. Ira T. Wyche, Army Inspector General, made the report. He said Ruark's charges were based on "a few facts, half facts, rumors and untruth." He said there have been only "a few isolated cases of maladministration and probable miscarriages of justice, none of which were condoned and fostered by Gen. Lee."

However, in a memorandum which Eisenhower attached to the 12,000 word report, the Army Chief of Staff noted that there had been some "errors." He said he was sending out orders to the new theater commander (General Lee is in this country awaiting retirement) to correct them.

Specifically, Eisenhower said:

Gen. Lee should have "taken special steps" to make clear that his endorsement of membership in an organization called the "Fellowship of United States-British Comrades"

Supply Would Last For Year, Distiller Says

Half Of Industry Pledges Grain Cut

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP) — The President's food committee got a pledge from about half the distilling industry tonight to cut the use of grain for liquor in order to help feed Europe. But one big distilling company declared the pact "doesn't accomplish enough" and called for a complete shutdown of the industry.

Publicker Industries, Inc., one of the "Big Five" distillers, sent a telegram to Charles Luckman, chairman of the food committee, saying:

"In view of the international food crisis and the huge quantities of grain now being used for beverage production, our companies, representing a large part of the country's distilled spirits industry, stand ready to join immediately in discontinuing all use of grain of any kind in the manufacture of distilled spirits whenever the industry is requested by the government to do so."

Earlier in the day Luckman met with officials of the Distilled Spirits Institute, which he said represents 60 per cent of the industry. He said the institute decided to recommend that all the industry use no more wheat and 50 per cent less other grains during the present "emergency."

Industry Official Amazed

Luckman announced at the White House that about half the distillers in the industry pledged themselves to that program.

Luckman estimated the emergency might last four to 10 months.

Quickly officials of Publicker, which is not a member of the institute, called a new conference.

A. P. Fenderson, an official of Continental Distilling Company, one of the Publicker industries, said his group was amazed at the talk about using no more wheat "because distillers do not use any wheat—they use only corn, rye and malt."

Officials of the institute said some wheat was used in rye whisky to give it a malt flavor.

Fenderson said:

"The distilleries now have enough whisky to last at least four years. There should be adequate supply at reasonable prices for at least a year without further production.

"The industry now has close to an all-time high inventory. According to alcohol tax unit figures, the industry has upwards of 475,000,000 proof gallons, compared with the prewar average of 450,000,000 gallons over the period of 1938 to 1941.

"This year the industry has been using straight whisky at a maximum rate of 75,000,000 gallons per year. The industry now has an all-time high of 60,000,000 proof gallons of neutral grain spirits, or at least an eight months supply."

No Shortage For Year

Fenderson predicted that there would be "no detectable shortage of bottled whisky for at least the next 12 months." He said the distilling industry is using between 10 and 16 million bushels of grain—chiefly corn—a month. Normally the industry uses no more than 5,000,000

German Girls Involved In Stowaway Plan Fined

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 3 (AP) — An American Military Government court gave light fines today to two 21-year-old German girls involved in a bizarre plan to ship themselves to their fiances in the United States in small air freight boxes.

Doris Von Knoblock was fined $10 for attempting to leave Germany without proper authorization. The five-foot, four-inch blonde was discovered yesterday wedged in a box addressed to Rolph Berndt, New York.

Sigrid Kraft was fined $5 as an accomplice. She packed Miss Knoblock in the box and planned to try to ship herself in a box if her friend arrived safely. Miss Kraft said she was engaged to John Walters, Laurinburg, N. C., a former United States soldier at Darmstadt, Germany.

Wife Of Weirton Steel President Killed In Pa. Superhighway Crash

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Lauretta Millsop, 48, wife of Thomas E. Millsop, president of the Weirton Steel Company and Mayor of Weirton, W. Va., was killed and six other persons injured in a head-on automobile crash tonight on the Pennsylvania Turnpike eight miles east of the New Stanton interchange.

State police at Bedford said a rear tire apparently blew out on the Millsop car, driven by Mrs. Millsop. They added that the machine jumped the superhighway's six-inch-high center line, directly in the path of oncoming traffic, crashing into another machine driven by Gilbert Olenhausen, 57, Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh.

Olenhausen's wife was the most seriously injured of six persons brought to Westmoreland Hospital here, suffering fractures of both legs and deep head cuts. Olenhausen, transportation manager and director of the Duquesne Brewery at Pittsburgh, has a broken right ankle and bad cuts. Both were reported in "fair" condition.

Also injured were Mrs. Millsop's three-year old granddaughter, Joan Close, Weirton; Mrs. Erma Strochlein, 45, Baltimore (street address unavailable); and Mr. and Mrs. William Dudley, Weirton, chauffeur and maid to the Millsop family.

Millsop arrived here from Weirton about 9 p. m. and arranged to have Mrs. Millsop's body returned tomorrow to Weirton, where funeral services will be held, with burial at Hubbard, Ohio.

The steelman then returned to Weirton, taking with him his granddaughter. She was released from the hospital in care of a

Senate Republicans Train Heaviest Guns On Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (INS)—The Senate Republican Policy Committee charged President Truman today with "questionable ethics" and "misleading" tactics in his relations with the 80th Congress.

The bitter attack appeared in material prepared by the office of George H. E. Smith, staff director of the GOP group, which is headed by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio.

Senate Republicans trained their heavy artillery on Mr. Truman as Taft headed east from a month-long western speaking tour which was to determine whether he would seek the 1948 GOP presidential nomination.

The committee, which maps major GOP policies in the upper chamber, where Mr. Truman sat for 10 years, accused the President of "poor sportsmanship." The document was entitled "The Story of the 80th Congress First Session."

Mr. Truman was charged with promising to co-operate with the Republican Congress after the 1946 elections and then "deliberately" attempting to "beat" the GOP by "doing in advance those things he knew they were pledged to do . . ."

The committee contended that the President was "thus taking to himself the public credit Republicans had earned." It declared:

"He even carried this to the point of misleading congressional leaders."

The President also was accused of "public evasion" of the Taft-Hartley labor regulation law through a veto message which was "strongly antagonistic . . ."

Republicans argued that Mr. Truman deliberately appointed men to administer the act "who were well known to be out of sympathy with the law."

The committee accused the President of having "discouraged" the Justice Department from making a thorough investigation of the Kansas City, Mo., vote fraud charges. It said Mr. Truman did this "by his public silence . . . and possibly by more direct action."

White Lie Plotted To Ease Dying Boy Through Premature Christmas

DETROIT, Oct. 3— (AP) —They plotted a gentle white lie today to ease a dying boy through a premature last Christmas.

Nine-year-old Tommy Scott, suffering from incurable cancer, will have an early Christmas because his doctor said he may not live to see the real one.

The date hasn't been set but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lesther Scott, said it will be some time this month.

Dr. J. J. Angel described the husky, blond youngster as a "smiling and cheerful patient, who knows something is wrong but doesn't realize how serious it is."

"There's nothing we can do but try to make him comfortable and prolong his life," the physician added.

He said the boy first came to his attention a year ago when his mother complained that he lost interest in school. She described him as a "normal boy, a little more ornery than most."

That "ornery" streak, the doctor told her, was the result of his painful ailment.

Outside the window of the modest Scott home a tiny pine sways gently in the autumn breeze, a symbol of the gayety that will mask the pseudo Christmas pageantry.

Underneath the pine, the Scotts have decided, shall rest all the things a boy dreams of—erector sets, jigsaw puzzles, books, tops, toy automobiles and airplanes.

There will also be baseball bats and gloves and roller skates—the little white lies of a small boy's final Christmas.

Only Tommy is unaware that another summertime of baseball and out-of-door sport may never arrive.

U. S. Retaliates; Russians Barred From Arms Show

Same Treatment Is Given Poles, Yugos

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Department of the Army said today that it didn't invite any Russians to see a new weapons demonstration because Russia doesn't let Americans see similar shows in the Soviet.

The same treatment was applied to Poles and Yugoslavs, and for the same reason, the department added in an official statement on yesterday's ordnance show at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland.

In other Washington developments bearing on Russia and national security:

1. Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, of Georgetown University, told a graduating class of the FBI's National Academy that there "can be little doubt that Russia now has the formula for nuclear fission" and blueprints for the atomic bomb.

Firing Of Seven Upheld

2. The State Department's loyalty review board upheld the firing of seven employes last June as "security risks." Three others who were ordered fired at the same time were allowed to resign "without prejudice." This removed a bar to their possible employment by other branches of government.

3. Official records showed there were, as of last May, more than six times as many Soviet citizens legally in the United States than there were Americans in Russia. The figures were 810 as against 122.

The number of Russians here came up in connection with the refusal of Moscow last month to allow members of the Senate Appropriations Committee and five government officials to enter Russia. Congress members have urged since then that the United States tighten down and allow no more Russians to enter than the Soviet does Americans.

3,000 See Demonstration

Some 3,000 persons witnessed the Aberdeen demonstration. It included some firing of guided missiles, a rocket-assisted armor piercing bomb and nylon-aluminum body armor which can stop a .45 caliber bullet.

The Russians were invited to last year's similar show. Army officials said today that at that time they entertained approximately 10 persons who said they represented Tass, the Russians news agency, who attended the demonstration along with Soviet officials.

11-Year Job Of Polishing Telescope Mirror Over

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 3 (AP) — The tedious, 11-year job of polishing the world's largest telescope mirror —200 inch—was finished today.

Said Dr. Max Mason, chairman of the Palomar Mountain Observatory Council:

"Our last tests show that we have reached the goal toward which we have worked from the beginning — a parabolic (concave) surface accurate to within two millionths of an inch."

California Institute of Technology, where the work has been going on since April 22, 1936—except for wartime interruptions—announced that preparations to move the mirror from here to Palomar, 130 miles away in the mountains of San Diego County, would require at least another month.

NLRB Postpones Hearing Of Charges Against ITU

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3 (AP)—The International Typographical Union and its Baltimore Local 12 today received an eight-day postponement of a hearing on charges they have engaged in an unfair labor practices by refusing to bargain collectively.

The hearing originally was scheduled for next Monday. Ross Madden, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, reset it for October 14. The union had asked postponement until November 3.

The complaint against the international and local was the first issued by the NLRB's General Counsel under the new Taft-Hartley Labor Act, which for the first time makes unions liable to charges of unfair labor practices.

It was an outgrowth of the policy adopted by the ITU at its international convention recently. In order to get around the Taft-Hartley ban against the closed shop, ITU directed its locals not to sign any new contracts but to work instead under posted "conditions of employment."

Sales Tax Arguments To Be Aired October 15

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 3 (AP) — Arguments over whether Maryland must present its two per cent retail sales tax to the voters for approval will be aired in Anne Arundel County Court October 15.

Judge William J. McWilliams set that date after Attorney General Hall Hammond filed a demurrer to a petition for a writ that would require a referendum on the sales tax at the November, 1948, general election.

The petition was entered September 5 by Carroll H. Albaugh, attorney for Taxpayers Robert I. Black, Alfred T. Truitt, Herman L. Mills and Henry J. Starr. At that time Judge McWilliams set tomorrow as the deadline for a reply by the state.

Hammond and Richard W. Case, Assistant Attorney General, filed the demurrer, reiterating Hammond's previous contention that the sales tax act was not subject to referendum.

Co-Operative Expels News Commentator

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 3. (AP)—Fulton Lewis, Jr., news commentator for the Mutual Broadcasting System, today was dismissed from membership in Southern States Co-operative for actions considered contrary to the best interests of the organization's 211,000 farmer-members in six states.

Lewis was dropped from the co-operative by a 14-member board of directors after a day-long session in which the commentator appeared with his Richmond and Washington attorneys.

The charges against Lewis grew out of a series of broadcasts in which he allegedly attacked co-operatives in general and Southern States in particular.

Spaak insisted that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria — Russian satellites in the Balkans—must not "flout" the will of the United Nations. He called on the 57-nation Assembly to approve a United States proposal for an assembly commission to try to settle the Balkan trouble.

The premier, talking for 55 minutes in rapid French, defended the United States, Britain and Greece against continuing Russian attacks, rebuked members of the Russian bloc for what he said was their implication that other United Nations members are "liars and slanderers" and rejected as "out of order here" Soviet contentions that the Greek government is illegal.

Port Of Albany Longshoremen Return To Work

Guardsmen Ordered Out In Bus Strike

[By The Associated Press]

The first court order issued under the Taft-Hartley Act was credited with halting an Albany, N. Y., longshoremen's strike Friday while in Mississippi, National Guardsmen were reported ordered to protect a strike-harassed bus line from further violence.

In Hattiesburg, Miss., an authoritative source said the guardsmen were ordered to protect vehicles of Southern Bus Lines, Inc., after one bus was fired upon yesterday and another stoned. Gov. Fielding Wright had previously said he would authorize the guards to "shoot to kill" if violence continued in the 136-day-old strike of AFL company drivers over wages.

37 Return To Jobs

Some 37 members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association returned to work Friday after Thursday's issuance of a temporary restraining order, effective for five days, calling on the union to end the strike and directing it to show cause why an injunction should not be issued on grounds that the ILA was violating sections of the new labor law prohibiting secondary boycotts.

The 10-day-old strike at the Port of Albany and the state barge canal arose over a shipping franchise.

Planes of the American Overseas Airlines to Northern Europe remained grounded due to a four-day-old strike of the 173 pilots and co-pilots, members of the AFL Air Lines Pilots Association. The airline announced it had issued furlough notices to other employes due to the strike. ALPA's president, David L. Behncke, agreed to meet Monday with the National Mediation Board in Washington.

Harbors Remain Closed

On the West Coast, Los Angeles and Long Beach, Calif., harbors remained closed in a dispute between CIO longshoremen and waterfront employers. The union termed the stoppage a lockout and the company said it was a strike of foremen.

A walkout of 1,900 employes of the Chrysler Corporation plant in Detroit threatened to make idle 2,000 others. The company blamed a disciplinary pay deduction of less than $1 a man for the stoppage. The CIO United Auto Workers denied the men struck and said the company sent them home.

In New York, Mayor William O'Dwyer said the city was continuing its efforts to find a settlement formula in the two-week-old strike of AFL Railway Express Agency truck drivers.

Missing Girl Found Working In Washington

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3 (AP) — Eighteen-year-old Ramona M. Simon was returned to her Baltimore home today and police said she attributed her week-long disappearance that caused widespread search to a need for a "change of surroundings."

She found the change in Washington, D. C., where she had taken a room in Georgetown and a job as a drugstore clerk while police all over the East Coast kept a lookout for the missing high school girl.

She was located as a result of a tip to Capt. Henry J. Kriss, the chief of detectives reported.

German Youth Begins Sixth Atlantic Crossing

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 3 (AP) —Sixteen-year-old Albert Heinrich began his sixth crossing of the Atlantic today—deported to Germany after thrice failing in attempts to rejoin his buddies of the United States Third Infantry Division in America.

Steel Shortage Will Idle 7,500 Auto Workers

Cutbacks Endanger Production Goal

DETROIT, Oct. 3 (INS)—Plans for a five million vehicle output for the year were endangered tonight as 7,500 automotive workers took holidays forced by the steel shortage.

Fifteen hundred Plymouth employes will be idled next week, halting assembly line operation at that plant. Six thousand Briggs Manufacturing Company parts-makers also will be off for a week, though 14,000 others will remain at work at the affected plants, at Mack and at Eight Mile Road.

Ward's reports estimated September output at 451,490 vehicles, bringing the 1947 total to 3,679,688 with three months remaining to meet the five-million unit projection.

Ward's set this week's production of passenger cars and trucks in North American plants at 103,443 units. This breaks down to 69,240 automobiles and 28,210 commercial units.

Chrysler, meanwhile, closed its Jefferson Avenue plant in Detroit as a result of a new labor dispute, idling 1,900 workers.

A company spokesman said the layoffs followed a strike of 200 workmen protesting a 30-minute pay deduction charged to a brief stoppage last week. The Chrysler Kercheval plant may be affected if inactivity at the Jefferson site is prolonged.

Discouraging Note

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 3 (INS)—If you're having trouble getting a new car, don't think it's going to be any easier next year—or the next, or the next.

This was the discouraging word given would-be car buyers today by a man who ought to know. M. E. Coyle, executive vice president of General Motors Corporation.

Coyle told a conference of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association in Atlantic City that the new car shortage will continue for another three to five years.

Goodrich Plant Will Reopen Tomorrow

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 3. (AP)—Operations will be resumed Sunday night at the B. F. Goodrich Company tire plant here, officials of the company and of Local 331, United Rubber Workers of America (CIO) announced today.

The plant has been closed for three weeks because of a strike of union workers. Union President Rudolph White said a majority of the workers voted to return to their jobs, pending negotiation of a contract.

Arbitration of any unsettled grievances has also been agreed upon by both sides. A statement of policy issued by the company said employes as of September 15 are to return to work without disagreement.

There were two errors in treating military prisoner: Minor offenders, some of them quite young, were locked up with men guilty of the worst sort of crime. Also, "An active day of 17 hours does not conform to my convictions of proper, even though strict, treatment of offenders."

Eisenhower said there were complaints against the handling of transfer applications and the transport of dependents to the Italian theater but these matters were the responsibility of the War Department, not Lee's.

U. S. Retaliates; Russians Barred From Arms Show

Same Treatment Is Given Poles, Yugos

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Department of the Army said today that it didn't invite any Russians to see a new weapons demonstration because Russia doesn't let Americans see similar shows in the Soviet.

The same treatment was applied to Poles and Yugoslavs, and for the same reason, the department added in an official statement on yesterday's ordnance show at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland.

In other Washington developments bearing on Russia and national security:

1. Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, of Georgetown University, told a graduating class of the FBI's National Academy that there "can be little doubt that Russia now has the formula for nuclear fission" and blueprints for the atomic bomb.

Firing Of Seven Upheld

2. The State Department's loyalty review board upheld the firing of seven employes last June as "security risks." Three others who were ordered fired at the same time were allowed to resign "without prejudice." This removed a bar to their possible employment by other branches of government.

3. Official records showed there were, as of last May, more than six times as many Soviet citizens legally in the United States than there were Americans in Russia. The figures were 810 as against 122.

The number of Russians here came up in connection with the refusal of Moscow last month to allow members of the Senate Appropriations Committee and five government officials to enter Russia. Congress members have urged since then that the United States tighten down and allow no more Russians to enter than the Soviet does Americans.

3,000 See Demonstration

Some 3,000 persons witnessed the Aberdeen demonstration. It included some firing of guided missiles, a rocket-assisted armor piercing bomb and nylon-aluminum body armor which can stop a .45 caliber bullet.

The Russians were invited to last year's similar show. Army officials said today that at that time they entertained approximately 10 persons who said they represented Tass, the Russians news agency, who attended the demonstration along with Soviet officials.

11-Year Job Of Polishing Telescope Mirror Over

Said Dr. Max Mason, chairman of the Palomar Mountain Observatory Council:

"Our last tests show that we have reached the goal toward which we have worked from the beginning — a parabolic (concave) surface accurate to within two millionths of an inch."

California Institute of Technology, where the work has been going on since April 22, 1936—except for wartime interruptions — announced that preparations to move the mirror from here to Palomar, 130 miles away in the mountains of San Diego County, would require at least another month.

NLRB Postpones Hearing Of Charges Against ITU

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3 (AP)—The International Typographical Union and its Baltimore Local 12 today received an eight-day postponement of a hearing on charges they have engaged in an unfair labor practices by refusing to bargain collectively.

The hearing originally was scheduled for next Monday. Ross Madden, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, reset it for October 14. The union had asked postponement until November 3.

The complaint against the international and local was the first issued by the NLRB's General Counsel under the new Taft-Hartley Labor Act, which for the first time makes unions liable to charges of unfair labor practices.

It was an outgrowth of the policy adopted by the ITU at its international convention recently. In order to get around the Taft-Hartley ban against the closed shop, ITU directed its locals not to sign any new contracts but to work instead under posted "conditions of employment."

Sales Tax Arguments To Be Aired October 15

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 3 (AP) — Arguments over whether Maryland must present its two per cent retail sales tax to the voters for approval will be aired in Anne Arundel County Court October 15.

Judge William J. McWilliams set that date after Attorney General Hall Hammond filed a demurrer to a petition for a writ that would require a referendum on the sales tax at the November, 1948, general election.

The petition was entered September 5 by Carroll H. Albaugh, attorney for Taxpayers Robert I. Black, Alfred T. Truitt, Herman L. Mills and Henry J. Starr. At that time Judge McWilliams set tomorrow as the deadline for a reply by the state.

Hammond and Richard W. Case, Assistant Attorney General, filed the demurrer, reiterating Hammond's previous contention that the sales tax act was not subject to referendum.

Co-Operative Expels News Commentator

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 3. (AP)—Fulton Lewis, Jr., news commentator for the Mutual Broadcasting System, today was dismissed from membership in Southern States Co-operative for actions considered contrary to the best interests of the organization's 211,000 farmer-members in six states.

Lewis was dropped from the co-operative by a 14-member board of directors after a day-long session in which the commentator appeared with his Richmond and Washington attorneys.

The charges against Lewis grew out of a series of broadcasts in which he allegedly attacked co-operatives in general and Southern States in particular.

Her Social Committee retort to the Russians came several hours after Premier Spaak spoke on the Balkan question in the Political Committee.

Spaak insisted that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria — Russian satellites in the Balkans—most not "flout" the will of the United Nations. He called on the 57-nation Assembly to approve a United States proposal for an assembly commission to try to settle the Balkan trouble.

The premier, talking for 55 minutes in rapid French, defended the United States, Britain and Greece against continuing Russian attacks, rebuked members of the Russian bloc for what he said was their implication that other United Nations members are "liars and slanderers" and rejected as "out of order here" Soviet contentions that the Greek government is illegal.

Port Of Albany Longshoremen Return To Work

[By The Associated Press]

The first court order issued under the Taft-Hartley Act was credited with halting an Albany, N. Y., longshoremen's strike Friday while in Mississippi, National Guardsmen were reported ordered to protect a strike-harassed bus line from further violence.

In Hattiesburg, Miss., an authoritative source said the guardsmen were ordered to protect vehicles of Southern Bus Lines, Inc., after one bus was fired upon yesterday and another stoned. Gov. Fielding Wright had previously said he would authorize the guards to "shoot to kill" if violence continued in the 136-day-old strike of AFL company drivers over wages.

37 Return To Jobs

Some 37 members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association returned to work Friday after Thursday's issuance of a temporary restraining order, effective for five days, calling on the union to end the strike and directing it to show cause why an injunction should not be issued on grounds that the ILA was violating sections of the new labor law prohibiting secondary boycotts.

The 10-day-old strike at the Port of Albany and the state barge canal arose over a shipping franchise.

Planes of the American Overseas Airlines to Northern Europe remained grounded due to a four-day-old strike of the 173 pilots and co-pilots, members of the AFL Air Lines Pilots Association. The airline announced it had issued furlough notices to other employes due to the strike. ALPA's president, David L. Behncke, agreed to meet Monday with the National Mediation Board in Washington.

Harbors Remain Closed

On the West Coast, Los Angeles and Long Beach, Calif., harbors remained closed in a dispute between CIO longshoremen and waterfront employers. The union termed the stoppage a lockout and the company said it was a strike of foremen.

A walkout of 1,900 employes of the Chrysler Corporation plant in Detroit threatened to make idle 2,000 others. The company blamed a disciplinary pay deduction of less than $1 a man for the stoppage. The CIO United Auto Workers denied the men struck and said the company sent them home.

In New York, Mayor William O'Dwyer said the city was continuing its efforts to find a settlement formula in the two-week-old strike of AFL Railway Express Agency truck drivers.

Missing Girl Found Working In Washington

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3 (AP) — Eighteen-year-old Ramona M. Simon was returned to her Baltimore home today and police said she attributed her week-long disappearance that caused widespread search to a need for a "change of surroundings."

She found the change in Washington, D. C., where she had taken a room in Georgetown and a job as a drugstore clerk while police all over the East Coast kept a lookout for the missing high school girl.

She was located as a result of a tip to Capt. Henry J. Kriss, the chief of detectives reported.

Drug Thief Sentenced

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3. (AP)—Salvatore Jordan, former assistant pharmacist at Sinai Hospital here, was sentenced to three years imprisonment today after admitting he stole more than 40,000 morphine tablets from hospital supplies and sold them to outside sources.

German Youth Begins Sixth Atlantic Crossing

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 3 (AP) —Sixteen-year-old Albert Heinrich began his sixth crossing of the Atlantic today—deported to Germany after thrice failing in attempts to rejoin his buddies of the United States Third Infantry Division in America.

The blond, blue-eyed German lad was placed aboard the SS Berea Victory by immigration authorities.

Steel Shortage Will Idle 7,500 Auto Workers

Cutbacks Endanger Production Goal

DETROIT, Oct. 3 (INS)—Plans for a five million vehicle output for the year were endangered tonight as 7,500 automotive workers took holidays forced by the steel shortage.

Fifteen hundred Plymouth employes will be idled next week, halting assembly line operation at that plant. Six thousand Briggs Manufacturing Company parts-makers also will be off for a week, though 14,000 others will remain at work at the affected plants, at Mack and at Eight Mile Road.

Ward's reports estimated September output at 451,490 vehicles, bringing the 1947 total to 3,679,688 with three months remaining to meet the five-million unit projection.

Ward's set this week's production of passenger cars and trucks in North American plants at 103,443 units. This breaks down to 69,240 automobiles and 28,210 commercial units.

Chrysler, meanwhile, closed its Jefferson Avenue plant in Detroit as a result of a new labor dispute, idling 1,900 workers.

A company spokesman said the layoffs followed a strike of 200 workmen protesting a 30-minute pay deduction charged to a brief stoppage last week. The Chrysler Kercheval plant may be affected if inactivity at the Jefferson site is prolonged.

Discouraging Note

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 3 (INS)—If you're having trouble getting a new car, don't think it's going to be any easier next year—or the next, or the next.

This was the discouraging word given would-be car buyers today by a man who ought to know M. E. Coyle, executive vice president of General Motors Corporation.

Coyle told a conference of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association in Atlantic City that the new car shortage will continue for another three to five years.

Goodrich Plant Will Reopen Tomorrow

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 3. (AP)—Operations will be resumed Sunday night at the B. F. Goodrich Company tire plant here, officials of the company and of Local 331, United Rubber Workers of America (CIO) announced today.

The plant has been closed for three weeks because of a strike of union workers. Union President Rudolph White said a majority of the workers voted to return to their jobs, pending negotiation of a contract.

Arbitration of any unsettled grievances has also been agreed upon by both sides. A statement of policy issued by the company said employes as of September 15 are to return to work without disagreement.

City Owned Parking Lots Is U. S. Trend

With 345 cities already operating municipal parking lots to stem congested traffic, Cumberland's proposed off-street parking lot on North George Street, if accepted, would be following a trend which has increased by 63 per cent in cities of 10,000 or more population.

The 63 per cent increase was recorded from 1942 to the present, according to information received by Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday. Five years ago, 211 cities operated municipal lots.

In efforts to check traffic congestion, the 345 cities have one or more such lots in operation the United States Municipal News reported. During the past year 65 cities set up publicly-owned lots for the first time.

Cost of the parking facilities ranged from $8,000 to one now proposed at $2,000,000, but cities have floated bond issues, charged straight fees for parking or employed meters to meet expenses.

Eau Claire, Wis., Miami Beach, White Plains, N. Y., and North Adams, Mass., spent more than $50,000 last year. Cleveland, Anaheim, Calif., Greensburg, Pa., and Winnetka, Ill., each made capital outlays of $10,000 to $50,000.

Miami Beach voted a $300,000 bond issue for off-street parking and, in addition, used $73,733 from tax revenues to establish lots. In California, Whittier purchased five lots from proceeds of 300 parking meters installed in 1945.

St. Petersburg last year set a record for area-expansion of municipal parking facilities. The city opened two lots which would care for 1,100 cars, the report continued.

An average of two lots is operated by each of the 345 cities over 10,000 population reporting publicly-owned facilities. The largest ones are those operated by the Chicago Park District, holding more than 5,000 cars.

Fewer than 20 cities charge autoists for parking. Rates vary from 10 cents a day in Akron to 35 cents a day in Chicago. Other cities have installed parking meters in lots and some limit parking to from two to four hours.

Meyersdale Girl Is Married In Frostburg Church

Mr. And Mrs. Imhoff Hold Open House

By W. A. SHOEMAKER

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—Mrs. Samuel Herwig, Broadway Street, has anounced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Virginia Herwig, and Clarence Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Herring, Salisbury, at a double ring ceremony at the Church of the Brethren, Frostburg, September 25, at 2 p. m., by the pastor, Rev. O. F. Bowman.

The bride was attired in a white gabardine suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. William Alvey, who wore a blue gabardine dress, with brown accessories, and a corsage of red roses. Robert Herring, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of the Meyersdale High School, and has been an employe of the Meyersdale Shirt Factory. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Salisbury High School, and is employed by the Union Firebrick Company, Jennings, Md.

Four years ago he suffered an injury to his right foot, and amputation was necessary. This has not prevented nim from walking about his home and the immediate locality. Both Mr. and Mrs. Imhoff enjoy good health, and are members of the Amity Evangelical Reformed Church.

The couple are the parents of these children, Lydia Jane, wife of Charles D. Saylor, Meyersdale; Hilda, wife of Jacob Beachy, Youngstown, Ohio, and Ruth, wife of Robert Gragey, Akron, Ohio. Another daughter, Gertrude, deceased, was the wife of Bert Pyle.

City Owned Parking Lots Is U. S. Trend

With 345 cities already operating municipal parking lots to stem congested traffic, Cumberland's proposed off-street parking lot on North George Street, if accepted, would be following a trend which has increased by 63 per cent in cities of 10,000 or more population.

The 63 per cent increase was recorded from 1942 to the present, according to information received by Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday. Five years ago, 211 cities operated municipal lots.

In efforts to check traffic congestion, the 345 cities have one or more such lots in operation the United States Municipal News reported. During the past year 65 cities set up publicly-owned lots for the first time.

Cost of the parking facilities ranged from $8,000 to one now proposed at $2,000,000, but cities have floated bond issues, charged straight fees for parking or employed meters to meet expenses.

Eau Claire, Wis., Miami Beach, White Plains, N. Y., and North Adams, Mass., spent more than $50,000 last year. Cleveland, Anaheim, Calif., Greensburg, Pa., and Winnetka, Ill., each made capital outlays of $10,000 to $50,000.

Miami Beach voted a $300,000 bond issue for off-street parking and, in addition, used $73,733 from tax revenues to establish lots. In California, Whittier purchased five lots from proceeds of 300 parking meters installed in 1945.

St. Petersburg last year set a record for area-expansion of municipal parking facilities. The city opened two lots which would care for 1,100 cars, the report continued.

An average of two lots is operated by each of the 345 cities over 10,000 population reporting publicly-owned facilties. The largest ones are those operated by the Chicago Park District, holding more than 5,000 cars.

Fewer than 20 cities charge autoists for parking. Rates vary from 10 cents a day in Akron to 35 cents a day in Chicago. Other cities have installed parking meters in lots and some limit parking to from two to four hours.

Pressing Need For County Liquor Store Has Passed

The Board of Commissioners for Allegany County, at the eleventh hour, named the members of Liquor Control Board a committee to study the feasibility of the county entering the wholesale liquor business as a new source of revenue.

This action was taken under the provisions of a resolution passed by the last session of the Maryland General Assembly. It set a time limit of September 30 for the naming of such a committee although it was not mandatory that such a group be selected. The entire matter would have died automatically with the dawn of October 1.

The resolution empowering the Commissioners to name such a committee was the outcome of a fight made by a majority of the Allegany County delegation to the Maryland Legislature to put through a bill authorizing the County Commissioners to establish a wholesale liquor business.

It was developed in the closing days of the session that difficulties might be encountered in carrying out provisions of the measure, and that the undertaking might not prove profitable because some distributors of liquor from distillers were not certain they would be able to furnish a county-owned store with certain brands. It also was contended that a considerable expenditure of money would be necessary to get the business going, and that it would be a year or more before the county could hope to realize financial benefits. These are among the things the committee will endeavor to clear up.

At the time a wholesale liquor store was proposed, the county was in dire need of new sources of revenue to meet mounting expenses of the county government without increasing the tax rate on property owners. Since then additional monies are being received by the county under the Sherbow Plan of distributing to counties and municipalities portions of funds which heretofore had gone to the state.

The receiving of such funds is expected to continue for an indefinite time. Unless unforeseen situations arise which would call for greater revenue than the county can now anticipate it is questionable whether the wholesale liquor store proposal should be pressed.

We can see no harm, however, in the Liquor Control Board gathering the information, and it should do so, if for no other purpose than to have the data at hand if and when, it should be found necessary to revive the proposal for a wholesale liquor store. But until an emergency, such as confronted the county early in this year, again arises it is believed advisable that the county dismiss the thought of going into the wholesale liquor business.

Capitalistic America In Comparison To Other Types

Young Henry Ford's praise of the free enterprise system may be subject to some discount. He is, after all, one of its principal beneficiaries. Why shouldn't he be more enthusiastic about it than persons harassed by high prices, housing problems and job uncertainties?

America's high production, he said, was attained under its political system of freedom. It could not have been achieved under any other system. And it hasn't been.

The average weekly wage of an American workman, Ford pointed out, would buy 80 pounds of beef—considerably more than he and his family could eat—even at present prices. But the average Russian would have no trouble eating the eight pounds of meat his weekly wage would buy. Or if the two men preferred to be paid in milk, the American would get 276 quarts, the Russian 15. Freedom is not only a high ideal. It is meat and drink.

But it is not only the dupes of communist propaganda who need to be convinced of the superiority of the American system, said Ford. Many American businessmen need more faith in it. They are timid where boldness is needed.

The time for such timidity has passed. Businessmen today, when they read of a fellow traveler, who is plugging earnestly and loudly for European relief, proclaiming that "capitalism is on trial," we owe it to themselves and their country to hunt him down and make him eat his words.

Capitalism has been proved the most efficient and humane economic system ever invented. It is America, the only capitalistic country on the face of the globe, that is now asked to feed the tramps, loafers and ignoramuses of socialistic, communistic and totalitarian countries of every shade and hue.

The fact is that European countries are shouting for alms from capitalistic America because their screwball economic heresies have failed to produce enough for their inhabitants to eat. They cannot continue to place the blame for their penury on the late war for years without end.

Faith In Thrift Not Lost By Average American

Following reports during the war that savings deposits increased despite the people's heavy buying of War Bonds, another survey offers further proof that the average American has lost none of his faith in thrift. This report is that American families are now spending 40 per cent more for life insurance than they did before the war.

Although the average family expenditure of $150 a year for life insurance—which is the present rate—is only 3 per cent of the national income, both the amount involved and the great increase since 1941 are tributes to the prudence of the people. There has been no slackening of self-reliance in the postwar era.

The people desire more than ever to lay aside a substantial proportion of their income to provide, through life insurance or annuity plans, for the care of their survivors in event of death of themselves after retirement from gainful work.

The reserves held against these policies are especially useful at this time in enabling the country to make up the housing shortage accumulated during the war. They will also help finance public construction.

Considering the large conversion of war insurance by former members of the armed forces, this demonstration of thrift reflects the people's pride in their institution and faith in the future.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

GLANDULAR ENLARGEMENTS IN INFANCY

THE mammary glands of infants and children can be affected by various disorders. Few are of a serious nature but parents, noting the changes, frequently become alarmed and may institute ill advised and even harmful treatment for a possibly normal process.

About three or four days after birth, a boy or girl may develop swelling and fullness of one or both breasts. The gland becomes raised and tense, sometimes attaining the size of about half an English walnut. A whitish-yellow fluid exudes from the nipple area and the immediate assumption is that there must be an infection but rarely is this true. Formerly, this discharge was called "witch's milk" and superstition rather than proper physiological explanations held sway.

As a result, it was the practice to express forcibly this supposedly harmful material. The injury thus given often paved the way for abscesses. Such inflammation naturally produced much destruction of the delicate, immature secreting organ—with future impairment of its function.

We now know that this engorgement is due to hormones. Before a mother is delivered of her child, a complex mechanism is set in motion and certain hormones are manufactured to stimulate the formation of milk. Some are passed on thru the blood to the new life that she is nurturing. Consequently, the baby receives a certain amount of the same activating substance and its influence is reflected in the swollen gland. This rather striking manifestation is generally most marked during the second week of life, and may persist for several more. It is seldom present in premature tots. The composition of the secretion resembles that of the first yellowish fluid produced by the mother after confinement [colostrum].

The whole process will subside by degrees provided Mother Nature is given a free hand to complete the cycle she has started. Infection of the breasts gland in an infant is an infrequent occurrence but when it does arise, the exciting cause can be traced, as a rule, to unwise handling of the congested tissue by an overzealous attendant. The irritated area then must be treated wisely to save as much as possible of the structure. Warm, moist dressings are helpful until a real abscess develops and, when it does, the pocket of pus can be opened and drained. If this series of events takes place in a baby girl, she has been deprived of part of her power to breastfeed her future progeny.

Now and then, before the onset of puberty in children, one or both of the breasts becomes full and tender. This disorder may befall either a boy or girl. There is no need to become panicky because the engorgement usually subsides. If there is any question about the nature of the manifestation, the physician will watch the process carefully. In the past, normal structures in such a stage of development have been removed surgically on the assumption that they were tumor masses but malignancy in infants and children is extremely uncommon

Window Shopping

I find it difficult to pass an attractive window along the street in any city. And should the window display an array of books—well, I couldn't even pass it. I would have to go in and browse around! There is a delight in window shopping, anyway. I watch others, and wonder what is going on in their minds. I wonder if it is the same as in mine, though I know it is not.

There is always a latent thrill within me for attractive toys. I used to buy many of them that gave joy and delight to a pair of twin boys. Now I look at them and think of the joy that many a father and mother will gain from the purchase of things that used to give me so much happiness.

The windows of a store are its outer self. They are very important. They reflect the soul of the store. And, taken as a whole, the shop windows of a town reflect the soul of the town, as well! That's how important they are.

People have windows, too. They display themselves in their eyes, in their faces, and in their outward mien. And by their words, too. I walk through crowded streets and go window shopping and do not confine my shopping to the mere windows of stores, but take in the people who make those stores possible.

I like to think of the dreams of the people who look into shop windows as they stroll along the streets. George Gissing, the English novelist, many a time stopped to gaze upon an appetizing morsel of food in a bake shop, only to force himself away, for fear he would spend something that would deprive him of an additional book to read. Though sometimes he had to give in to that urge of the body. And how many a small boy has looked into just such a window with longings, but not the price to create an accomplished dream!

God's earth is one great window, into which we may look and see "what God hath wrought." Never can we tire of its beauty, nor cease to wonder at its miracles, and free richness. Every day of our lives we may look about us and see something new displayed.

TIME MARCHES ON

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Atty. Gen. Clark On The Spot Over Wall Street Prosecution; Ex-G.I. Initiates "Personalized Foreign Policy;" British Government Trades Lives For Mines

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—The former Wall Street firms of certain Cabinet members have put one of their Cabinet colleagues—Attorney General Tom Clark—very much on the spot.

Clark has has dumped into his lap the charge that Dillon, Read & Company plus Harriman, Ripley violated the anti-trust laws in regard to the sale of $25,000,000 preferred stock being issued by the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

This charge isn't going to bring happiness to ceretain gentlemen in and on the edge of the Truman Cabinet—namely Secretary of National Defense Forrestal, former head of Dillon, Read; Secretary of Commerce Harriman, who founded Harriman, Ripley; and Undersecretary of State Lovett, ex-senior partner of the Harriman firm. Though all three have divorced themselves from their Wall Street firms, there is no doubt in the minds of Washington officialdom that the partners they left behind would give serious consideration to any suggestions made by them.

For some months the Justice Department has been holding a grand jury investigation of Wall Street investment houses, including Dillon, Read. In fact, just before Wendell Berge resigned as Assistant Attorney General is charge of the Anti-trust Division, he was all set to prosecute. But six months have dragged by and for some mysterious reason nothing has happened. John Sonnett, new head of the Anti-trust Division and former aide to Forrestal, has not prosecuted.

On top of this earlier grand jury probe, Cleveland bankers this week complained to the Justice Department that the Dillon-Read, Harriman-Ripley group had frozen them out of a refinancing job for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company.

This company advertises that "Cleveland is the best location in the nation." When it came to refinancing, however, this utility went to Wall Street. And the negotiations were kept so secret, Cleveland bankers charge that the middle west was frozen out of the business.

What the Justice Department has been probing through its recent New York grand jury is the right of big banking houses to hatch up secret financing deals without giving outside bankers a chance to compete. Secret deals, the Justice Department claims, keep prices high and give the public no chance to benefit from lower rates.

The whole question is now resting uneasily on the doorstep of Attorney General Tom Clark as to whether he will prosecute the ex-banking firms of his Cabinet colleagues.

Making Democracy Live

Stanley Bojens, an ex-GI of San Diego, has developed a peace program called "Peace by Postage," a sort of "personalized foreign policy." Plan consists of sending personal parcels to families in foreign countries who befriended GI's during the war. "If veterans themselves can win individual friends," says Bojens, "it will be difficult for governments to go to war." . . . Harold Hermanson has inspired the alumni of the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Senior High School in the suburbs of the Nation's Capital to give the children of war dead as good an education as the children of fathers who lived. When Hermanson saw some of his buddied killed, he determined to do something for their children. With the help of many patriotic alumni of his old school, Hermanson, a bachelor, has made good that promise. . . . . AMVTES (Ray Sawyer, National Commander) was the only veterans organization to appear before the Senate to champion the O'Mahoney-Langer Anto-monopoly Bill; also was first to support the Marshall Plan. . . . Senator Bridges of New Hampshire has made it a flat rule that all Senators who went to Europe this summer on his Appropriations Committee must pay their wives' expenses. . . . While most prices are soaring, one outfit—the Boatrailer Company of Detroit—has done just the opposite. It has reduced all prices five precent, counting on greater sales to make up the difference. . . . Abbott and Costello, besides making youngsters laugh, operate a youth center for helping delinquent youngsters improve their lives.

Not Making Democracy Live

The British government is now trading 20,000 Yugoslavs, who had fled to the British Zone of Austria, to Tito in return for British copper and gold mines in Southern Yugoslavia seized during the war. Their return in some cases means death. . . . Some real estate owners are brazenly flouting the law requiring them to give veterans preference in renting homes. Though this is required by law, the Republican Congress carefully cut from 400 to 15 the Government enforcement officers supposed to enforce the law. Result: Real estate dealers know they can get away with flouting the veterans. . . . Right under the nose of the Justice Department in Washington, the real estate boys have been accepting nonveterans on waiting lists even before new homes and apartments were completed. The law clearly stipulates that nonveterans shal lnot be able to rent until veterans have had a 30-day priority. . . . Cocoa beans, kept down to nine cents a pound by OPA, have now soared to 39 cents. This affects every kid who buys a chocolate bar of a piece of chocolate candy. Cocoa is one of thenicest and tightest of international monopolies, being controlled by the Cocoa Exchange an dthe British. Poetic John Sonnett, the alleged trust-buster, has done nothing about it.

In Eisenhower's Home State

Eastern Republicans aren't happy over the anti-Negro move in Topeka, Kansas, led by Mayor Frank Warren. . . . Democratic ex-Governor Harry Woodring, also ex-Secretary of War, was on the side of the young Negro law student, Phillip Burton, who challenged city officials. Burton's mother used to work as a maid for the Woodring family. . . . Meanwhile Alf Landon, ex-candidate for the Presidency, was strangely silent. . . . Eastern Republicans have set their hopes on winning a large block of colored voters away from the Democrats. But the Negro press is already playing up the "Topeka incident" and the Republicans' part in it. . . . Politicos were watching Topeka this week for other reasons. Joe Martin, eastern manager for Alf Landon in 1936, spent long hours conferring with Alf in his Topeka home. Kansas scuttlebutt is that if Joe will back Eisenhower, then Alf will back Joe for Vice President. Of, if the Eisenhower boom fizzles, Kansas will back Joe for top place on the ticket. . . . Landon and his hand-picked Governor, Frank Carlson, have made a deal with Senator Capper. They will renominate Capper for the Senate while Alf will control the Kansas delegation at the GOP convention. Alf wants a GOP nominee who will name him Secretary of State. . . . Another Kansas deal is on between ex-Governor Andy Schoeppel, just retired, and Harry Darby, Republican National Committeeman, to run Schoeppel for Capper's Senate seat. Ed Thompson, Senator Clyde Reed's manager, has joined forces.

Frank Recognition Of Price-Fixing By Government Needed

By MARK SULLIVAN

The formidable campaign of the Administration to move the people to a program about food which the Administration desires, for a purpose that is completely worthy, would be more effective to the extent that it is accompanied by confidence. And if the Administration confines its appeal and its urging merely to the saving of food, it will be short of doing all it could do to inspire zeal for its program among the people. The public is obliged to think of food in terms of what it costs, price; and a forthright statement about prices of food, and the part the government itself plays in making them, is called for.

So far the emphasis of the campaign is on reduction of consumption. In the five-point plan issued by the Citizens Food Committee set up by the President, four of the points have to do with reducing consumption—"Don't Serve Too Much", "Don't Overcook", "Use Left-overs", "Use . . . Wisely and Sparingly." Only one of the points makes any allusion to price and this is indirect. It says, about meats, "Buy Cheaper Cuts."

Public Experiences A Restraint

At the same time when the public hears this urging for self-restraint in the consumption of food, it experiences another restraint, inherent in increased prices of food. Currently throughout much of the country, increases in the price of milk are being announced. Authority to fix the price of milk is in the hands of the Department of Agriculture, by means of what are called "federal orders", and most of the current increases in price are thus fixed by the Department.

The Department has authority affecting the prices of many other forms of food, expressed as a government policy of "price support." Since September 1st it has been supporting the price of turkeys. During the present year it has supported the prices of potatoes, eggs, peanuts and other forms of food, and it has mechanisms for supporting practically all. If the price of any form of food starts downward, excepting the comparatively few not under government authority, the Department of Agriculture has authority to support the price.

About all this, the public has comparatively little understanding, and there has been no mention of it in President Truman's appeals over several months past to bring about reduction of prices and cost of living. The defense of the Administration, reasonable so far as it goes, is that the policy of price support is embodied in statutes passed by Congress. Some of the statutes were passed near the beginning of the war, to stimulate production of food, and these extend to the end of next year. Others of the statutes were passed in 1933 and 1937, these have no date of termination.

The statutes enacted during the 1930s had the direct and avowed purpose of increasing the prices of farm products. The aim was to raise prices of farm products to what was called "parity" with the prices of other goods. The justification lay in the fact that, at that time, prices of farm products were low, relative to the prices of goods generally.

Farm Prices Out Of Proportion

The processes for supporting prices of farm products set up in that situation continue at a time when the prices of farm products have passed beyond the standard of parity then set up. Prices of farm products are now at a height out of proportion to the level of prices of goods generally. In the present condition the policy of price support operates toward promoting higher prices of food, certainly toward preventing fall of them. And the other statutes, enacted during the war to avert any possible post-war collapse of prices continue when, instead of any post-war collapse, the condition is one of extreme rise, causing distress to the people and danger of calamitous inflation.

Candor in confronting this situation would call for frank recognition of it, and the hardship and danger it involves; and would consider the desirability of modifynig the statutes. It would call also for exercise of the considerable discretion which the statutes leave to the Department of Agriculture, not toward keeping prices up, but so far as possible toward letting them go down.

Politics Has Thrust Partisan Needle Into Food-Saving Plan

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—Politics has already thrust its partisan needle into the food-conservation program.

When Senator Taft, Republican, speaking in the west, suggested that Americans may find it neccessary to "eat less" if the conservation drive were to be successful, he was promptly assailed by Democratic spokesmen, particularly Senator Pepper of Florida, Democrat, who immediately suggested that the people always "eat less" when the Republicans are in power

President Truman, shying away from the "eat less" slogan, came forward with one of his own: "Waste less."

The truth is that "waste less" implies that it is all right to waste food but that the people must practice moderation. Actually, there is a lot of food wasted every day by people who eat only a part of what they order or of what is set before them at home. But it is not always possible to measure in advance what the individual appetite will be.

While it is desirable to avoid every bit of waste that can be foreseen, the whole conservation program depends on eating less. The two slogans should be combined: "Eat less and waste less." Maybe that's good bi-partisan reasoning and would help prevent politically minded folks from seeking to take partisan advantage.

Another Justification

There is another justification for "eat less." It is going to be necessary for many people in America who have an abundance of food to cut down on their eating. Many such persons ought to do it, anyway, in the interest of good health, for some physicians say that overeating is the main cause of dietary disorders.

To save the amount of food needed to help Europe will require a much more drastic curtailment of food consumption than can be accomplished merely by trying to waste less. It is not possible to feed Europe out of the garbage cans of America. It will be necessary to cut down on food use in the first instance.

Food conservation is directly related to food prices. If the American government is going to buy vast quantities of food, prices may be bid up and the lower-income groups may be deprived of food because they may not be able to afford to pay the high prices. This is a problem of major importance, for, unless the food conservation program has the effect of bringing prices down, it cannot accomplish one of its main purposes.

Already there is serious talk in official quarters about a revival of food rationing. The difficulties are numerous. It would take a long time to set up the rationing system and to print and distribute ration cards once more. It may be that the talk is primarily to impress upon the American people that unless voluntary conservation is effective it will be necessary to adopt wartime rationing.

It should be possible to do enough by voluntary rationing or self-denial to conserve the quantities of grain needed for Europe. Voluntary curtailment was a success in World War I. When supported by an alert and crusading spirit, such as is developed in war-loan drives, there is every chance to make it work.

People Usually Cooperate

It will require organization, of course. This means national, state and city committees with the backing of the radio and the press. Once the facts are clearly stated to the people and they are convinced of the real need, they usually cooperate. Such a campaign will have collateral effects. It will help to make clear the purposes of the whole Marshall Plan and will give to the Congress an idea of how concerned the people are over what is happening or is likely to happen in Europe.

There is, on the other hand, no more certain way to kill a program of food conservation or any policy requiring bi-partisan support than for petty politicians to begin sabotaging it for their own purposes. Instead of being assailed for his suggested slogan, "eat less," Senator Taft should have been commended, especially since he did not attack the administration for such a program but did indicate his support.

Mr. Truman, incidentally, might better have abandoned his timidity toward an "eat less" program and struck forward boldly to ask the American people not only to end all waste of food but also to eat less if they have been in the habit of eating more than is necessary for good health.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

A Bit Of History

IT is always beneficial to go back to history for an understanding of what is happening now. For instance, we find ourselves involved in the organization of a Western bloc of nations which we are asked to support to the tune between $19,000,000,000 and $22,000,000,000. We are also asked to eat less, at a time when Russia reports a bumper crop and the French peasant refuses to sell his wheat because he dislikes the money of his own government. Actually, we know little about all the maneuvers, except that we are constantly faced by crises.

The point I wish to make is that the American people know so little of what is done in their name—they are told so little—that they are committed to expenditures of wealth and life unnecessarily. And I should like to cite General George Marshall as my witness. Appearing before the Pearl Harbor Committee of Congress, he said:

". . . Had they (the Japanese) not attacked on December 7, had they waited, for example, until January 1, there is a possibility that they would not have launched the attack, I do not know, because it appeared quite a definite possibility that Russia might get to her feet, which she did."

During subsequent examination Senator Brewster asked:

"You and Admiral Stark had both concurred in hoping that decision might be deferred for at least two or three months."

General Marshall replied. "That was our great desire."

A plan of action had been worked out at a conference in Singapore concerning which the American people knew nothing. In other words, prior to Pearl Harbor, prior to a Declaration of War, this country and Great Britain were acting jointly in the Far Eastern situation. Two messages from Churchill to Roosevelt confirm this:

"Your massage about Japan received tonight. Also full accounts from Lord Halifax of discussions and your counter project to Japan on which Foreign Secretary has sent some comments. Of course, it is for you to handle this business and we certainly do not want an additional war. There is only one point that disquiets us. What about Chiang Kai-shek? Is he not having a very thin diet? Our anxiety is about China. If they collapse our joint dangers would enormously increase. We are sure that the regard of the United States for the Chinese cause will govern your action. We feel that the Japanese are most unsure of themselves."

In another message, he said: ". . . Forgive me, my dear friend, for presuming to press such a course upon you, but I am convinced that it might make all the difference and prevent a melancholy extension of the war."

Well, it seems that while the British assumed that negotiations were taking place to avoid a war, what we now know to be an ultimatum was handed to the Japanese. Secretary Stimson's diary says:

"On the morning of the 27th of November, 1941—the first thing in the morning I called up Mr. Hull to find out what his final decision had been with the Japanese, whether he had handed them the new proposal. . .or whether, as he suggested yesterday. he had broken the whole matter off. He told me how he had broken the whole matter off, as he put it, 'I have washed my hands of it and it is now in the hands of you and Knox, the Army and the Navy'."

General Marshall further testified:

"My recollection is, and I have a fairly clear recollection of our disappointment, that from the military point of view, meaning Army and Navy, that we would not gain any more time; our relationship to these discussions was on the one side the desire to gain as much time as we possibly could and on the other to see that commitments were not made that endangered us from a military point of view."

There is more and more of this and history will record these events very differently from what the American people were told at the time. Much occurred that even high officers of state, Stimson, Welles, Marshall did not know, to say nothing of Congress or the American people. It ought not to be like that. We need to know.

I was one of the guests on the big four network radio show that kicked off the Community Chest drive the other night and the results have been wonderful. There's really a lot of money coming in. Larry Parks wrote out a check for $10,000—now he's looking for Al Jolson to get it signed.

I was going to give a nice donation right there on the stage, but on my way to the theater somebody picked my sock.

I figure you might as well give your money away—you cannot buy anything with it anyway.

I stopped at the butcher's this morning to break a dollar bill and he had only thirty cents in change. For the rest he took me into the refrigerator and let me feel a lamb-chop.

We had a little trouble contacting Jack Benny for the show. He doesn't have a regular receptionist. Outside his office door is F. E. Boone with a shotgun. F. E. Boone—that's a tobacco leaf that took diction lessons. Before I opened my mouth he had my ears auctioned off to a planter in Nashville.

All the stars are very co-operative, not only for these benefits, but with each other. Last week I passed one movie lot and I saw Trigger giving guitar lessons to Silver.

And I know that I often run next door and borrow a little sugar. Then Harry James runs over to my house and drags her back.

Pressing Need For County Liquor Store Has Passed

The Board of Commissioners for Allegany County, at the eleventh hour, named the members of Liquor Control Board a committee to study the feasibility of the county entering the wholesale liquor business as a new source of revenue.

This action was taken under the provisions of a resolution passed by the last session of the Maryland General Assembly. It set a time limit of September 30 for the naming of such a committee although it was not mandatory that such a group be selected. The entire matter would have died automatically with the dawn of October 1.

The resolution empowering the Commissioners to name such a committee was the outcome of a fight made by a majority of the Allegany County delegation to the Maryland Legislature to put through a bill authorizing the County Commissioners to establish a wholesale liquor business.

It was developed in the closing days of the session that difficulties might be encountered in carrying out provisions of the measure, and that the undertaking might not prove profitable because some distributors of liquor from distillers were not certain they would be able to furnish a county-owned store with certain brands. It also was contended that a considerable expenditure of money would be necessary to get the business going, and that it would be a year or more before the county could hope to realize financial benefits. These are among the things the committee will endeavor to clear up.

At the time a wholesale liquor store was proposed, the county was in dire need of new sources of revenue to meet mounting expenses of the county government without increasing the tax rate on property owners. Since then additional monies are being received by the county under the Sherbow Plan of distributing to counties and municipalities portions of funds which heretofore had gone to the state.

The receiving of such funds is expected to continue for an indefinite time. Unless unforeseen situations arise which would call for greater revenue than the county can now anticipate it is questionable whether the wholesale liquor store proposal should be pressed.

We can see no harm, however, in the Liquor Control Board gathering the information, and it should do so, if for no other purpose than to have the data at hand if and when, it should be found necessary to revive the proposal for a wholesale liquor store. But until an emergency, such as confronted the county early in this year, again arises it is believed advisable that the county dismiss the thought of going into the wholesale liquor business.

Capitalistic America In Comparison To Other Types

Young Henry Ford's praise of the free enterprise system may be subject to some discount. He is, after all, one of its principal beneficiaries. Why shouldn't he be more enthusiastic about it than persons harassed by high prices, housing problems and job uncertainties?

America's high production, he said, was attained under its political system of freedom. It could not have been achieved under any other system. And it hasn't been.

The average weekly wage of an American workman, Ford pointed out, would buy 80 pounds of beef —considerably more than he and his family could eat—even at present prices. But the average Russian would have no trouble eating the eight pounds of meat his weekly wage would buy. Or if the two men preferred to be paid in milk, the American would get 276 quarts, the Russian 15. Freedom is not only a high ideal. It is meat and drink.

But it is not only the dupes of communist propaganda who need to be convinced of the superiority of the American system, said Ford. Many American businessmen need more faith in it. They are timid where boldness is needed.

The time for such timidity has passed. Businessmen today, when they read of a fellow traveler, who is plugging earnestly and loudly for European relief, proclaiming that "capitalism is on trial," we owe it to themselves and their country to hunt him down and make him eat his words.

Capitalism has been proved the most efficient and humane economic system ever invented. It is America, the only capitalistic country on the face of the globe, that is now asked to feed the tramps, loafers and ignoramuses of socialistic, communistic and totalitarian countries of every shade and hue.

The fact is that European countries are shouting for alms from capitalistic America because their screwball economic heresies have failed to produce enough for their inhabitants to eat. They cannot continue to place the blame for their penury on the late war for years without end.

Faith In Thrift Not Lost By Average American

Following reports during the war that savings deposits increased despite the people's heavy buying of War Bonds, another survey offers further proof that the average American has lost none of his faith in thrift. This report is that American families are now spending 40 per cent more for life insurance than they did before the war.

Although the average family expenditure of $150 a year for life insurance—which is the present rate—is only 3 per cent of the national income, both the amount involved and the great increase since 1941 are tributes to the prudence of the people. There has been no slackening of self-reliance in the postwar era.

The people desire more than ever to lay aside a substantial proportion of their income to provide, through life insurance or annuity plans, for the care of their survivors in event of death of themselves after retirement from gainful work.

The reserves held against these policies are especially useful at this time in enabling the country to make up the housing shortage accumulated during the war. They will also help finance public construction.

Considering the large conversion of war insurance by former members of the armed forces, this demonstration of thrift reflects the people's pride in their institution and faith in the future.

GLANDULAR ENLARGEMENTS IN INFANCY

THE mammary glands of infants and children can be affected by various disorders. Few are of a serious nature but parents, noting the changes, frequently become alarmed and may institute ill advised and even harmful treatment for a possibly normal process.

About three or four days after birth, a boy or girl may develop swelling and fullness of one or both breasts. The gland becomes raised and tense, sometimes attaining the size of about half an English walnut. A whitish-yellow fluid exudes from the nipple area and the immediate assumption is that there must be an infection but rarely is this true. Formerly, this discharge was called "witch's milk" and superstition rather than proper physiological explanations held sway.

As a result, it was the practice to express forcibly this supposedly harmful material. The injury thus given often paved the way for abscesses. Such inflammation naturally produced much destruction of the delicate, immature secreting organ—with future impairment of its function.

We now know that this engorgement is due to hormones. Before a mother is delivered of her child, a complex mechanism is set in motion and certain hormones are manufactured to stimulate the formation of milk. Some are passed on thru the blood to the new life that she is nurturing. Consequently, the baby receives a certain amount of the same activating substance and its influence is reflected in the swollen gland. This rather striking manifestation is generally most marked during the second week of life, and may persist for several more. It is seldom present in premature tots. The composition of the secretion resembles that of the first yellowish fluid produced by the mother after confinement [colostrum].

The whole process will subside by degrees provided Mother Nature is given a free hand to complete the cycle she has started. Infection of the breasts gland in an infant is an infrequent occurrence but when it does arise, the exciting cause can be traced, as a rule, to unwise handling of the congested tissue by an overzealous attendant. The irritated area then must be treated wisely to save as much as possible of the structure. Warm, moist dressings are helpful until a real abscess develops and, when it does, the pocket of pus can be opened and drained. If this series of events takes place in a baby girl, she has been deprived of part of her power to breastfeed her future progeny.

Now and then, before the onset of puberty in children, one or both of the breasts becomes full and tender. This disorder may befall either a boy or girl. There is no need to become panicky because the engorgement usually subsides. If there is any question about the nature of the manifestation, the physician will watch the process carefully. In the past, normal structures in such a stage of development have been removed surgically on the assumption that they were tumor masses but malignancy in infants and children is extremely uncommon

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Window Shopping

I find it difficult to pass an attractive window along the street in any city. And should the window display an array of books—well, I couldn't even pass it. I would have to go in and browse around! There is a delight in window shopping, anyway. I watch others, and wonder what is going on in their minds. I wonder if it is the same as in mine, though I know it is not.

There is always a latent thrill within me for attractive toys. I used to buy many of them that gave joy and delight to a pair of twin boys. Now I look at them and think of the joy that many a father and mother will gain from the purchase of things that used to give me so much happiness.

The windows of a store are its outer self. They are very important. They reflect the soul of the store. And, taken as a whole, the shop windows of a town reflect the soul of the town, as well! That's how important they are.

People have windows, too. They display themselves in their eyes, in their faces, and in their outward mien. And by their words, too. I walk through crowded streets and go window shopping and do not confine my shopping to the mere windows of stores, but take in the people who make those stores possible.

I like to think of the dreams of the people who look into shop windows as they stroll along the streets. George Gissing, the English novelist, many a time stopped to gaze upon an appetizing morsel of food in a bake shop, only to force himself away, for fear he would spend something that would deprive him of an additional book to read. Though sometimes he had to give in to that urge of the body. And how many a small boy has looked into just such a window with longings, but not the price to create an accomplished dream!

God's earth is one great window, into which we may look and see "what God hath wrought." Never can we tire of its beauty, nor cease to wonder at its miracles, and free richness. Every day of our lives we may look about us and see something new displayed.

TIME MARCHES ON

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Atty. Gen. Clark On The Spot Over Wall Street Prosecution; Ex-G.I. Initiates "Personalized Foreign Policy;" British Government Trades Lives For Mines

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—The former Wall Street firms of certain Cabinet members have put one of their Cabinet colleagues—Attorney General Tom Clark—very much on the spot.

Clark has has dumped into his lap the charge that Dillon, Read & Company plus Harriman, Ripley violated the anti-trust laws in regard to the sale of $25,000,000 preferred stock being issued by the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

This charge isn't going to bring happiness to ceretain gentlemen in and on the edge of the Truman Cabinet—namely Secretary of National Defense Forrestal, former head of Dillon, Read; Secretary of Commerce Harriman, who founded Harriman, Ripley; and Undersecretary of State Lovett, ex-senior partner of the Harriman firm. Though all three have divorced themselves from their Wall Street firms, there is no doubt in the minds of Washington officialdom that the partners they left behind would give serious consideration to any suggestions made by them.

For some months the Justice Department has been holding a grand jury investigation of Wall Street investment houses, including Dillon, Read. In fact, just before Wendell Berge resigned as Assistant Attorney General is charge of the Anti-trust Division, he was all set to prosecute. But six months have dragged by and for some mysterious reason nothing has happened. John Sonnett, new head of the Anti-trust Division and former aide to Forrestal, has not prosecuted.

On top of this earlier grand jury probe, Cleveland bankers this week complained to the Justice Department that the Dillon-Read, Harriman-Ripley group had frozen them out of a refinancing job for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company.

This company advertises that "Cleveland is the best location in the nation." When it came to refinancing, however, this utility went to Wall Street. And the negotiations were kept so secret, Cleveland bankers charge that the middle west was frozen out of the business.

What the Justice Department has been probing through its recent New York grand jury is the right of big banking houses to hatch up secret financing deals without giving outside bankers a chance to compete. Secret deals, the Justice Department claims, keep prices high and give the public no chance to benefit from lower rates.

The whole question is now resting uneasily on the doorstep of Attorney General Tom Clark as to whether he will prosecute the ex-banking firms of his Cabinet colleagues.

Making Democracy Live

Stanley Bojens, an ex-GI of San Diego, has developed a peace program called "Peace by Postage," a sort of "personalized foreign policy." Plan consists of sending personal parcels to families in foreign countries who befriended GI's during the war. "If veterans themselves can win individual friends," says Bojens, "it will be difficult for governments to go to war." . . . Harold Hermanson has inspired the alumni of the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Senior High School in the suburbs of the Nation's Capital to give the children of war dead as good an education as the children of fathers who lived. When Hermanson saw some of his buddied killed, he determined to do something for their children. With the help of many patriotic alumni of his old school, Hermanson, a bachelor, has made good that promise. . . . AMVETS (Ray Sawyer, National Commander) was the only veterans organization to appear before the Senate to champion the O'Mahoney-Langer Anto-monopoly Bill; also was first to support the Marshall Plan. . . . Senator Bridges of New Hampshire has made it a flat rule that all Senators who went to Europe this summer on his Appropriations Committee must pay their wives' expenses. . . . While most prices are soaring, one outfit—the Boatrailer Company of Detroit—has done just the opposite. It has reduced all prices five precent, counting on greater sales to make up the difference. . . . Abbott and Costello, besides making youngsters laugh, operate a youth center for helping delinquent youngsters improve their lives.

Not Making Democracy Live

The British government is now trading 20,000 Yugoslavs, who had fled to the British Zone of Austria, to Tito in return for British copper and gold mines in Southern Yugoslavia seized during the war. Their return in some cases means death. . . . Some real estate owners are brazenly flouting the law requiring them to give veterans preference in renting homes. Though this is required by law, the Republican Congress carefully cut from 400 to 15 the Government enforcement officers supposed to enforce the law. Result: Real estate dealers know they can get away with flouting the veterans. . . . Right under the nose of the Justice Department in Washington, the real estate boys have been accepting nonveterans on waiting lists even before new homes and apartments were completed. The law clearly stipulates that nonveterans shal lnot be able to rent until veterans have had a 30-day priority. . . . Cocoa beans, kept down to nine cents a pound by OPA, have now soared to 39 cents. This affects every kid who buys a chocolate bar of a piece of chocolate candy. Cocoa is one of thenicest and tightest of international monopolies, being controlled by the Cocoa Exchange an dthe British. Poetic John Sonnett, the alleged trust-buster, has done nothing about it.

In Eisenhower's Home State

Eastern Republicans aren't happy over the anti-Negro move in Topeka, Kansas, led by Mayor Frank Warren. . . . Democratic ex-Governor Harry Woodring, also ex-Secretary of War, was on the side of the young Negro law student, Phillip Burton, who challenged city officials. Burton's mother used to work as a maid for the Woodring family. . . . Meanwhile Alf Landon, ex-candidate for the Presidency, was strangely silent. . . . Eastern Republicans have set their hopes on winning a large block of colored voters away from the Democrats. But the Negro press is already playing up the "Topeka incident" and the Republicans' part in it. . . . Politicos were watching Topeka this week for other reasons. Joe Martin, eastern manager for Alf Landon in 1936, spent long hours conferring with Alf in his Topeka home. Kansas scuttlebutt is that if Joe will back Eisenhower, then Alf will back Joe for Vice President. Or, if the Eisenhower boom fizzles, Kansas will back Joe for top place on the ticket. . . . Landon and his hand-picked Governor, Frank Carlson, have made a deal with Senator Capper. They will renominate Capper for the Senate while Alf will control the Kansas delegation at the GOP convention. Alf wants a GOP nominee who will name him Secretary of State. . Another Kansas deal is on between ex-Governor Andy Schoeppel, just retired, and Harry Darby, Republican National Committeeman, to run Schoeppel for Capper's Senate seat. Ed Thompson, Senator Clyde Reed's manager, has joined forces.

Frank Recognition Of Price-Fixing By Government Needed

By MARK SULLIVAN

The formidable campaign of the Administration to move the people to a program about food which the Administration desires, for a purpose that is completely worthy, would be more effective to the extent that it is accompanied by confidence. And if the Administration confines its appeal and its urging merely to the saving of food, it will be short of doing all it could do to inspire zeal for its program among the people. The public is obliged to think of food in terms of what it costs, price; and a forthright statement about prices of food, and the part the government itself plays in making them, is called for.

So far the emphasis of the campaign is on reduction of consumption. In the five-point plan issued by the Citizens Food Committee set up by the President, four of the points have to do with reducing consumption—"Don't Serve Too Much", "Don't Overcook", "Use Left-overs", "Use . . . Wisely and Sparingly." Only one of the points makes any allusion to price and this is indirect. It says, about meats, "Buy Cheaper Cuts."

Public Experiences A Restraint

At the same time when the public hears this urging for self-restraint in the consumption of food, it experiences another restraint, inherent in increased prices of food. Currently throughout much of the country, increases in the price of milk are being announced. Authority to fix the price of milk is in the hands of the Department of Agriculture, by means of what are called "federal orders", and most of the current increases in price are thus fixed by the Department.

The Department has authority affecting the prices of many other forms of food, expressed as a government policy of "price support." Since September 1st it has been supporting the price of turkeys. During the present year it has supported the prices of potatoes, eggs, peanuts and other forms of food, and it has mechanisms for supporting practically all. If the price of any form of food starts downward, excepting the comparatively few not under government authority, the Department of Agriculture has authority to support the price.

About all this, the public has comparatively little understanding, and there has been no mention of it in President Truman's appeals over several months past to bring about reduction of prices and cost of living. The defense of the Administration, reasonable so far as it goes, is that the policy of price support is embodied in statutes passed by Congress. Some of the statutes were passed near the beginning of the war, to stimulate production of food, and these extend to the end of next year. Others of the statutes were passed in 1933 and 1937, these have no date of termination.

The statutes enacted during the 1930s had the direct and avowed purpose of increasing the prices of farm products. The aim was to raise prices of farm products to what was called "parity" with the prices of other goods. The justification lay in the fact that, at that time, prices of farm products were low, relative to the prices of goods generally.

Farm Prices Out Of Proportion

The processes for supporting prices of farm products set up in that situation continue at a time when the prices of farm products have passed beyond the standard of parity then set up. Prices of farm products are now at a height out of proportion to the level of prices of goods generally. In the present condition the policy of price support operates toward promoting higher prices of food, certainly toward preventing fall of them. And the other statutes, enacted during the war to avert any possible post-war collapse of prices continue when, instead of any post-war collapse, the condition is one of extreme rise, causing distress to the people and danger of calamitous inflation.

Candor in confronting this situation would call for frank recognition of it, and the hardship and danger it involves; and would consider the desirability of modifying the statutes. It would call also for exercise of the considerable discretion which the statutes leave to the Department of Agriculture, not toward keeping prices up, but so far as possible toward letting them go down.

Politics Has Thrust Partisan Needle Into Food-Saving Plan

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—Politics has already thrust its partisan needle into the food-conservation program.

When Senator Taft, Republican, speaking in the west, suggested that Americans may find it neccessary to "eat less" if the conservation drive were to be successful, he was promptly assailed by Democratic spokesmen, particularly Senator Pepper of Florida, Democrat, who immediately suggested that the people always "eat less" when the Republicans are in power

President Truman, shying away from the "eat less" slogan, came forward with one of his own: "Waste less."

The truth is that "waste less" implies that it is all right to waste food but that the people must practice moderation. Actually, there is a lot of food wasted every day by people who eat only a part of what they order or of what is set before them at home. But it is not always possible to measure in advance what the individual appetite will be.

While it is desirable to avoid every bit of waste that can be foreseen, the whole conservation program depends on eating less. The two slogans should be combined: "Eat less and waste less." Maybe that's good bi-partisan reasoning and would help prevent politically minded folks from seeking to take partisan advantage.

Another Justification

There is another justification for "eat less." It is going to be necessary for many people in America who have an abundance of food to cut down on their eating. Many such persons ought to do it, anyway, in the interest of good health, for some physicians say that overeating is the main cause of dietary disorders.

To save the amount of food needed to help Europe will require a much more drastic curtailment of food consumption than can be accomplished merely by trying to waste less. It is not possible to feed Europe out of the garbage cans of America. It will be necessary to cut down on food use in the first instance.

Food conservation is directly related to food prices. If the American government is going to buy vast quantities of food, prices may be bid up and the lower-income groups may be deprived of food because they may not be able to afford to pay the high prices. This is a problem of major importance, for, unless the food conservation program has the effect of bringing prices down, it cannot accomplish one of its main purposes.

Already there is serious talk in official quarters about a revival of food rationing. The difficulties are numerous. It would take a long time to set up the rationing system and to print and distribute ration cards once more. It may be that the talk is primarily to impress upon the American people that unless voluntary conservation is effective it will be necessary to adopt wartime rationing.

It should be possible to do enough by voluntary rationing or self-denial to conserve the quantities of grain needed for Europe. Voluntary curtailment was a success in World War I. When supported by an alert and crusading spirit, such as is developed in war-loan drives, there is every chance to make it work.

People Usually Cooperate

It will require organization, of course. This means national, state and city committees with the backing of the radio and the press. Once the facts are clearly stated to the people and they are convinced of the real need, they usually cooperate. Such a campaign will have collateral effects. It will help to make clear the purposes of the whole Marshall Plan and will give to the Congress an idea of how concerned the people are over what is happening or is likely to happen in Europe.

There is, on the other hand, no more certain way to kill a program of food conservation or any policy requiring bi-partisan support than for petty politicians to begin sabotaging it for their own purposes. Instead of being assailed for his suggested slogan, "eat less," Senator Taft should have been commended, especially since he did not attack the administration for such a program but did indicate his support.

Mr. Truman, incidentally, might better have abandoned his timidity toward an "eat less" program and struck forward boldly to ask the American people not only to end all waste of food but also to eat less if they have been in the habit of eating more than is necessary for good health.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

A Bit Of History

IT is always beneficial to go back to history for an understanding of what is happening now. For instance, we find ourselves involved in the organization of a Western bloc of nations which we are asked to support to the tune between $19,000,000,000 and $22,000,000,000. We are also asked to eat less, at a time when Russia reports a bumper crop and the French peasant refuses to sell his wheat because he dislikes the money of his own government. Actually, we know little about all the maneuvers, except that we are constantly faced by crises.

The point I wish to make is that the American people know so little of what is done in their name—they are told so little—that they are committed to expenditures of wealth and life unnecessarily. And I should like to cite General George Marshall as my witness. Appearing before the Pearl Harbor Committee of Congress, he said:

". . . Had they (the Japanese) not attacked on December 7, had they waited, for example, until January 1, there is a possibility that they would not have launched the attack, I do not know, because it appeared quite a definite possibility that Russia might get to her feet, which she did."

During subsequent examination Senator Brewster asked:

"You and Admiral Stark had both concurred in hoping that decision might be deferred for at least two or three months."

A plan of action had been worked out at a conference in Singapore concerning which the American people knew nothing. In other words, prior to Pearl Harbor, prior to a Declaration of War, this country and Great Britain were acting jointly in the Far Eastern situation. Two messages from Churchill to Roosevelt confirm this:

"Your massage about Japan received tonight. Also full accounts from Lord Halifax of discussions and your counter project to Japan on which Foreign Secretary has sent some comments. Of course, it is for you to handle this business and we certainly do not want an additional war. There is only one point that disquiets us. What about Chiang Kai-shek? Is he not having a very thin diet? Our anxiety is about China. If they collapse our joint dangers would enormously increase. We are sure that the regard of the United States for the Chinese cause will govern your action. We feel that the Japanese are most unsure of themselves."

In another message, he said: ". . .Forgive me, my dear friend, for presuming to press such a course upon you, but I am convinced that it might make all the difference and prevent a melancholy extension of the war."

Well, it seems that while the British assumed that negotiations were taking place to avoid a war, what we now know to be an ultimatum was handed to the Japanese. Secretary Stimson's diary says:

"On the morning of the 27th of November, 1941—the first thing in the morning I called up Mr. Hull to find out what his final decision had been with the Japanese, whether he had handed them the new proposal. . .or whether, as he suggested yesterday, he had broken the whole matter off. He told me how he had broken the whole matter off, as he put it, 'I have washed my hands of it and it is now in the hands of you and Knox, the Army and the Navy'."

General Marshall further testified:

"My recollection is, and I have a fairly clear recollection of our disappointment, that from the military point of view, meaning Army and Navy, that we would not gain any more time; our relationship to these discussions was on the one side the desire to gain as much time as we possibly could and on the other to see that commitments were not made that endangered us from a military point of view."

There is more and more of this and history will record these events very differently from what the American people were told at the time. Much occurred that even high officers of state, Stimson, Welles, Marshall did not know, to say nothing of Congress or the American people. It ought not to be like that. We need to know.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I was one of the guests on the big four network radio show that kicked off the Community Chest drive the other night and the results have been wonderful. There's really a lot of money coming in. Larry Parks wrote out a check for $10,000 —now he's looking for Al Jolson to get it signed.

I was going to give a nice donation right there on the stage, but on my way to the theater somebody picked my sock.

I figure you might as well give your money away—you cannot buy anything with it anyway.

I stopped at the butcher's this morning to break a dollar bill and he had only thirty cents in change. For the rest he took me into the refrigerator and let me feel a lamb-chop.

We had a little trouble contacting Jack Benny for the show. He doesn't have a regular receptionist. Outside his office door is F. E. Boone with a shotgun. F. E. Boone —that's a tobacco leaf that took diction lessons. Before I opened my mouth he had my ears auctioned off to a planter in Nashville.

All the stars are very co-operative, not only for these benefits, but with each other. Last week I passed one movie lot and I saw Trigger giving guitar lessons to Silver.

And I know that I often run next door and borrow a little sugar. Then Harry James runs over to my house and drags her back.

Veeck Denies Rumor Of Trade With Browns

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (INS)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians denied all knowledge today of a reported trade between his club and the St. Louis Browns involving Lou Boudreau, manager and star shortstop of the Indians. Veeck said:

"No trade of any kind has been made and I do not know when one is likely to be completed."

Veeck declined to comment on Cleveland reports which stated that Boudreau and seven other players from the Indians and Browns were slated to swap uniforms.

The seven mentioned were Cleveland pitchers Red Embree and Bryan Stephens and outfielder George Metkovich, and Browns' pitchers Jack Kramer and Bob Muncrief, outfielder Paul Lehner and shortstop Vern Stephens.

It has been generally known in Cleveland that Boudreau and Veeck have been unable to reach terms on a new contract for Boudreau.

Fort Hill Crushes

dropped back to toss a pass to Glenn Burke in the end zone and the score rapidly changed to 14-0.

As if to prove that they intended to leave little doubt in the minds of the spectators as to the superior team, two plays later Burke recovered Jim Collin's fumble on the Blue and Gold 28 and Manges tossed another aerial to Gary Moler in the end zone and the score was 21-0 before the first quarter ended.

A 77-yard march featured the Sentinels fourth touchdown in the second period. Recovering another Explorer fumble on the Fort Hill 23, the Sentinels traveled the distance to the goal line in just nine plays with another sparkling aerial toss from Manges—this time with Quarterback Milford Dean on the receiving end and good for 12 yards —and the Scarlet and White powerhouse had tallied again. Manges, fourth straight placement made it 28-0 at halftime.

Stevenson Makes Long Run

Stevenson then produced the game's most spectacular run when he took the second half kickoff on his own 24 yard line and went 86 yards through the entire Irish eleven without a hand being laid on him for the fifth score. Moments later Ronnie Catlett, husky Fort Hill guard intercepted a LaSalle pass and rambled 84 yards for another touchdown.

After the kickoff LaSalle made its only serious threat with a beautiful pass from Clark to Jim Collins being good for an apparent touchdown in a play covering 74 yards. But the touchdown was called back as Collins had stepped out of bounds on the LaSalle 46 just after receiving the toss. Another heave good for 19 yards put the Explorers in Sentinel territory but Fort Hill held and the Blue and Gold were forced to punt.

Subs Continue Rolls

Coach Bill Hahn sent in an entire new team for the winners in the fourth quarter and the substitutes, seemingly catching the spirit and flame from the first team, continued to roll up the score.

Marvin Luttrell, second string halfback, broke loose for 32 yards and the sixth Sentinel score and after another intercepted pass gave the ball to the Hahnmen on the LaSalle 14, Don Squires carried the pigskin over for the seventh and final tally to complete the rout.

Luttrell added the point on a plunge

The former record of 54 points scored in a city game by Allegany against a LaSalle eleven was broken last night by the Sentinels as they scored in every period against the Blue and Gold. The lineups:

Veeck Denies Rumor Of Trade With Browns

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (INS)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians denied all knowledge today of a reported trade between his club and the St. Louis Browns involving Lou Boudreau, manager and star shortstop of the Indians. Veeck said:

"No trade of any kind has been made and I do not know when one is likely to be completed."

Veeck declined to comment on Cleveland reports which stated that Boudreau and seven other players from the Indians and Browns were slated to swap uniforms.

The seven mentioned were Cleveland pitchers Red Embree and Bryan Stephens and outfielder George Metkovich, and Browns' pitchers Jack Kramer and Bob Muncrief, outfielder Paul Lehner and shortstop Vern Stephens.

It has been generally known in Cleveland that Boudreau and Veeck have been unable to reach terms on a new contract for Boudreau.

Fort Hill Crushes

dropped back to toss a pass to Glenn Burke in the end zone and the score rapidly changed to 14-0.

As if to prove that they intended to leave little doubt in the minds of the spectators as to the superior team, two plays later Burke recovered Jim Collin's fumble on the Blue and Gold 28 and Manges tossed another aerial to Gary Moler in the end zone and the score was 21-0 before the first quarter ended.

A 77-yard march featured the Sentinels fourth touchdown in the second period. Recovering another Explorer fumble on the Fort Hill 23, the Sentinels traveled the distance to the goal line in just nine plays with another sparkling aerial toss from Manges—this time with Quarterback Milford Dean on the receiving end and good for 12 yards—and the Scarlet and White powerhouse had tallied again. Manges, fourth straight placement made it 28-0 at halftime.

Stevenson Makes Long Run

Stevenson then produced the game's most spectacular run when he took the second half kickoff on his own 24 yard line and went 86 yards through the entire Irish eleven without a hand being laid on him for the fifth score. Moments later Ronnie Catlett, husky Fort Hill guard intercepted a LaSalle pass and rambled 84 yards for another touchdown.

After the kickoff LaSalle made its only serious threat with a beautiful pass from Clark to Jim Collins being good for an apparent touchdown in a play covering 74 yards. But the touchdown was called back as Collins had stepped out of bounds on the LaSalle 46 just after receiving the toss. Another heave good for 19 yards put the Explorers in Sentinel territory but Fort Hill held and the Blue and Gold were forced to punt.

Subs Continue Rolls

Coach Bill Hahn sent in an entire new team for the winners in the fourth quarter and the substitutes, seemingly catching the spirit and flame from the first team, continued to roll up the score.

Marvin Luttrell, second string halfback, broke loose for 32 yards and the sixth Sentinel score and after another intercepted pass gave the ball to the Hahnmen on the LaSalle 14, Don Squires carried the pigskin over for the seventh and final tally to complete the rout.

Luttrell added the point on a plunge

The former record of 54 points scored in a city game by Allegany against a LaSalle eleven was broken last night by the Sentinels as they scored in every period against the Blue and Gold. The lineups:

IT'S A SMALL WORLD

Ever run into a friend in Tokyo, or meet one of your neighbors in Amsterdam? Maybe not—but such things are happening every day!

It makes you stop and think—the way this world is shrinking. It makes you wish that the men and women who live on opposite sides of the globe had more things in common.

There can be no more unifying force in the world than a common belief in God. And toward that ideal we are rapidly progressing. Christians the world over are feeling and expressing their unity of faith and purpose.

Next Sunday is World-Wide Communion Sunday. On that day, within the space of a few short hours, Christians in every land will reverently participate in the Lord's Supper which has been a mark of Christian faith for almost two thousand years.

Worship with the World in the Church of your choice!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday and read your Bible daily

Advice To The Lovelorn

There Is Only One Answer To This Question, Miss Fairfax Says

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

We are two high school girls, and we are wondering, as other girls are, what to do if a boy with a bad reputation asks you for a date? If you go with him, people are bound to start talking about you, and, if you refuse, he tells other boys and then you don't get any dates at all.

Since the town we live in his not any too big, we have to be careful of what we do. If you are seen talking to certain boys, you get talked about.

Now the question is, should we stay at home every night alone because of what some people would be likely to say, or should we go out with the boys whether or not they are nice, despite what people say?

"WILLIE AND DEMIE."

Dear "Willie and Demie":

It seems to me high school girls ought to be old enough to answer such a question for themselves. As I look at it, what you do if a boy with a bad reputation asks you out is to say, "No, thank you." And if this attitude results in other boys being unwilling to ask you out, then they are no better than he is. If they were nice boys, they would respect you for being careful of the company you keep. I can't believe that to turn down an invitation from the boy whose reputation is so bad that the whole town talks about him would result in your having to sit home alone every night. If it did, there is certainly something wrong with all the boys in your town and you had better forget about dates and wait until you are old enough to move away and find some better company.

Taller Than Boy Friend

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 17 years old and have been going with a fellow who has asked me to go steady. I like him a lot, but he is at least five inches shorter than I am. Should I go steady or not?

"UNDECIDED"

Dear Undecided":

It is a very natural feeling for a girl to be self-conscious when she is considerably taller than her boy friend. But after all, does it actually matter very much? People don't pick their friends for their height and weight, but because they are good companions with whom one can have fun. If you enjoy this lad's companionship, isn't that the important thing?

Breaking a City scoring record of points scored in one contest the rampaging Fort Hill High Sentinels ran roughshod over a hapless, but scrappy, LaSalle High Explorer eleven last night at Fort Hill Stadium to rack up an easy 55-0 victory.

Approximately 7,000 persons saw the breakaway backfield for the Sentinels set in motion on the first play of the game when Barney Tucker intercepted Mickey Clark's pass on the LaSalle 32 yard line after the kickoff and the Scarlet and White juggernaut had a touchdown in four plays.

Ray Stevenson went over tackle for the first score from the eight and Jim Manges, sure footed kicking expert, added the first of six consecutive points from placement.

Score On Pass

The crowd had hardly settled back in its seats when on the initial play after the ensuing kickoff Louie, diminutive Explorer halfback fumbled and Roy Rodenhauser, Fort Hill tackle, caught the ball in mid-air on the LaSalle 33 and returned it to the Explorer 30. Manges and Stevenson picked up a first down on the 10 and then Manges

Cop Didn't Think Phil Rizzuto Was A Ball Player

EBBETTS FIELD, Broklyn, Oct. 3—(AP)—Little Phil Rizzuto, Yankee shortstop, arrived late at the ball park today.

He had a hard time convincing one of the cordon of police, which surrounded Ebbetts Field, that he was a player.

"Go on, beat it," one officer said. "Don't give me that stuff. You can't even play first for a midget team."

Veteran Ridgeley Eleven Will Face Allegany Tonight

Fans Will Watch Moss And Fridley

Coach Jesse Riggleman's Ridgeley High Blackhawks, victorious in their only start this season 44-0 over Petersburg High last Friday, will invade the greater Cumberland area to do battle with the Allegany High Campers football squad tonight at Fort Hill Stadium at 8 p. m.

It will be the eighth meeting on the gridiron between the two schools since their rivalry began in 1939. Allegany has been returned the victor in six of the contests while the Blackhawks pulled one of the season's biggest surprises last year by holding the favored Blue and White eleven to a 7-7 deadlock.

Bob Pence, starting his second season as head man for the Campobello gridders, was the victim of last year's tie game. Allegany has been plagued by injuries to several key players so far this season, but he hopes that Allegany will be in good shape for tonight's bruising affair.

The Pencemen have a victory over Beall High of Frostburg 20-0 last week after dropping a 7-0 decision to Somerset (Pa.) High in their opener two weeks ago.

Ridgeley, Potomac Valley Conference runners-up to the champion Moorefield High eleven last year, will have eight regulars back from the 1946 squad besides eleven other returning lettermen. The West Virginians average 180 pounds on the line and 171 in the backfield.

Husky Joe Moss, 200-lb. fullback who was the sparkplug for the Blackhawk's successful 1946 program, will again be the boy to watch in tonight's fray. Moss did most of Ridgeley's line plunging and ball carrying last year and showed he is one of the most powerful running backs in this section for some time.

Dick Fridley, 170-lb-tackle for the Riggleman, will be battling against his old teammates, as the husky senior was one of the mainstays on the Allegany team which won three games while losing five and tieing one last year. Fridley transferred to Ridgeley this season.

Jim "Sonny" Lease, ace Camper quarterback, will probably be back in the Campobello backfield for the Ridgeley contest after missing last week's game because of a leg injury. Ned Clopton is recovering from an illness that has kept him from both Allegany contests this season. Except for a few minor casualties the Campers seem to be in good shape for the game. Bealmear Picks Texas To Down North Carolina

Dodgers Have Writer Completely Confused

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

BROOKLYN, Oct. 3. (AP)—Having picked New York to win the World Series in four straight, we plunge into another football forecast with some misgivings as the Yankees and Dodgers come to grips one more in that peaceful little valley known as Ebbets Field:

North Carolina vs. Texas—Stirnweiss, the old North Carolina flash, single on the first pitch of the game. Bases loaded and nobody out. Stirnweiss forced in with the first run. What! Double Play! Walt Pupa and Bobby Layne can throw, too. One uncertain vote for Texas.

Notre Dame vs. Pittsburgh—Can the Dodgers get that run back? Can the Irish go through another season undefeated? They've got the material. A confident ballot for Notre Dame.

Stanford vs. Michigan—Who said the Dodgers had the edge on base running? Those Michigan backs are pretty good runners, too. One big vote for Michigan.

Georgia Tech vs. Tulane—Three up and three down for the Dodgers. That's the way Georgia Tech took care of Tennessee last week. Georgia Tech.

UCLA vs. Northwestern—Robinson won the race to the bag to rob Berra of a hit. If he were playing with UCLA again he'd be on the winning side tomorrow. A hatful of votes for UCLA.

Army vs. Colorado—DiMaggio is trying to score on Edwards' overthrow of first. He's out at home, by a mile. The Cadets are at home and should squeeze through.

Illinois vs. Iowa—Johnson tripled, Lindell doubled and it's another Yankee run. No other choice but Illinois.

Louisiana State vs. Georgia—What's this? DiMaggio hurt? No, he's all right. So is Louisiana State.

Columbia vs. Navy—The Dodgers have two runners in scoring position. One run comes home. That's all, Columbia may find it tough to score, too. Navy.

Rice vs. Southern California—Seven innings gone and Bevens hasn't yielded a hit yet. A shaky vote for Rice.

Oregon State vs. Washington—Wow! The roof just fell in on Bevens, an Oregon boy. That should be convincing. Washington.

Fate Took Record From Floyd Bevens

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 3 (AP)—Floyd Beven's eyes were vacant of expression as he fumbled along in changing from his uniform to street attire in the Yankee dressing room after his defeat in the fourth game of the World Series today.

The big right hander, who was one out away from tossing the first no-hitter in World Series annals, groped for words as reporters, feeling his remorse, slowly asked questions.

Asked what kind of a ball Cookie Lavagetto of the Dodgers hit for his game winning double in the ninth, Bevens replied: " a high fast ball, a little on the outside."

Later, while sipping a bottle of beer, Bevens shook his head when he was reminded that he set a new series record by walking ten batters.

"Everytime you walk somebody, you'll get into trouble. A walk counts as much as a hit," he added.

LAVAGETTO'S DOUBLE BEATS YANKEES—This is the general scene as Dodgers Pinch-hitter Cookie Lavagetto, with two out and one strike on him, smacked a vicious double off the right field wall to drive in the tying and winning runs in the ninth inning of the fourth World Seres game at Ebbets Field yesterday. At the crack of the bat, Al Gionfriddo heads for third base with tying run and Eddie Miksis dashes to second with winning tally. It was probably the most dramatic finish in the 44-year history of the classic and the 3-2 victory enabled the Dodgers to tie the Yankees at two wins apiece. Lavagetto's hit spoiled a no-hit game for Yankee pitcher Floyd Bevens.

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 3—Moorefield High School trounced Petersburg here this afternoon 26 to 6 in a Potomac Valley Conference game with three of Moorefield's four touchdowns coming in the first quarter. Petersburg scored its long touchdown in the third period and Moorefield added its fourth in the final period.

Moorefield scored in the first four minutes of the game after returning it to the Petersburg 45 yard line. With G. Hott and Harman carrying the ball Moorefield made a first down on the 9 and then J. Vance passed to Welton in the end zone for the first touchdown and G. Hott picked the extra point.

The next score came after Wendell Hott intercepted a pass on the Petersburg 26. A Moorefield pass failed and then G. Hott went off tackle for 26 yards and a touchdown. He kicked the extra point. The third score of the quarter game when J. Sherman, Moorefield's right tackle, intercepted a partially blocked pass on the 21. Harman picked up seven yards and then G. Hott carried the ball to the 9 where J. Vance again passed to Welton for the touchdown.

Midway in the third quarter Moorefield was on the Petersburg 39, with fourth down and four to go when C. Vance intercepted Hartman's pass in the flat and raced 61 yards for a touchdown for the outstanding play of the game.

Moorefield's final score came in the fourth quarter, when a punt was returned to the 7 and on the next play J. Vance cut off tackle to score standing up.

Amvets And Hyndman Will Decide Bi-State League Title On Sunday

Poffenberger And Clapper Will Pitch

Cumberland's Amvets and Hyndman's Firemen will decide Sunday, weather permitting, the championship of the Bi-State Baseball League when they hook up at Community Park in the third and deciding game of the series. Game time is 3 p. m.

Norm Gerdeman, Amvets manager, announced last night that "Boots" Poffenberger, ex-big league bad boy, will hurl for the Amvets and that Paul Clapper, Hyndman pitching artist, will toe the mound for the Firemen.

Poffenberger and Clapper locked horns last week at Hyndman and the Amvets came out on top of a 3-1 score to tie the series at one game apiece. Hyndman won the opener by the lopsided score of 22-7.

George H. Layman, Shaft, umpire in chief of the Bi-State League, last night announced the umpires for Sunday's game. Ed Thompson, Lonaconing, will call balls and strikes, Stanley Davis, Barton, will be at first and Cecil Warnick, Cresap Park, at third.

The series to date has proved an excellent drawing card for semi-pro ball in this section, with some 6,000 persons having witnessed the first two games.

Tickets for Sunday's contest are on sale at Wilson Hardware Store, the Cadillac Cocktail Lounge and the Amvets home, and Gerdeman said last night that the advance sale points to another big crowd Sunday.

Gerdeman will put the Amvets through a practice session at 11 o'clock this morning at Community Park.

Inning by inning score of the World Series will be announced over the public address system during the game.

Citizens Want Cookie Made Deputy Mayor

Mayor William O'Dwyer, among those who saw the pinch-hitting Lavagetto slam the ninth-inning double which won today's world series tilt for the Dodgers, hardly had returned to his office when the telephone began to ring.

It was Brooklyn calling. Citizen by citizen insisted that very little, if anything, was too good for Lavagetto. Make him "Deputy Mayor," they said, or at least a "Commissioner."

Replied the Mayor: "He deserves anything he wants."

But, his honor added quickly, "I am still neutral."

Keyser Trounces Thomas In First Conference Game

Tornado Wins 45-0; Subs Play Last Half

THOMAS, W. Va., Oct. 3 — Keyser's Golden Tornado trounced a hapless Thomas High eleven 45-0 in the Black and Gold's first Potomac Valley Conference contest here this afternoon.

Using substitutes almost exclusively in the second half, the Keyser eleven pushed across five touchdowns in the last half after taking a 12-0 lead in the first quarter.

Operating entirely on the ground, the Tornado moved ruthlessly making long runs and twice in the last half intercepted Thomas passes which were converted into touchdowns.

Charles Emery, left halfback, made the longest run of the game when he crashed through the line and galloped 50 yards across the goal to score in the last half.

Sharing in the scoring honors were Stitzer, the Emery brothers, Calhoun, Thrush, Adams and Raines. The reserves, who played the entire last quarter, scored 20 points against a tired Thomas eleven.

Notre Dame Will Open Season At Pittsburgh Today

North Carolina-Texas Game Draws Attention

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(AP)—Unmindful of the important doings in the baseball world, college football crowds into the sports picture again tomorrow with some of the nation's potential powers getting their new uniforms dirty for the first time this season.

Such standouts as Notre Dame, pre-season favorite to repeat as the country's best, and Pennsylvania, top choice in the Ivy League, open against underdog opponents while untried former powers like Colgate and Princeton get their initial test.

Although intersectional struggles highlight the day's program for the second straight week, the schedule also calls for important conference clashes in all the major collegiate leagues.

Notre Dame, rich in talent and experience, invades Pittsburgh to open its bid for another unbeaten season against a Panther club that held Illinois' Big Nine Champions to two touchdowns.

Pennsylvania warms up at home against Lafayette for its entrance into Ivy League competition, while league games tomorrow send Cornell to Yale and Brown to Princeton.

Army, safely over the first hurdle, stakes its long record against an intersectional invader, Colorado. Columbia, also a winner in its opener, goes to Navy to meet a Middie crew that bowed to California.

Elsewhere in the East it will be Boston University at Harvard, Colgate at Kings point, Dartmouth at Syracuse, Bucknell at Penn state and Temple at Holy Cross.

Two intersectional contests in the Midwest, keeping the Pacific Coast-Big Nine feud alive, find Stanford at Michigan and UCLA at Northwestern. Illinois will be at Iowa, Ohio State at Purdue and Wisconsin at Indiana, meanwhile, for big nine engagements.

Mississippi State goes to Michigan State for another intersectional bout and Iowa State and Kansas open the Big Six slate at Lawrence.

One of the best games of the day promises to be the tussle between North Carolina and Texas in the Lone Star State. A trio of Southeastern Conference tests which may have a bearing on the final outcome of that loop's race take Louisiana State to Georgia, Georgia Tech to Tulane and Alabama to Vanderbilt.

In the Southern Conference it will be Wake Forest at Clemson, George Washington at Virginia Military and the Citadel at William and Mary, while other Dixie highlights find Duke at Tennessee, Louisiana Tech at Auburn, Kentucky at Xavier, and South Carolina vs. Mississippi at Memphis.

By BOB CONSIDINE
International News Service
Sports Writer

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 3 (INS)—This mad, monstrous World Series of 1947 reached one of the greatests crests in baseball history today when pinch-hitter Cookie Lavagetto broke up a no-hit game with a double in the ninth inning that gave the Dodgers a still incredible 3 to 2 victory over the Yankees.

It was a feat that couldn't happen even in Brooklyn.

But it did! And the stands went more raving mad than any crowd in this reporter's memory.

Floyd Bevens, a lame-armed Yankee pitcher who had been able to win only seven games this season, was in there—full of sweat and hope—on the verge of becoming the first pitcher in the annals of the World Series to hurl a no-hitter.

He had just established another record. With two outs in the ninth inning he walked his tenth Dodger, a mark for scatter-shot throwing that cracked the old record of nine set in the 1910 World Series by Jack Coombs, of the Athletics.

Lavagetto Comes Through

The Yanks were leading 2-1. The game was in the bag, and the pall in the Ebbets Field stands was thick and goey. Sure, Carl Furillo had walked with one out, and with two away Gionfriddo, running for him had spectacularly stolen second.

Now Pete Reiser, accompanied by his swollen ankle, was purposely passed—after the stolen base had opened first base. Burt Shotton removed Reiser from the game, and replaced him with a faster runner, Eddie Miksis on first.

Then Shotton sent in Lavagetto, an elderly, pre-Pearl Harbor Dodger who could hit only .261 in his infrequent appearances in the game this year.

Bevens, wringing with sweat and with a foot thrust solidly in the door of baseball's hall of fame, burned a savage strike across the plate and Lavagetto missed it by a full foot as he swung bloodthirstily.

Bevens uncorked another one — harder, if possible. Lavagetto swung, and to the utter horror of the Yankees and the heart-stopping surprise of the partisan audience of 33,443 the ball shot out to deep right field on a low, whistling line.

There were actual screams of dismay from the mob as Tommy Henrich, Yankee rightfielder, backed up to the wall.

All afternoon he and other Yankee outfielders had been clambering up those walls and pulling down what seemed to be sure Dodger hits.

But Lavagetto's ball kept going—a few excruciating inches above the clutching hands of Henrich for a double. It struck the wall with a thumping wallop and Gionfriddo and Miksis—running like terrified deer—sped for home and a victory that will be remembered and relished in Brooklyn as long as there is a Brooklyn.

And that's how the Dodgers tied up the series at two games each, ready to come back into Ebbets Field tomorrow to snag number three.

Crowd Goes Wild

The crowd plunged out of the lower stands like a flood that has broken its dam, and amid the wildest banshee yells it threw itself against the Dodger players, who in turn were pummeling Lavagetto black and blue.

Grown men actually turned somersaults on the infield in an hour of frenzy hardly paralleled in baseball.

A young fan snatched Lavagetto's cap, to enshrine it, and guards chased him wildly across the infield as he fled.

The stands remained filled long after their accustomed time .... filled with Brooklyn fans who still couldn't believe the miracle, but knew only that it had happened—and right in front of their eyes.

"Bugs Eye View" Of Series As Seen By Columnist Bugs Baer

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(Written especially for International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (INS)—The incredible Bums did it again after trailing all afternoon like jelly fish in the Gulf Stream.

I just got back from a two-day safari into Brooklyn where they pull the hidden-ball trick with cocoanuts. The natives have revolted and are pouring over the boundary line into civilization. New Yorkers are hiding their door mats and counting their money.

Yesterday I accused Manager Shotton of playing the bench wearing rose-colored glasses. Today he handled his throwers as pretty as baby's first teeth.

Shotton's first choice was Taylor who didn't last any longer than a drunk in his sixth barroom. He was yanked fast for Gregg who was in and out of hot water like a scrub-lady's thumb.

In comes Hugh Casey who lives in a hole in the ground near the pitcher's box. When Hugh sees perspiration on the resin bag out he pops like an aarkvard in the spring.

Casey throws himself one hook for a double-play and grabs himself a second game in two days. And in the last half of that terrific

Manager Shotton And Players Kiss Cookie Lavagetto In Celebration

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 3. (AP)—Hal Gregg was explaining in a sad, professional sort of way what it was that Bill Bevens had.

"His curve ball breaks like a slider," he was saying as he shaved. "He keeps it outside and he keeps his fast ball inside, way inside."

Harry Taylor, who put the Dodgers in quite a spot in the first inning, lay face down on a bench. There was hardly anyone in the Dodger dressing room because the big celebration was going to come over in the Yankee rooms when Bevens came in with a no-hitter.

The loudspeaker said Cookie Lavagetto was going to bat for Eddie Stanky.

"Yeah, I guess that's all right," someone said.

Then a roar started, growing in volume, reaching an air-splitting crescendo.

The words, "tying run . . . winning run" came out of it. The door burst open and players started running in, screaming and cheering.

Cookie Lavagetto came pushing and shoving along, a wide, intense smile on his face, his black hair falling down on his forehead.

Men threw their arms around him and kissed him. He couldn't say anything. All he could do was grin the widest and most complete of all grins.

He was hoisted on Branca's shoulders, with everyone helping. They bounced him up and down. Manager Burt Shotton kissed him.

"It was a high fast one, and I think it was over the plate, but I'm not sure," he said.

Breaking a City scoring record of points scored in one contest the rampaging Fort Hill High Sentinels ran roughshod over a hapless, but scrappy, LaSalle High Explorer eleven last night at Fort Hill Stadium to rack up an easy 55-0 victory.

Approximately 7,000 persons saw the breakaway backfield for the Sentinels set in motion on the first play of the game when Barney Tucker intercepted Mickey Clark's pass on the LaSalle 32 yard line after the kickoff and the Scarlet and White juggernaut had a touchdown in four plays.

Ray Stevenson went over tackle for the first score from the eight and Jim Manges, sure footed kicking expert, added the first of six consecutive points from placement.

Score On Pass

The crowd had hardly settled back in its seats when on the initial play after the ensuing kickoff Louie, diminutive Explorer halfback fumbled and Roy Rodenhauser, Fort Hill tackle, caught the ball in mid-air on the LaSalle 33 and returned it to the Explorer 30. Manges and Stevenson picked up a first down on the 10 and then Manges

EBBETTS FIELD, Broklyn, Oct. 3—(AP)—Little Phil Rizzuto, Yankee shortstop, arrived late at the ball park today.

He had a hard time convincing one of the cordon of police, which surrounded Ebbetts Field, that he was a player.

"Go on, beat it," one officer said. "Don't give me that stuff. You can't even play first for a midget team."

Veteran Ridgeley Eleven Will Face Allegany Tonight

Fans Will Watch Moss And Fridley

Coach Jesse Riggleman's Ridgeley High Blackhawks, victorious in their only start this season 44-0 over Petersburg High last Friday, will invade the greater Cumberland area to do battle with the Allegany High Campers football squad tonight at Fort Hill Stadium at 8 p. m.

It will be the eighth meeting on the gridiron between the two schools since their rivalry began in 1939. Allegany has been returned the victor in six of the contests while the Blackhawks pulled one of the season's biggest surprises last year by holding the favored Blue and White eleven to a 7-7 deadlock.

Bob Pence, starting his second season as head man for the Campobello gridders, was the victim of last year's tie game. Allegany has been plagued by injuries to several key players so far this season, but he hopes that Allegany will be in good shape for tonight's bruising affair.

The Pencemen have a victory over Beall High of Frostburg 20-0 last week after dropping a 7-0 decision to Somerset (Pa.) High in their opener two weeks ago.

Ridgeley, Potomac Valley Conference runners-up to the champion Moorefield High eleven last year, will have eight regulars back from the 1946 squad besides eleven other returning lettermen. The West Virginians average 180 pounds on the line and 171 in the backfield.

Husky Joe Moss, 200-lb. fullback who was the sparkplug for the Blackhawk's successful 1946 program, will again be the boy to watch in tonight's fray. Moss did most of Ridgeley's line plunging and ball carrying last year and showed he is one of the most powerful running backs in this section for some time.

Dick Fridley, 170-lb-tackle for the Riggiemen, will be battling against his old teammates, as the husky senior was one of the mainstays on the Allegany team which won three games while losing five and tieing one last year. Fridley transferred to Ridgeley this season.

Jim "Sonny" Lease, ace Camper quarterback, will probably be back in the Campobello backfield for the Ridgeley contest after missing last week's game because of a leg injury. Ned Clopton is recovering from an illness that has kept him from both Allegany contests this season. Except for a few minor casualties the Campers seem to be in good shape for the game. The probable lineups:

"Bugs Eye View" Of Series As Seen By Columnist Bugs Baer

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (INS)—The incredible Bums did it again after trailing all afternoon like jelly fish in the Gulf Stream.

I just got back from a two-day safari into Brooklyn where they pull the hidden-ball trick with cocoanuts. The natives have revolted and are pouring over the boundary line into civilization. New Yorkers are hiding their door mats and counting their money.

Yesterday I accused Manager Shotton of playing the bench wearing rose-colored glasses. Today he handled his throwers as pretty as baby's first teeth.

Shotton's first choice was Taylor who didn't last any longer than a drunk in his sixth barroom. He was yanked fast for Gregg who was in and out of hot water like a scrub-lady's thumb.

In comes Hugh Casey who lives in a hole in the ground near the pitcher's box. When Hugh sees perspiration on the resin bag out he pops like an aarkvard in the spring.

Casey throws himself one hook for a double-play and grabs himself a second game in two days. And in the last half of that terrific

Bealmear Picks Texas To Down North Carolina

Dodgers Have Writer Completely Confused

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

BROOKLYN, Oct. 3. (AP)—Having picked New York to win the World Series in four straight, we plunge into another football forecast with some misgivings as the Yankees and Dodgers come to grips one more in that peaceful little valley known as Ebbets Field:

North Carolina vs. Texas—Stirnweiss, the old North Carolina flash, single on the first pitch of the game. Bases loaded and nobody out. Stirnweiss forced in with the first run. What! Double Play! Walt Pupa and Bobby Layne can throw, too. One uncertain vote for Texas.

Notre Dame vs. Pittsburgh—Can the Dodgers get that run back? Can the Irish go through another season undefeated? They've got the material. A confident ballot for Notre Dame.

Stanford vs. Michigan—Who said the Dodgers had the edge on base running? Those Michigan backs are pretty good runners, too. One big vote for Michigan.

Georgia Tech vs. Tulane—Three up and three down for the Dodgers. That's the way Georgia Tech took care of Tennessee last week. Georgia Tech.

UCLA vs. Northwestern—Robinson won the race to the bag to rob Berra of a hit. If he were playing with UCLA again he'd be on the winning side tomorrow. A hatful of votes for UCLA.

Army vs. Colorado—DiMaggio is trying to score on Edwards' overthrow of first. He's out at home, by a mile. The Cadets are at home and should squeeze through.

Illinois vs. Iowa—Johnson tripled, Lindell doubled and it's another Yankee run. No other choice but Illinois.

Columbia vs. Navy—The Dodgers have two runners in scoring position. One run comes home. That's all. Columbia may find it tough to score, too. Navy.

Rice vs. Southern California—Seven innings gone and Bevens hasn't yielded a hit yet. A shaky vote for Rice.

Oregon State vs. Washington—Wow! The roof just fell in on Bevens, an Oregon boy. That should be convincing. Washington.

Fate Took Record From Floyd Bevens

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 3 (AP)—Floyd Beven's eyes were vacant of expression as he fumbled along in changing from his uniform to street attire in the Yankee dressing room after his defeat in the fourth game of the World Series today.

The big right hander, who was one out away from tossing the first no-hitter in World Series annals, groped for words as reporters, feeling his remorse, slowly asked questions.

Asked what kind of a ball Cookie Lavagetto of the Dodgers hit for his game winning double in the ninth, Bevens replied: "a high fast ball, a little on the outside."

Later, while sipping a bottle of beer, Bevens shook his head when he was reminded that he set a new series record by walking ten batters.

"Everytime you walk somebody, you'll get into trouble. A walk counts as much as a hit," he added.

LAVAGETTO'S DOUBLE BEATS YANKEES—This is the general scene as Dodgers Pinch-hitter Cookie Lavagetto, with two out and one strike on him, smacked a vicious double off the right field wall to drive in the tying and winning runs in the ninth inning of the fourth World Seres game at Ebbets Field yesterday. At the crack of the bat, Al Gionfriddo heads for third base with tying run and Eddie Miksis dashes to second with winning tally. It was probably the most dramatic finish in the 44-year history of the classic and the 3-2 victory enabled the Dodgers to tie the Yankees at two wins apiece. Lavagetto's hit spoiled a no-hit game for Yankee pitcher Floyd Bevens.

PETERSBURG, W. Petersburg scored its long touchdown in the third period and Moorefield added its fourth in the final period.

Moorefield scored in the first four minutes of the game after returning it to the Petersburg 45 yard line. With G. Hott and Harman carrying the ball Moorefield made a first down on the 9 and then J. Vance passed to Welton in the end zone for the first touchdown and G. Hott picked the extra point.

The next score came after Wendell Hott intercepted a pass on the Petersburg 26. A Moorefield pass failed and then G. Hott went off tackle for 26 yards and a touchdown. He kicked the extra point. The third score of the quarter game when J. Sherman, Moorefield's right tackle, intercepted a partially blocked pass on the 21. Harman picked up seven yards and then G. Hott carried the ball to the 9 where J. Vance again passed to Welton for the touchdown.

Midway in the third quarter Moorefield was on the Petersburg 39, with fourth down and four to go when C. Vance intercepted Hartman's pass in the flat and raced 61 yards for a touchdown for the outstanding play of the game.

Moorefield's final score came in the fourth quarter, when a punt was returned to the 7 and on the next play J. Vance cut off tackle to score standing up.

Amvets And Hyndman Will Decide Bi-State League Title On Sunday

Poffenberger And Clapper Will Pitch

Cumberland's Amvets and Hyndman's Firemen will decide Sunday, weather permitting, the championship of the Bi-State Baseball League when they hook up at Community Park in the third and deciding game of the series. Game time is 3 p. m.

Norm Gerdeman, Amvets manager, announced last night that "Boots" Poffenberger, ex-big league bad boy, will hurl for the Amvets and that Paul Clapper, Hyndman pitching artist, will toe the mound for the Firemen.

Poffenberger and Clapper locked horns last week at Hyndman and the Amvets came out on top of a 3-1 score to tie the series at one game apiece. Hyndman won the opener by the lopsided score of 22-7.

George H. Layman, Shaft, umpire in chief of the Bi-State League, last night announced the umpires for Sunday's game. Ed Thompson, Lonaconing, will call balls and strikes, Stanley Davis, Barton, will be at first and Cecil Warnick, Cresap Park, at third.

The series to date has proved an excellent drawing card for semi-pro ball in this section, with some 6,000 persons having witnessed the first two games.

Tickets for Sunday's contest are on sale at Wilson Hardware Store, the Cadillac Cocktail Lounge and the Amvets home, and Gerdeman said last night that the advance sale points to another big crowd Sunday.

Gerdeman will put the Amvets through a practice session at 11 o'clock this morning at Community Park.

Inning by inning score of the World Series will be announced over the public address system during the game.

Citizens Want Cookie Made Deputy Mayor

Mayor William O'Dwyer, among those who saw the pinch-hitting Lavagetto slam the ninth-inning double which won today's world series tilt for the Dodgers, hardly had returned to his office when the telephone began to ring.

It was Brooklyn calling. Citizen by citizen insisted that very little, if anything, was too good for Lavagetto. Make him "Deputy Mayor," they said, or at least a "Commissioner."

Replied the Mayor: "He deserves anything he wants."

Keyser Trounces Thomas In First Conference Game

THOMAS, W. Va., Oct. 3—Keyser's Golden Tornado trounced a hapless Thomas High eleven 45-0 in the Black and Gold's first Potomac Valley Conference contest here this afternoon.

Using substitutes almost exclusively in the second half, the Keyser eleven pushed across five touchdowns in the last half after taking a 12-0 lead in the first quarter.

Operating entirely on the ground, the Tornado moved ruthlessly making long runs and twice in the last half intercepted Thomas passes which were converted into touchdowns.

Charles Emery, left halfback, made the longest run of the game when he crashed through the line and galloped 50 yards across the goal to score in the last half.

Sharing in the scoring honors were Stitzer, the Emery brothers, Calhoun, Thrush, Adams and Raines. The reserves, who played the entire last quarter, scored 20 points against a tired Thomas eleven.

Notre Dame Will Open Season At Pittsburgh Today

North Carolina-Texas Game Draws Attention

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(AP)—Unmindful of the important doings in the baseball world, college football crowds into the sports picture again tomorrow with some of the nation's potential powers getting their new uniforms dirty for the first time this season.

Such standouts as Notre Dame, pre-season favorite to repeat as the country's best, and Pennsylvania, top choice in the Ivy League, open against underdog opponents while untried former powers like Colgate and Princeton get their initial test.

Although intersectional struggles highlight the day's program for the second straight week, the schedule also calls for important conference clashes in all the major collegiate leagues.

Notre Dame, rich in talent and experience, invades Pittsburgh to open its bid for another unbeaten season against a Panther club that held Illinois' Big Nine Champions to two touchdowns.

Pennsylvania warms up at home against Lafayette for its entrance into Ivy League competition, while league games tomorrow send Cornell to Yale and Brown to Princeton.

Army, safely over the first hurdle, stakes its long record against an intersectional invader, Colorado. Columbia, also a winner in its opener, goes to Navy to meet a Middie crew that bowed to California.

Elsewhere in the East it will be Boston University at Harvard, Colgate at Kings point, Dartmouth at Syracuse, Bucknell at Penn state and Temple at Holy Cross.

Two intersectional contests in the Midwest, keeping the Pacific Coast-Big Nine feud alive, find Stanford at Michigan and UCLA at Northwestern. Illinois will be at Iowa, Ohio State at Purdue and Wisconsin at Indiana, meanwhile, for big nine engagements.

Mississippi State goes to Michigan State for another intersectional bout and Iowa State and Kansas open the Big Six slate at Lawrence.

One of the best games of the day promises to be the tussle between North Carolina and Texas in the Lone Star State. A trio of Southeastern Conference tests which may have a bearing on the final outcome of that loop's race take Louisiana State to Georgia, Georgia Tech to Tulane and Alabama to Vanderbilt.

In the Southern Conference it will be Wake Forest at Clemson, George Washington at Virginia Military and the Citadel at William and Mary, while other Dixie highlights find Duke at Tennessee, Louisiana Tech at Auburn, Kentucky at Xavier, and South Carolina vs. Mississippi at Memphis.

By BOB CONSIDINE

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 3 (INS)—This mad, monstrous World Series of 1947 reached one of the greatests crests in baseball history today when pinch-hitter Cookie Lavagetto broke up a no-hit game with a double in the ninth inning that gave the Dodgers a still incredible 3 to 2 victory over the Yankees.

It was a feat that couldn't happen even in Brooklyn.

But it did! And the stands went more raving mad than any crowd in this reporter's memory.

Floyd Bevens, a lame-armed Yankee pitcher who had been able to win only seven games this season, was in there—full of sweat and hope—on the verge of becoming the first pitcher in the annals of the World Series to hurl a no-hitter.

He had just established another record. With two outs in the ninth inning he walked his tenth Dodger, a mark for scatter-shot throwing that cracked the old record of nine set in the 1910 World Series by Jack Coombs, of the Athletics.

Lavagetto Comes Through

The Yanks were leading 2-1. The game was in the bag, and the pall in the Ebbets Field stands was thick and goey. Sure, Carl Furillo had walked with one out, and with two away Gionfriddo, running for him had spectacularly stolen second.

Now Pete Reiser, accompanied by his swollen ankle, was purposely passed—after the stolen base had opened first base. Burt Shotton removed Reiser from the game, and replaced him with a faster runner, Eddie Miksis on first.

Then Shotton sent in Lavagetto, an elderly, pre-Pearl Harbor Dodger who could hit only .261 in his infrequent appearances in the game this year.

Bevens, wringing with sweat and with a foot thrust solidly in the door of baseball's hall of fame, burned a savage strike across the plate and Lavagetto missed it by a full foot as he swung bloodthirstily.

Bevens uncorked another one—harder, if possible. Lavagetto swung, and to the utter horror of the Yankees and the heart-stopping surprise of the partisan audience of 33,443 the ball shot out to deep right field on a low, whistling line.

There were actual screams of dismay from the mob as Tommy Henrich, Yankee rightfielder, backed up to the wall.

All afternoon he and other Yankee outfielders had been clambering up those walls and pulling down what seemed to be sure Dodger hits.

But Lavagetto's ball kept going—a few excruciating inches above the clutching hands of Henrich for a double. It struck the wall with a thumping wallop and Gionfriddo and Miksis—running like terrified deer—sped for home and a victory that will be remembered and relished in Brooklyn as long as there is a Brooklyn.

And that's how the Dodgers tied up the series at two games each, ready to come back into Ebbets Field tomorrow to snag number three.

Crowd Goes Wild

The crowd plunged out of the lower stands like a flood that has broken its dam, and amid the wildest banshee yells it threw itself against the Dodger players, who in turn were pummeling Lavagetto black and blue.

Grown men actually turned somersaults on the infield in an hour of frenzy hardly paralleled in baseball.

A young fan snatched Lavagetto's cap, to enshrine it, and guards chased him wildly across the infield as he fled.

The stands remained filled long after their accustomed time . . . filled with Brooklyn fans who still couldn't believe the miracle, but knew only that it had happened—and right in front of their eyes.

Manager Shotton And Players Kiss Cookie Lavagetto In Celebration

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 3. (AP)—Hal Gregg was explaining in a sad, professional sort of way what it was that Bill Bevens had.

"His curve ball breaks like a slider," he was saying as he shaved. "He keeps it outside and he keeps his fast ball inside, way inside."

Harry Taylor, who put the Dodgers in quite a spot in the first inning, lay face down on a bench. There was hardly anyone in the Dodger dressing room because the big celebration was going to come over in the Yankee rooms when Bevens came in with a no-hitter.

The loudspeaker said Cookie Lavagetto was going to bat for Eddie Stanky.

"Yeah, I guess that's all right," someone said.

Then a roar started, growing in volume, reaching an air-splitting crescendo.

The words, "tying run . . . winning run" came out of it. The door burst open and players started running in, screaming and cheering.

Cookie Lavagetto came pushing and shoving along, a wide, intense smile on his face, his black hair falling down on his forehead.

Men threw their arms around him and kissed him. He couldn't say anything. All he could do was grin the widest and most complete of all grins.

He was hoisted on Branca's shoulders, with everyone helping. They bounced him up and down. Manager Burt Shotton kissed him.

"It was a high fast one, and I think it was over the plate, but I'm not sure," he said.

FIRST INNING

Yankees—Stirnweiss smacked the first pitch for a single. Hal Gregg immediately began warming up in the Dodger bullpen. Henrich lined into centerfield for a single, Stirnweiss stopping at second. Berra grounded sharply to Robinson who threw to Reese covering second in an attempted force play but Reese dropped the ball for an error and all hands were safe. DiMaggio walked on four straight pitches, Stirnweiss crossing the plate as the bases remained loaded. That was all for Taylor and Hal Gregg, another righthander, replaced him on the mound. DiMaggio was credited with a run batted in. McQuinn popped high to Reese at shortstop, the runners holding their bases. Behrman now warming up in the Dodger bullpen. Johnson rapped into a lightning double play, Reese to Stanky to Robinson. The ball was hit directly at Reese who grabbed it, flipped it to Stanky forcing DiMaggio and Stanky, caught Johnson by three strides.

Dodgers—Stanky walked. On a hit and run play, Reese rapped through the box but Stirnweiss made a stop behind second base and threw to first to get the hitter as Stanky slid safely into second. Johnson slipped fielding Robinson's bounding ball, but recovered in time and threw him out at first as Stanky held second. After throwing a strike, Bevens walked Walker with four straight balls. Hermanski fouled out to Johnson.

No runs, no hits, no errors, two left.

SECOND INNING

Yankees — Reese backed up for Lindell's hopper and threw him out at first. Rizzuto rapped a single out into left field. On the third pitch to Bevens, Rizzuto stole second, sliding in ahead of the low throw which bounced off of Reese's glove into centerfield. Bevens lined the next pitch to Furillo in right-center field, Rizzuto holding second. Stirnweiss went down swinging.

Brooklyn — Edwards struck out. Furillo was an easy out, Rizzuto to McQuinn. Jorgensen walked on a three and two pitch. Gregg struck out on three pitches.

THIRD INNING

Yankees — Gregg needed only three pitches to strike out Henrich. Robinson grabbed Berra's grounder in back of first and barely beat the runner to the bag for the unassisted putout. DiMaggio walked for the second straight time. DiMaggio had to slide in on his stomach to avoid being nipped off first by a quick peg from Gregg. McQuinn topped a roller in front of the plate for a hit and when Edwards threw wild to first McQuinn raced to second on the error and DiMaggio, who had raced to third, tried to score but Walker retrieved the ball in right field and fired a throw to Edwards at the plate who tagged DiMaggio standing up fully 5 feet from home. No runs, one hit, one error, one left.

FOURTH INNING

Yankees — Johnson smashed a triple into the deepest centerfield corner, 400 feet away. Lindell doubled in right-center scoring Johnson. Rizzuto reached for an outside pitch and bounced to Robinson who made the putout unassisted as Lindell moved to third. Reese fumbled Bevens' sharp grounder, recovered in time to throw him out as Lindell held third. Stirnweiss was called out on strikes.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Dodgers — DiMaggio raced far back to deep centerfield to catch Hermanski's long smash. DiMaggio apparently twisted his right ankle and time was called as the Yankee trainer trotted out to examine the centerfielder. DiMaggio appeared unhurt and play was resumed. Edwards was called out on strikes. Furillo fouled to Berra behind the plate.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING

Yankees — Henrich grounded to Reese who threw him out on a close play. Stanky made a brilliant one-handed pickup to his left of Berra's savage drive and tossed him out. DiMaggio sent a high pop to Stanky who made the catch standing on second base.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Dodgers—Jorgensen walked. Gregg fouled off a pitch, then took four bad ones for a base on balls moving Jorgensen to second. Joe Page—lefthanded ace—and Dandy Gumpert, a righthander, started warming up in the Yankee bullpen. Stanky dropped a sacrifice bunt in front of the plate and was out, Berra to Stirnweiss who covered first with Jorgensen moving to third and Gregg to second. Reese bounced to Rizzuto who flipped to Johnson who tagged Gregg sliding into third. Jorgensen scored on the fielder's choice and Reese was safe at first. Reese was credited with a run batted in. Reese stole second and continued to third on Berra's wild throw which bounced off Rizzuto's glove and rolled into centerfield. Robinson went down swinging.

Yankees—McQuinn was called out on strikes. Hermanski raced in fast to gather in Johnson's fly. Lindell walked. Rizzuto lined to Furillo in dead center.

Dodgers — Walker walked. Hermanski popped to Stirnweiss who made the catch just inside the foul line behind first base. Edwards struck out for the third straight time. Furillo flied to Henrich in right.

SEVENTH INNING

Yankees — Bevens struck out. Stirnweiss walked on a three and two pitch. Henrich bounced to Gregg who started a double play, Gregg to Reese to Robinson.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Dodgers—Jorgensen lined to DiMaggio. Arky Vaughan, a lefthanded hitter was sent in to hit for Gregg. Vaughan walked. It was the eighth base on balls issued by Bevens, one short of the record nine given up by Jack Coombs of the Philadelphia Athletics in the 1910 world series. Stanky popped to Rizzuto behind second base. McQuinn made a fine stop of Reese's torrid smash along the first baseline and stepped on the bag for the unassisted putout.

EIGHTH INNING

Yankees — Hank Behrman, a righthander, now pitching for the Dodgers. Berra grounded sharply to Stanky who threw him out. Jorgensen fumbled DiMaggio's easy roller enabling Joe to reach first on the error. Hermanski raced over to left-center to haul in McQuinn's high fly. Jorgensen came in fast to scoop up Johnson's roller and threw him out.

Dodgers—Robinson smacked Bevens' first pitch directly to Johnson who threw him out. Walker tapped to Bevens who tossed him out at first. This enabled Bevens to tie Red Ruffing's World Series record of pitching 7 2-3 innings without allowing a hit. Ruffing accomplished the feat in the opening game of the 1942 series against the Cardinals. Henrich made a sensational catch of Hermanski's drive to retire the side and assist Bevens in creating a new World Series mark by pitching eight complete hitless innings.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING

Dodgers — Edwards cracked a pitch on a line into deep left field but Lindell backed up against the wall and hauled in the drive. Furillo walked, the pitch bouncing past Berra against the screen but Furillo was unable to pass first. This was Bevens' ninth walk to tie the record set by Coombs. Jorgensen fouled to McQuinn who made the catch near the first base field boxes. Reiser, lefthanded batter, pinchhit for Casey. Al Gionfriddo ran for Furillo. Gionfriddo lit out for second and slid in safely under Berra's high throw. It was a stolen base. Reiser was then given an intentional base on balls, the tenth walk by Bevens which set a new World Series mark. Ed Miksis ran for Reiser and Harry Lavagetto — a righthanded batter—was sent in to hit for Stanky. Lavagetto cracked a double over Henrich's head off the right field wall, the first hit of the game off Bevans scoring Gionfriddo and Miksis with the tying and winning runs. The Dodgers win 3 to 2.

inning Lavagetto wallops the Bums' only hit into the secret life of Walter Mitty on the right-field fence. Give Walter an assist on this play.

Bevins had himself a no-bopper until two outs in the ninth inning. Then the Flatbush witch doctors plastered a tribal whammy on him and there is now one laughing face on the gowanus totem pole.

This was really a baseball game and the Bums ran their string out to the last button. On Tuesday I said the series will not start until they reached Brooklyn. The Yanks over-reached it.

This is the first time in series history that a pitcher was knocked out with one hit. It proves that anything can happen in Brooklyn where murder is incorporated and screwballism is franchised. Where life preservers are lavalleres and where pals shake hands and then jump back and count their fingers.

The only thing I regret is Reiser was not playing center when Johnson tripled and Lindell doubled off the wall. Pete would have had two more lumps on his head for souvenirs. Sunday is Happy Chandler day at the Stadium. They are going to give him the other roller skate.

New Record Set

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 3 (AP) — Knight Dream, already hailed as the greatest two-year-old pacer of all time, scorched Lexington's "Red Mile" for a new world's juvenile pacing record of 2:00 2-5 Thursday.

The Rhode Island Rambler, owned by Percy and Jere Gray and Robert Armstrong, Providence, waited until the second heat of the two gaits farm stake, a $3,000 test, to improve the mark established over the same oval by Jimmy Creed in 1944. Jimmy Creed's record was 2:00 2/4.

FIRST INNING

Yankees—Stirweiss smacked the first pitch for a single. Hal Gregg immediately began warming up in the Dodger bullpen. Henrich lined into centerfield for a single, Stirnweiss stopping at second. Berra grounded sharply to Robinson who threw to Reese covering second in an attempted force play but Reese dropped the ball for an error and all hands were safe. DiMaggio walked on four straight pitches, Stirnweiss crossing the plate as the bases remained loaded. That was all for Taylor and Hal Gregg, another righthander, replaced him on the mound. DiMaggio was credited with a run batted in. McQuinn popped high to Reese at shortstop, the runners holding their bases. Behrman now warming up in the Dodger bullpen. Johnson rapped into a lightning double play, Reese to Stanky to Robinson. The ball was hit directly at Reese who grabbed it, flipped it to Stanky forcing DiMaggio and Stanky, caught Johnson by three strides.

Dodgers—Stanky walked. On a hit and run play, Reese rapped through the box but Stirnweiss made a stop behind second base and threw to first to get the hitter as Stanky slid safely into second. Johnson slipped fielding Robinson's bounding ball, but recovered in time and threw him out at first as Stanky held second. After throwing a strike, Bevens walked Walker with four straight balls. Hermanski fouled out to Johnson.

No runs, no hits, no errors, two left.

SECOND INNING

Yankees — Reese backed up for Lindell's hopper and threw him out at first. Rizzuto rapped a single out into left field. On the third pitch to Bevens, Rizzuto stole second, sliding in ahead of the low throw which bounced off of Reese's glove into centerfield. Bevens lined the next pitch to Furillo in right-center field, Rizzuto holding second. Stirnweiss went down swinging.

Brooklyn — Edwards struck out. Furillo was an easy out, Rizzuto to McQuinn. Jorgensen walked on a three and two pitch. Gregg struck out on three pitches.

THIRD INNING

Yankees — Gregg needed only three pitches to strike out Henrich. Robinson grabbed Berra's grounder in back of first and barely beat the runner to the bag for the unassisted putout. DiMaggio walked for the second straight time. DiMaggio had to slide in on his stomach to avoid being nipped off first by a quick peg from Gregg. McQuinn topped a roller in front of the plate for a hit and when Edwards threw wild to first McQuinn raced to second on the error and DiMaggio, who had raced to third, tried to score but Walker retrieved the ball in right field and fired a throw to Edwards at the plate who tagged DiMaggio standing up fully 5 feet from home. No runs, one hit, one error, one left.

FOURTH INNING

Yankees — Johnson smashed a triple into the deepest centerfield corner, 400 feet away. Lindell doubled in right-center scoring Johnson. Rizzuto reached for an outside pitch and bounced to Robinson who made the putout unassisted as Lindell moved to third. Reese fumbled Bevens' sharp grounder, recovered in time to throw him out as Lindell held third. Stirnweiss was called out on strikes.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Dodgers — DiMaggio raced far back to deep centerfield to catch Hermanski's long smash. DiMaggio apparently twisted his right ankle and time was called as the Yankee trainer trotted out to examine the centerfielder. DiMaggio appeared unhurt and play was resumed. Edwards was called out on strikes. Furillo fouled to Berra behind the plate.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING

Yankees — Henrich grounded to Reese who threw him out on a close play. Stanky made a brilliant one-handed pickup to his left of Berra's savage drive and tossed him out. DiMaggio sent a high pop to Stanky who made the catch standing on second base.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Dodgers—Jorgensen walked. Gregg fouled off a pitch, then took four bad ones for a base on balls moving Jorgensen to second. Joe Page—lefthanded ace—and Dandy Gumpert, a righthander, started warming up in the Yankee bullpen. Stanky dropped a sacrifice bunt in front of the plate and was out, Berra to Stirnweiss who covered first with Jorgensen moving to third and Gregg to second. Reese bounced to Rizzuto who flipped to Johnson who tagged Gregg sliding into third. Jorgensen scored on the fielder's choice and Reese was safe at first. Reese was credited with a run batted in. Reese stole second and continued to third on Berra's wild throw which bounced off Rizzuto's glove and rolled into centerfield Robinson went down swinging.

Yankees—McQuinn was called out on strikes. Hermanski raced in fast to gather in Johnson's fly. Lindell walked. Rizzuto lined to Furillo in dead center.

Dodgers — Walker walked. Hermanski popped to Stirnweiss who made the catch just inside the foul line behind first base. Edwards struck out for the third straight time. Furillo flied to Henrich in right.

SEVENTH INNING

Yankees — Bevens struck out. Stirnweiss walked on a three and two pitch. Henrich bounced to Gregg who started a double play, Gregg to Reese to Robinson.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Dodgers—Jorgensen lined to DiMaggio. Arky Vaughan, a lefthanded hitter was sent in to hit for Gregg. Vaughan walked. It was the eighth base on balls issued by Bevens, one short of the record nine given up by Jack Coombs of the Philadelphia Athletics in the 1910 world series. Stanky popped to Rizzuto behind second base. McQuinn made a fine stop of Reese's torrid smash along the first baseline and stepped on the bag for the unassisted putout.

EIGHTH INNING

Yankees — Hank Behrman, a righthander, now pitching for the Dodgers. Berra grounded sharply to Stanky who threw him out. Jorgensen fumbled DiMaggio's easy roller enabling Joe to reach first on the error. Hermanski raced over to left-center to haul in McQuinn's high fly. Jorgensen came in fast to scoop up Johnson's roller and threw him out.

Dodgers—Robinson smacked Bevens' first pitch directly to Johnson who threw him out. Walker tapped to Bevens who tossed him out at first. This enabled Bevens to tie Red Ruffing's World Series record of pitching 7 2-3 innings without allowing a hit. Ruffing accomplished the feat in the opening game of the 1942 series against the Cardinals. Henrich made a sensational catch of Hermanski's drive to retire the side and assist Bevens in creating a new World Series mark by pitching eight complete hitless innings.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING

Dodgers — Edwards cracked a pitch on a line into deep left field but Lindell backed up against the wall and hauled in the drive. Furillo walked, the pitch bouncing past Berra against the screen but Furillo was unable to pass first. This was Bevens' ninth walk to tie the record set by Coombs. Jorgensen fouled to McQuinn who made the catch near the first base field boxes. Reiser, lefthanded batter, pinchhit for Casey. Al Gionfriddo ran for Furillo. Gionfriddo lit out for second and slid in safely under Berra's high throw. It was a stolen base. Reiser was then given an intentional base on balls, the tenth walk by Bevens which set a new World Series mark. Ed Miksis ran for Reiser and Harry Lavagetto — a righthanded batter—was sent in to hit for Stanky. Lavagetto cracked a double over Henrich's head off the right field wall, the first hit of the game off Bevans scoring Gionfriddo and Miksis with the tying and winning runs. The Dodgers win 3 to 2.

inning Lavagetto wallops the Bums' only hit into the secret life of Walter Mitty on the right-field fence. Give Walter an assist on this play.

Bevins had himself a no-bopper until two outs in the ninth inning. Then the Flatbush witch doctors plastered a tribal whammy on him and there is now one laughing face on the gowanus totem pole.

This was really a baseball game and the Bums ran their string out to the last button. On Tuesday I said the series will not start until they reached Brooklyn. The Yanks over-reached it.

This is the first time in series history that a pitcher was knocked out with one hit. It proves that anything can happen in Brooklyn where murder is incorporated and screwballism is franchised. Where life preservers are lavalieres and where pals shake hands and then jump back and count their fingers.

The only thing I regret is Reiser was not playing center when Johnson tripled and Lindell doubled off the wall. Pete would have had two more lumps on his head for souvenirs. Sunday is Happy Chandler day at the Stadium. They are going to give him the other roller skate.

New Record Set

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 3 (AP) — Knight Dream, already hailed as the greatest two-year-old pacer of all time, scorched Lexington's "Red Mile" for a new world's juvenile pacing record of 2:00 2-5 Thursday.

The Rhode Island Rambler, owned by Percy and Jere Gray and Robert Armstrong, Providence, waited until the second heat of the two gaits farm stake, a $3,000 test, to improve the mark established over the same oval by Jimmy Creed in 1944. Jimmy Creed's record was 2:00 2/4.

Frostburg Hall Being Remodeled For Armory Use

National Guard Unit Seeks New Members

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—A temporary armory is being prepared in St. Michael's Hall, First Street, for the use of Company D, First Battalion, 115th Regiment, Maryland National Guard, which was organized here July 16 for the Frostburg and Georges Creek Area.

Work of remodeling the building, under specified federal regulations, started two weeks ago. Four state engineers are working under the direction of Maj. Chester B. Simmons, state engineer for construction of military installations.

The basement of the hall has already been converted into a supply room, a locker room with steel clothing lockers, a shower room and toilets. The walls are concrete and the partitions are built of concrete blocks with steel doors. The windows are protected by iron bars to afford a maximum of safety for equipment of the unit.

The main floor of the building will be equipped with sturdy new doors and the rooms will be divided into two parts, the dance hall for drill purposes and the smaller room at the left of the entrance for an office and orderly room.

The unit, consisting of 14 enlisted men and two commissioned officers, has already made application for federal recognition which may be granted when the numerical strength is increased to 19 men and two commissioned officers.

Capt. Reeves stated that an effort will be made, with the assistance of citizens of Frostburg and vicinity, to add 19 men every 90 days until the peacetime strength of 134 men is obtained. This may mean, he said, a new armory in Frostburg for the use of the Georges Creek area.

The enlisted men comprising the unit to date are Mayford Barry, Oliver W. Downton and Robert M. Andres, all of Eckhart; Earl C. Davis, Consolidation Village; James O. Smith, William R. Jones, F. J. Alen, J. O. Miller, J. L Catherman, Joseph Davis, T. J. Kight, Harry Hitchins, James Barthol Miller, James McAlpine and Francis D. Miller, all of Frostburg.

William D. Shriner, Frostburg; George E. Bennett, Mt. Savage; George T. Hess, Eckhart; John B. Blake and Paul C. Nickel, Frostburg; Leo Cavey, Borden Shaft; Kenneth Lowery, Frostburg; Lloyd S. McNeill, Cumberland; Edward Graney, Cumberland, and William J. Cathcart and Milton Pfaff, Frostburg.

The age for admittance is from 17 to 35 years regardless of previous military experience. Drills, for which the men will be paid according to their rank, will be held every Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. A recruiting detail will be present each drill night to receive application of recruits.

Improved Water Supply For Oakland Considered By Consulting Engineer

Recommendations To Be Made Soon

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND — A survey of the possibilities of an improved water supply for Oakland was undertaken this week but definite recommendations will not be forthcoming until the water engineer has had time to study the data acquired in his inspection trip, it was learned from Mayor A. G. Hesen.

D. E. Davis, Chester Engineers, Pittsburgh, and the Water Committee of the Oakland City Council made a trip over the area which included an inspection of Herrington Manor Lake, the Youghiogheny River, both at the Power House at Sines and nearer Oakland; the Little Youghiogheny River, Landon's dam near Mt. Lake Park from which the latter town gets its water supply; Broadford, King's Run, Wilson Creek and the present water farm just west of town.

While not definitely committing himself, Davis termed it inadvisable to drill any more wells in the water farm area for fear of draining the present supply, and he termed the Mt. Lake Park water supply too limited for both towns. He pointed out to Mayor Hesen and other members of the committee that at present prices it would cost from $20,000 to $28,000 per mile to lay 8 or 10 inch pipe from any source. Other members of the committee on the inspection trip were Earl Shartzer, Edward Schmidt and Harry L. Stemple.

Davis, who was in Oakland 10 years ago when he supervised the erection of the town's second reservoir, said he was surprised at the growth of Oakland, and declared that the water situation was a serious one over the entire country.

He told committee members there appeared to be more water in the Broadford area than any other place inspected. A detailed report with recommendations will be made soon, it was stated.

The water situation in Oakland remains serious but there was a slight gain in the reserve supply in the two reservoirs above the fire level.

Frostburg Hall Being Remodeled For Armory Use

National Guard Unit Seeks New Members

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—A temporary armory is being prepared in St. Michael's Hall, First Street, for the use of Company D, First Battalion, 115th Regiment, Maryland National Guard, which was organized here July 16 for the Frostburg and Georges Creek Area.

Work of remodeling the building, under specified federal regulations, started two weeks ago. Four state engineers are working under the direction of Maj. Chester B. Simmons, state engineer for construction of military installations.

The basement of the hall has already been converted into a supply room, a locker room with steel clothing lockers, a shower room and toilets. The walls are concrete and the partitions are built of concrete blocks with steel doors. The windows are protected by iron bars to afford a maximum of safety for equipment of the unit.

The main floor of the building will be equipped with sturdy new doors and the rooms will be divided into two parts, the dance hall for drill purposes and the smaller room at the left of the entrance for an office and orderly room.

The unit, consisting of 14 enlisted men and two commissioned officers, has already made application for federal recognition which may be granted when the numerical strength is increased to 19 men and two commissioned officers.

Capt. Reeves stated that an effort will be made, with the assistance of citizens of Frostburg and vicinity, to add 19 men every 90 days until the peacetime strength of 134 men is obtained. This may mean, he said, a new armory in Frostburg for the use of the Georges Creek area.

The enlisted men comprising the unit to date are Mayford Barry, Oliver W. Downton and Robert M. Andres, all of Eckhart; Earl C. Davis, Consolidation Village; James O. Smith, William R. Jones, F. J. Alen, J. O. Miller, J. L. Catherman, Joseph Davis, T. J. Kight, Harry Hitchins, James Barthol Miller, James McAlpine and Francis D. Miller, all of Frostburg.

William D. Shriner, Frostburg; George E. Bennett, Mt. Savage; George T. Hess, Eckhart; John B. Blake and Paul C. Nickel, Frostburg; Leo Cavey, Borden Shaft; Kenneth Lowery, Frostburg; Lloyd S. McNeill, Cumberland; Edward Graney, Cumberland, and William J. Cathcart and Milton Pfaff, Frostburg.

The age for admittance is from 17 to 35 years regardless of previous military experience. Drills, for which the men will be paid according to their rank, will be held every Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. A recruiting detail will be present each drill night to receive application of recruits.

PSC Schedules Hearing At Keyser On Bayard's Proposed Water Rates

Raises Of $1 To $2 In Charges Sought

By MRS. JOSEPH H. TAYLOR

KEYSER, W. Va.—A hearing by the Public Service Commission of West Virginia has been scheduled in Mineral County Court October 11 on the application of Bayard Municipal Water Works to increase its rates in Bayard and vicinity.

The company which heretofore has been charging a flat $5 monthly rate, proposes a raise of $1 to domestic consumers and $2 to commercial consumers. It said needed replacements, reservoir repairs and increased wages to labor necessitated the new rates.

At the same time and place a hearing on the motion of C. G. Hathaway and others to compel the town of Rowlesburg to construct a pipeline to the Manheim Addition of the town will be held. The town contended in reply that cost of construction, shortage of material and an inadequate return on its investment prohibited it from making the addition.

Improved Water Supply For Oakland Considered By Consulting Engineer

Recommendations To Be Made Soon

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND — A survey of the possibilities of an improved water supply for Oakland was undertaken this week but definite recommendations will not be forthcoming until the water engineer has had time to study the data acquired in his inspection trip, it was learned from Mayor A. G. Hesen.

D. E. Davis, Chester Engineers, Pittsburgh, and the Water Committee of the Oakland City Council made a trip over the area which included an inspection of Herrington Manor Lake, the Youghiogheny River, both at the Power House at Sines and nearer Oakland; the Little Youghiogheny River, Landon's dam near Mt. Lake Park from which the latter town gets its water supply; Broadford, King's Run, Wilson Creek and the present water farm just west of town.

While not definitely committing himself, Davis termed it inadvisable to drill any more wells in the water farm area for fear of draining the present supply, and he termed the Mt. Lake Park water supply too limited for both towns. He pointed out to Mayor Hesen and other members of the committee that at present prices it would cost from $20,000 to $28,000 per mile to lay 8 or 10 inch pipe from any source. Other members of the committee on the inspection trip were Earl Shartzer, Edward Schmidt and Harry L. Stemple.

Davis, who was in Oakland 10 years ago when he supervised the erection of the town's second reservoir, said he was surprised at the growth of Oakland, and declared that the water situation was a serious one over the entire country.

He told committee members there appeared to be more water in the Broadford area than any other place inspected. A detailed report with recommendations will be made soon, it was stated.

The water situation in Oakland remains serious but there was a slight gain in the reserve supply in the two reservoirs above the fire level.

BEDFORD, Pa., Oct. 3—Bedford's Bisons trounced Roaring Spring here tonight by the tune of 26-0, with passes, long runs and line bucking accounting for the scoring.

Midway in the first quarter Naugle intercepted a Roaring Spring pass on the Bedford 48. Beegle and Hershberger hit the line four times for 19 yards and a 15 yard penalty took the Bisons to Springers' 18. Beegle went through right tackle for four yards and Williams ran around right end for 14 and the touchdown. His kick for the extra point was good.

With 15 seconds remaining in the first half, Bedford took the ball on downs on their own 47 and Williams, knocked out in the first period, returned to the game to toss a pass to Diehl on the Roaring Spring 20-yard stripe. He ran the rest of the distance for the score.

Line plays and a 13-yard pass took Bedford to the Roaring Spring 19 after the Bisons got possession of the ball on their own 43. Williams passed to Diehl for 13 yards, Beegle went through center for three, Hershberger through right tackle for two and a half and then Beegle pulled a quarterback sneak for the other half a yard and the counter. Williams' placement was good.

Bedford's last score came midway in the fourth period when they took over on their own 22 and proceeded to be set back to the 17 on a five-yard penalty. Williams passed 25 yards to Growden on the Bison 42 and he ran the 58 yards for the score. Lineups:

Battle To Draw

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (AP)—Rocco Rossano and Ruby Kessler, a couple of Brooklyn welterweights, battled to a draw in the feature 10-rounder at the St. Nicholas Aren , Rossano finishing strong to gain the tie. Rossano weighed 144 1-2, Kessler 143.

Supply Would

bushels of corn, rye and malt a month, he said.

Luckman said in a formal statement the industry is using very little wheat right now but "approximately 5,000,000 bushels of other grains per month."

Fenderson, speaking of the program of the institute distillers, said: "It doesn't hit the objective."

Meanwhile government officials and advisers sought ways to help feed Europe without further increases in prices at home.

As one step, President Truman's Committee on European Aid proposed requiring a down payment of one-third on grain bought on credit at the big grain markets.

That would about double the payment required at present prices. The grain exchanges have just put into operation a sliding scale that goes up every time prices advance 10 cents a bushel.

The 19-man committee is headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman. Made up of prominent businessmen, industrialists, economists and labor figures, it has been assigned the chore of appraising the bid of 16 Western European nations for $22,400,000,000 of outside help, mostly from this country, in the next four years.

Nourse Submits Report

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson has been trying to persuade the exchanges to boost requirements for cash payments on grain bought for future delivery. Harriman said his committee unanimously put its "full support" behind Anderson's efforts.

President Truman's regular Friday meeting with his Cabinet reportedly centered on European aid and what it might do to prices in this country. Edwin G. Nourse submitted a report to the meeting saying that the United States can meet Europe's needs for food and dollars and still avoid runaway inflation. Nourse is chairman of the president's Economic Advisory Council which drafted the report.

He told reporters that if the campaign now getting under way for voluntary saving of food is "skillfully manager," it can overcome the inflationary effect on prices of purchases of supplies for Europe. And he said he thought the drive would be handled with skill.

As he left the Cabinet meeting, Anderson told reporters he would "prefer to continue buying through the normal channels of grain trade" if prices would not soar too high.

Jury Ponders

who smiled wanly to her husky son when he turned in his chair and sought her out among the crowd.

Only once before had tears come into her eyes, but they flowed freely as Williams told the jury:

"I suggest to you that a man and woman old enough to be subject to the death penalty, who perpetrate a cold-blooded ruthless killing like this, for the safety of society should be put out of the way.

He would be subject to execution in the state's gas chamber if convicted of first degree murder, without a recommendation for leniency from the jury.

The maximum penalty for Beulah would be life imprisonment, as she was only 17 at the time her parents died on their blasted yacht in Newport harbor last March 15.

Columbia Lions Meet Navy Today

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 3 (AP) — Eastern football fans will get their first look at the 1947 edition of Navy tomorrow when the once-defeated Middies take on a powerhouse club from Columbia University at Thompson Stadium.

The midshipmen, who trained on the Pacific coast a month then lost their opener to California, aren't downhearted about the loss and a close battle is expected with the Columbia Lions.

Columbia, featuring a potent offensive that is well known to Navy, ran up 40 points on Rutgers last week, although displaying some pass defense weakness as the Scarlet tallied 28 points. Last year, Columbia scored two touchdowns and a field goal to beat Navy, 23-14.

Capt. Tom Hamilton, Navy coach, has another of the strong lines which usually feature the Middies, bulwarked at center by Dick Scott, center and captain. Scott is a standout on pass defense and as a play analyst.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3 (AP) — Despite Brooklyn's second consecutive victory, the New York Yankees remain 1 to 2 favorites to win the World Series, Betting Commissioner James J. Carroll said today. He listed the Dodgers at 17 to 10.

With Frank Shea pitching in tomorrow's fifth game the Yankees are favored at 13 to 20, with the Dodgers carrying 13 to 10 odds if Vic Lombardi is on the mound.

Officials estimated the Northlands group at 2,500, but a military source declared, "I wouldn't be surprised if there were 3,500, the way they are packed."

"The Northlands is so packed we are unable to get into the holds, where there still are many sick people," he said. "We can't take some off, for that would keep them up all night and probably be worse than leaving them there."

Both ships, the source said, have refused additional supplies of food and water, although the Jewish Agency already had put fresh milk and fruit aboard the Paducah and planned the same for the Northlands.

Jim DeMaret Holds Reading Open Lead

READING, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—Scores soared today in the second round of the $10,000 Reading Open Golf Tournament, with smiling Jim Demaret skyrocketing to a 73 but nevertheless clinging to a two-stroke lead.

With a field of 104 testing the 6,379-yard Berkshire Country Club course, only four managed to better par 71 and many a card ranged up to 80.

Best round of the day was a sparkling 67 by Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich., giving him a 140-total and tie for second place with amateur Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, who added par 71 to his 69 of yesterday.

Three other veterans crowded into the fourth place tie, a shot further back. Chunky Ed Oliver, Wilmington, Del., hit 71 today for his 141 total, equalled by Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, and E. J. Dutch Harrison, York, Pa., both 72 shooters today.

It took a score of 153 or better today to qualify for the final rounds Saturday and Sunday. With 10 amateurs included, the field for the home stretch rush totaled 68.

Bewitch Favored To Cop Futurity

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Spacious Belmont Park is likely to prove inadequate to accommodate all the racing fans who want to see tomorrow's rich Futurity, the Jockey Club Gold Cup and six other events.

It requires a mathematical wizard to figure out the value of the $50,000 added Futurity, which attracted 15 stars of the juvenile ranks, but press box statisticians today came up with a gross of $107,230.

They arrive at $79,030 as the net value to the winner should a colt score, and $78,830 in the event a filly wins, as it costs $200 more for a member of the weaker sex to be eligible under the complicated conditions.

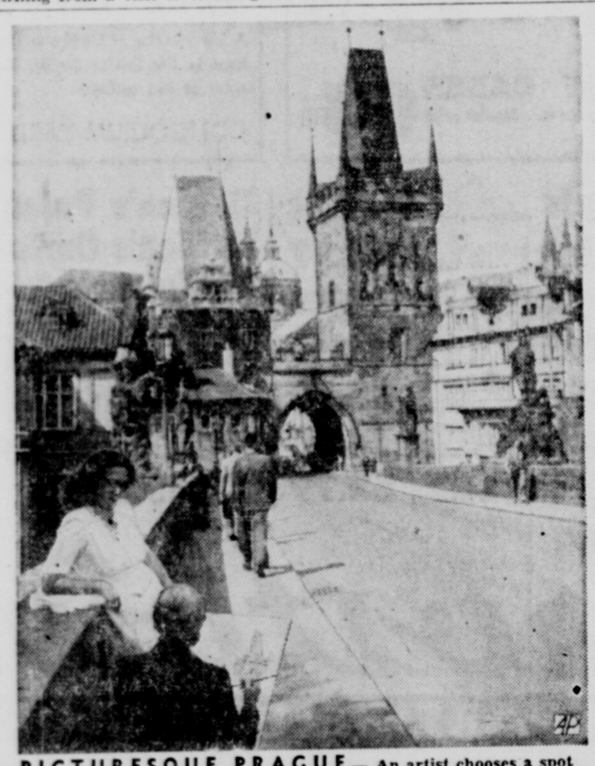

And there's a strong chance that the winner will be a filly—Warren Wright's Bewitch, whose unbeaten record of eight straight was ended here last Saturday when, after finishing first in the Matron Stakes, the glamor gal was disqualified for bothering Ghost Run.

Bewitch has earned $206,875 and tomorrow can become the greatest money-winning juvenile filly in turf history, a mark now held by C. V Whitney's Top Flight. The latter gleaned $219,000 in 1931.

Bewitch will have a very capable running mate in the noted colt Citation, which starred in Chicago and won his lone start here.

Bond forfeitures yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court resulting from the Maryland State Police drive to curb hazerodus driving on Route 220 between Cumberland and Cresaptown amounted to $32.20 when five of the six motorists failed to appear for hearings.

Forfeiting $6.45 each were Chester V. Wilson, Route 5; Roy C. Weimer, 1906 Bedford Street; Richard G. Garlitz, Route 2, Grantsville, and W. F. Buckner, Springdale, N. C.

William Buzzard, Bedford, Pa., forfeited $11.45 and John Newcomer, 215 Virginia Avenue, was fined $6.45. All were charged with exceeding 30 miles an hour.

PRIEST SAYS DUROCHER AND GRAZIANO SHOULD BE OUT OF SPORTS

BOSTON, Oct. 3 (AP) — The Right Rev. Joseph A. McCaffrey, chaplain of the New York Police Department and archdiocesan director of the Holy Name Society in New York City, said today Leo Durocher and Rocky Graziano should be "banned forever from sports."

Attending the fourth annual convention of the society, Monsignor McCaffrey said in an interview that the former Brooklyn manager and the middleweight champion "have no right to be in the world of sports where innocent kids are apt to place halos around their heads, and even worse, try to imitate them."

Of Graziano the Priest said: "I'm shocked because he was allowed to carry on so long, even until he won the championship before the general public became aware of the type person he evidently is. x x x To me what adds a particularly sour note is that he defeated a fine citizen like Tony Zale for the title."

Graziano has been banned from fighting in New York and Illinois. Earlier this week, the Illinois Athletic Commission said it had accepted the War Department's record of Pvt. Rocco Barbella as that of Graziano, and that the fighter had been dishonorably discharged from the Army for being absent without leave in 1942.

Iturbi's late daughter, Maria Iturbi Hero, won custody of the children after she and Hero were divorced. She killed herself in Iturbi's Beverly Hills, Cal., home on April 17, 1946.

bushels of corn, rye and malt a month, he said.

Luckman said in a formal statement the industry is using very little wheat right now but "approximately 5,000,000 bushels of other grains per month."

Fenderson, speaking of the program of the institute distillers, said: "It doesn't hit the objective."

As one step, President Truman's Committee on European Aid proposed requiring a down payment of one-third on grain bought on credit at the big grain markets.

That would about double the payment required at present prices. The grain exchanges have just put into operation a sliding scale that goes up every time prices advance 10 cents a bushel.

The 19-man committee is headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman. Made up of prominent businessmen, industrialists, economists and labor figures, it has been assigned the chore of appraising the bid of 16 Western European nations for $22,400,000,000 of outside help, mostly from this country, in the next four years.

Nourse Submits Report

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson has been trying to persuade the exchanges to boost requirements for cash payments on grain bought for future delivery. Harriman said his committee unanimously put its "full support" behind Anderson's efforts.

President Truman's regular Friday meeting with his Cabinet reportedly centered on European aid and what it might do to prices in this country. Edwin G. Nourse submitted a report to the meeting saying that the United States can meet Europe's needs for food and dollars and still avoid runaway inflation. Nourse is chairman of the president's Economic Advisory Council which drafted the report.

He told reporters that if the campaign now getting under way for voluntary saving of food is "skillfully manager," it can overcome the inflationary effect on prices of purchases of supplies for Europe. And he said he thought the drive would be handled with skill.

As he left the Cabinet meeting, Anderson told reporters he would "prefer to continue buying through the normal channels of grain trade" if prices would not soar too high.

who smiled wanly to her husky son when he turned in his chair and sought her out among the crowd.

Only once before had tears come into her eyes, but they flowed freely as Williams told the jury:

"I suggest to you that a man and woman old enough to be subject to the death penalty, who perpetrate a cold-blooded ruthless killing like this, for the safety of society should be put out of the way.

Gollum rocked back and forth in his chair as Williams' words rang out in the packed courtroom.

He would be subject to execution in the state's gas chamber if convicted of first degree murder, without a recommendation for leniency from the jury.

The maximum penalty for Beulah would be life imprisonment, as she was only 17 at the time her parents died on their blasted yacht in Newport harbor last March 15.

Columbia Lions Meet Navy Today

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 3 (AP) — Eastern football fans will get their first look at the 1947 edition of Navy tomorrow when the once-defeated Middies take on a powerhouse club from Columbia University at Thompson Stadium.

The midshipmen, who trained on the Pacific coast a month then lost their opener to California, aren't downhearted about the loss and a close battle is expected with the Columbia Lions.

Columbia, featuring a potent offensive that is well known to Navy, ran up 40 points on Rutgers last week, although displaying some pass defense weakness as the Scarlet tallied 28 points. Last year, Columbia scored two touchdowns and a field goal to beat Navy, 23-14.

The tilt will mark the 150th time that Coach Lou Little has sent a Columbia team into an intercollegiate game.

Capt. Tom Hamilton, Navy coach, has another of the strong lines which usually feature the Middies, bulwarked at center by Dick Scott, center and captain. Scott is a standout on pass defense and as a play analyst.

Officials estimated the Northlands group at 2,500, but a military source declared, "I wouldn't be surprised if there were 3,500, the way they are packed."

"The Northlands is so packed we are unable to get into the holds, where there still are many sick people," he said. "We can't take some off, for that would keep them up all night and probably be worse than leaving them there."

Both ships, the source said, have refused additional supplies of food and water, although the Jewish Agency already had put fresh milk and fruit aboard the Paducah and planned the same for the Northlands.

Jim DeMaret Holds Reading Open Lead

READING, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—Scores soared today in the second round of the $10,000 Reading Open Golf Tournament, with smiling Jim Demaret skyrocketing to a 73 but nevertheless clinging to a two-stroke lead.

With a field of 104 testing the 6,379-yard Berkshire Country Club course, only four managed to better par 71 and many a card ranged up to 80.

Best round of the day was a sparkling 67 by Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich., giving him a 140-total and tie for second place with amateur Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, who added par 71 to his 69 of yesterday.

Three other veterans crowded into the fourth place tie, a shot further back. Chunky Ed Oliver, Wilmington, Del., hit 71 today for his 141 total, equalled by Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, and E. J. Dutch Harrison, York, Pa., both 72 shooters today.

It took a score of 153 or better today to qualify for the final rounds Saturday and Sunday. With 10 amateurs included, the field for the home stretch rush totaled 68.

Bewitch Favored To Cop Futurity

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Spacious Belmont Park is likely to prove inadequate to accommodate all the racing fans who want to see tomorrow's rich Futurity, the Jockey Club Gold Cup and six other events.

It requires a mathematical wizard to figure out the value of the $50,000 added Futurity, which attracted 15 stars of the juvenile ranks, but press box statisticians today came up with a gross of $107,230.

They arrive at $79,030 as the net value to the winner should a colt score, and $78,830 in the event a filly wins, as it costs $200 more for a member of the weaker sex to be eligible under the complicated conditions.

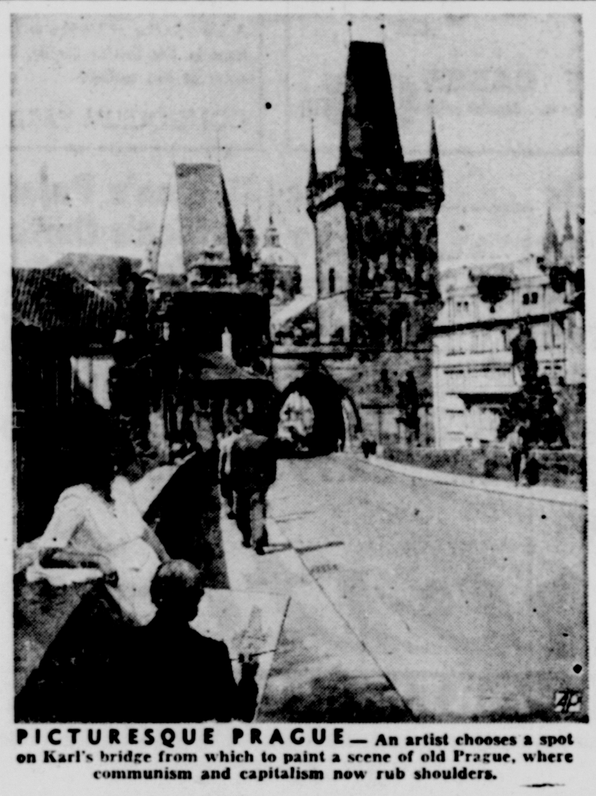

And there's a strong chance that the winner will be a filly—Warren Wright's Bewitch, whose unbeaten record of eight straight was ended here last Saturday when, after finishing first in the Matron Stakes, the glamor gal was disqualified for bothering Ghost Run.

Bewitch has earned $206,875 and tomorrow can become the greatest money-winning juvenile filly in turf history, a mark now held by C. V. Whitney's Top Flight. The latter gleaned $219,000 in 1931.

Bewitch will have a very capable running mate in the noted colt Citation, which starred in Chicago and won his lone start here.

Iturbi, Son-In-Law End Controversy

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (INS) — Pianist Jose Iturbi and Stephen Hero, his violinist son-in-law, shook hands and made up today after compromising their bitter transcontinental fight over custody of Hero's two daughters.

Under the settlement, agreed to before Justice Johnson in Queens Supreme Court, Hero won full custody of Maria Theresa, 10, and Maria Antonia, 9.

Grandfather Iturbi was given the right to visit the children freely and to have them visit his California home.

Iturbi's late daughter, Maria Iturbi Hero, won custody of the children after she and Hero were divorced. She killed herself in Iturbi's Beverly Hills, Cal., home on April 17, 1946.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Mrs. Bob Taft made a pretty fine speech for her husband, but I am still plugging for a bachelor president. I'm not forgetting 1933 when Eleanor beat her husband into the White House by three days.

Eleanor said she was cleaning up. It was a very neat family.

Suppose Taft gets the nomination and Mrs. Bob is the best speaker? She will butter all the cornerstones for miles around.

Here is my suggestion for the next Republican or Democratic family to occupy the government reservation on Pennsylvania avenue. Just remember we elected the old man President.

When the sun is over the yardarm, old Bull Halsey likes to pour himself a depth bomb. It helps Old Bull and doesn't do the sun any harm.

Bull says he doesn't plaster too much confidence on a fighting man who doesn't drink. I feel the same way about drinking men who don't fight.

Bull seems to be partial to whiskey, beer and cocktails. In my town that would make him a specialist.

Now, the temperance people are after Bull for mentioning too many mixtures in the same fragrant breath.

And as a member of Alcoholics Anonymous I must string along with the Bulls, sitting, standing or staggering.

The argument started over the correct end on which to open your breakfast eggs.

It lasted a long time. And they cracked many an egg.

The United Nations hasn't got that dish on its agenda. But it is trying to settle everything else. It is as ambitious as a minnow winking at a whale.

Peace on earth and good will to men sounds like a wonderful prescription. But the monotony would start a war just to break it.

About March and April Mr. Vishinsky will pull his neck back into his collar and exude sweetness and light. But in the meantime he sure has worked up the nuisance value of loose pennies in a woman's purse.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Mrs. Bob Taft made a pretty fine speech for her husband, but I am still plugging for a bachelor president. I'm not forgetting 1933 when Eleanor beat her husband into the White House by three days.

Eleanor said she was cleaning up. It was a very neat family.

Suppose Taft gets the nomination and Mrs. Bob is the best speaker? She will butter all the cornerstones for miles around.

Here is my suggestion for the next Republican or Democratic family to occupy the government reservation on Pennsylvania avenue. Just remember we elected the old man President.

When the sun is over the yardarm, old Bull Halsey likes to pour himself a depth bomb. It helps Old Bull and doesn't do the sun any harm.

Bull says he doesn't plaster too much confidence on a fighting man who doesn't drink. I feel the same way about drinking men who don't fight.

Bull seems to be partial to whiskey, beer and cocktails. In my town that would make him a specialist.

Now, the temperance people are after Bull for mentioning too many mixtures in the same fragrant breath.

And as a member of Alcoholics Anomalous I must string along with the Bulls, sitting, standing or staggering.

The argument started over the correct end on which to open your breakfast eggs.

It lasted a long time. And they cracked many an egg.

The United Nations hasn't got that dish on its agenda. But it is trying to settle everything else. It is as ambitious as a minnow winking at a whale.

Peace on earth and good will to men sounds like a wonderful prescription. But the monotony would start a war just to break it.

About March and April Mr. Vishinsky will pull his neck back into his collar and exude sweetness and light. But in the meantime he sure has worked up the nuisance value of loose pennies in a woman's purse.

Market, Led By Steels And Liquors, Posts Fifth Straight Average Gain

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP) — Led by steels, liquors and a wide assortment of special issues, the stock market today scored its fifth straight average advance for the first time in three months on the third million-share day since July 30.

Profit realizing on the week's bulge was present throughout. Leaders put on a fast sprint approaching midday with the 600,000-share level touched in the first two hours. Thereafter the pace slowed and extreme gains were reduced in the majority of cases at the close. Transfers of 870,000 shares compared with 850,000 the day before and were the largest since July 29.

Posting new 1947 highs, and up fractions to a point or more at the last, were Skelly Oils at 92, Youngstown Sheet 74¼, J. I. Case 41½, Tidewater Oil 22, International Paper 34⅝ and National Distillers 23⅜. Hiram Walker was up to at 24, American Distilling 1¾ at 34⅝, Publecker 1½ at 27, American Rolling Mill 1¼ at 33¼, United States Steel 1⅜ at 73, Montgomery Ward 1¼ at 58, du Pont one at 189½, American Cyanamid 1¼ at 47⅝, Rheem Manufacturing one at 22, United States Gypsum 1⅝ at 102⅝, Oliver Corporation, 1⅛ at 26, Schenley 1⅛ at 38¼ and Santa Fe one at 84.

Fractional improvement was retained by Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Graham-Paige, Goodrich, International Harvester, Sperry, American Telephone, American Water Works, American Smelting, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, Distillers Corporation, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio.

The recent strong Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred dropped 3½ at 98. Recessions were shown for Goodyear, Boeing, United Aircraft, Mission Corporation, Standard Oil (NJ), Dow Chemical, Texas Company, Philip Morris, General Electric and Pacific Western Oil.

Modest Curb gainers were Aluminum of America, Raytheon, Losantport Distilling and Apex Electric. Turnover here was 250,000 shares versus 230,000 yesterday.

Railroad bonds were given a good lift in the market following unconfirmed reports from Washington that a freight rate boost was being readied by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

United States governments were up 6-32 to down one and 1-32 on the stock exchange and followed the same pattern in over-the-counter dealings.

Sales of $5,430,000 were the largest since July 17 and compared with $3,690,000 the day before.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 3—Don Barry is being tested by Seymour Nebenzal for the role of Ben, the lead in "Look Homeward Angel." Don who used to be called "Red," is the same person who "lavished" gifts on Joan Crawford.

Faye Roosevelt

Arthur Ripley saw Barry playing golf at Lakeside, and not knowing who he was ,told him he looked exactly as he visualized the character of Ben.

"Now, if you could only act," said Ripley.

"I can," said Don. "I'm an actor."

If he gets that part there'll be no holding Mr. Barry—a far cry from Republic horse operas to a lead in a Thomas Wolfe novel.

Originally Paulette Goddard was to have been starred in "Anna Lucasta' by Robert Kane. Paulette, by cable, agreed to a percentage deal.

Kane's deal was all set with 20th. But apparently John Wildberg, the producer, and Philip Yordan, the writer, changed their minds without notice, and now the whole matter is before the Dramatists Guild in New York.

Bob had spent quite a lot of money getting ready for "Anna Lucasta" and he had his 20th Century-Fox release all set. Columbia maintains that there was no definite contract with Kane. If it goes through, Paulette still gets the lead, so Bob is the only loser.

Martha Stewart, the so-pretty wife of Joe E. Lewis, and 20th Century-Fox's talented singin and dancing actress, goes to Universal-International to co-star with Donald O'Connor in "Are You With It."

Donald is back on both tap dancing feet again. "Something in the wind" with Deanna Durbin did it. The kid was so good his bosses wrote out a whopping check for Broadway's "Are You With It" for him.

It starts in November with Jack Hively directing, and I have been told that Lew Parker, who was in the Broadway show, is talking dollars and sense to U-I about playing his original role.

Chit-Chat: Lana Turner talked short wave to Tyrone Power in Johannesburg, South Africa, Wednesday night and theres a cute story back of it.

A young "ham' operator living in Venice, Calif. named Evans has been frequently intercepting Ty and his crew in their plane .He asked them if they would like to talk to the home folks back here and the enthusiastic answer came back, "Sure. When we reach South Africa."

So Evans (nobody seemed to get his first name) was just as thrilled as were Lana, her mother, Ty's mother and Mrs. Bill Gallagher whose husband is with Ty.

It looks to me as if Dorothy Lamour is going to be pretty busy girl if she makes all the pictures she expects to this next year.

She has just put her name on a contract to star in Craig Rice's new book, "The Lucky Stiff," for Amusement Enterprises. This is the company in which Jack Benny is a stockholder.

If you've read "Lucky Stiff," you know that Dottie will play Anna Marie St. Clair, a convicted murderess who pretends to be dead so she can come back and have justice done.

Now I've heard everything! Bob Hope is going to play Jack Buetel's role in "The Outlaw", when he presents it on his show next Tuesday. Of course, it will be an hilarious satire on "The Outlaw."

Jane Russell, who finished "Pale Face" today, as Bob's leading lady, will play her role, the one that has probably been more publicized and more often banned than any other movie. Hope finally got permission to put the play on, but I'm willing to bet his version and his character will bear no resemblance to persons living or dead.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:—Ava Gardner has been casting her pretty eyes in the direction of Blake Edwards, a young producer at Allied Artists. They were at the Tallyho together last night.

Kirk Douglas' wife, Diana, a British subject, has asked for her American citizenship.

Mrs. Harry Carey, who was so broken up over the death of her husband of so many years, leaves for New York tomorrow. John Ford's daughter, Barbara, goes with her.

Jackie Cooper and Jackie Coogan are readying a night club appearance together. They try it out next week in Rochester before they go to New York.

That's all today.

ROMNEY, W. Va.—Coach Dick McElwee's Romney High Pioneers copped their third consecutive victory of the season yesterday afternoon with a 20-7 decision over Franklin High in a Potomac Valley Conference football contest.

Romney hopped off to a 13-0 lead early in the first quarter on two sparkling runs by Long—one for 32 yards and the initial six-pointer and the other for 43 yards and the second touchdown. Ansel added the extra point after the second score.

Franklin came back late in the period to tally their only touchdown on a short plunge by Simmons and the Pioneers led 13-7 as the quarter ended.

Neither team was able to penetrate very deep in opponents territory in the next two periods, several fumbles being costly to both elevens. Finally midway in the final canto, Baird tossed a 20-yard aerial to Everett in the end zone for the Pioneers third touchdown to put the game on ice.

Romney had a decided edge in the statistics as Franklin lost its third straight contest. The lineups:

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree divorcing the plaintiff, Kenneth William Everly from the defendant, Sarah Elizabeth Everly, a vinculo matrimonii: and to secure to the plaintiff the care, custody and control of their infant child, Elizabeth.

The bill states that the parties were married at Oakland, Maryland on February 26, 1941 and lived together until March 1, 1943, when the defendant, without any just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the plaintiff and has declared her intention to live with him no longer, that such abandonment is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation. That the said defendant on divers days and times since their marriage and the filing of this bill has committed the crime of adultery with certain men whose names are unknown to the plaintiff and that he has not lived or cohabited with her since he has discovered her said adulteries. The plaintiff alleges that he has always behaved himself as a faithful, chaste and affectionate husband towards his said wife.

The bill states that one child has been born of this marriage, a daughter, Elizabeth Everly, born December 22, 1941, and that she is now under the care and control of the plaintiff. That the plaintiff has been a resident of the State of Maryland for more than one year before the bringing of his suit, but that the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and does not reside therein.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of October, 1947, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Allegany County, once in each of four weeks before the 4th day of November, 1947, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 20th day of November, next, to show cause, if any she have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

Beagle Club Plans Open Field Trials

Allegany Beagle Club last night completed plans for Plan A, American Kennel Club sanctioned field trial, to be held Saturday and Sunday, October 18 and 19, at their new club house, McMullen Highway.

W. R. Goebels, Frostburg, vice-president, presiding in the absence of Hugh Stevenson, president, said that Dr. H. C. Diehl, Frostburg, is chairman of the trials.

The meet is open to all comers and entries are expected from Meyersdale, Altoona, Uniontown, Bedford and Hagerstown, in addition to the Tri-State Area communities. William Toothman, Morgantown, W. Va., and Ike Brown, Beaver Falls, Pa., will be judges.

F. W. Green, Frostburg, chairman of the club house committee, said work on the new club house is about completed. A 20 by 25 frame building is being constructed by Harry J. Barton near Barton's Dairy to be leased to the Beagle Club as a club house. It is hoped to have the structure ready in time for the trials. Plans are already underway for the construction of kennels.

Announcement was made at the meeting last night, which was held in the Woodman of the World Hall here, that Dean's Sporter, owned by Dean Broadwater, Cresaptown, won the 13-inch dog class at Cambria license trials last Saturday at Evensburgh, Pa.

ROMNEY, W. Va.—Coach Dick McElwee's Romney High Pioneers copped their third consecutive victory of the season yesterday afternoon with a 20-7 decision over Franklin High in a Potomac Valley Conference football contest.

Romney hopped off to a 13-0 lead early in the first quarter on two sparkling runs by Long—one for 32 yards and the initial six-pointer and the other for 43 yards and the second touchdown. Ansel added the extra point after the second score.

Franklin came back late in the period to tally their only touchdown on a short plunge by Simmons and the Pioneers led 13-7 as the quarter ended.

Neither team was able to penetrate very deep in opponents territory in the next two periods, several fumbles being costly to both elevens. Finally midway in the final canto, Baird tossed a 20-yard aerial to Everett in the end zone for the Pioneers third touchdown to put the game on ice.

Romney had a decided edge in the statistics as Franklin lost its third straight contest. The lineups:

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree divorcing the plaintiff, Kenneth William Everly from the defendant, Sarah Elizabeth Everly, a vinculo matrimonii; and to secure to the plaintiff the care, custody and control of their infant child, Elizabeth.

The bill states that the parties were married at Oakland, Maryland on February 26, 1941 and lived together until March 1, 1943, when the defendant, without any just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the plaintiff and has declared her intention to live with him no longer; that such abandonment is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation. That the said defendant on divers days and times since their marriage and the filing of this bill has committed the crime of adultery with certain men whose names are unknown to the plaintiff and that he has not lived or cohabited with her since he has discovered her said adulteries. The plaintiff alleges that he has always behaved himself as a faithful, chaste and affectionate husband towards his said wife.

The bill states that one child has been born of this marriage, a daughter, Elizabeth Everly, born December 22, 1941, and that she is now under the care and control of the plaintiff. That the plaintiff has been a resident of the State of Maryland for more than one year before the bringing of his suit, but that the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and does not reside therein.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of October, 1947, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Allegany County, once in each of four weeks before the 4th day of November, 1947, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 20th day of November, next, to show cause, if any she have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

Beagle Club Plans Open Field Trials

Allegany Beagle Club last night completed plans for Plan A, American Kennel Club sanctioned field trial, to be held Saturday and Sunday, October 18 and 19, at their new club house, McMullen Highway.

W. R. Goebels, Frostburg, vice-president, presiding in the absence of Hugh Stevenson, president, said that Dr. H. C. Diehl, Frostburg, is chairman of the trials.

The meet is open to all comers and entries are expected from Meyersdale, Altoona, Uniontown, Bedford and Hagerstown, in addition to the Tri-State Area communities. William Toothman, Morgantown, W. Va., and Ike Brown, Beaver Falls, Pa., will be judges.

F. W. Green, Frostburg, chairman of the club house committee, said work on the new club house is about completed. A 20 by 25 frame building is being constructed by Harry J. Barton near Barton's Dairy to be leased to the Beagle Club as a club house. It is hoped to have the structure ready in time for the trials. Plans are already underway for the construction of kennels.

Announcement was made at the meeting last night, which was held in the Woodman of the World Hall here, that Dean's Sporter, owned by Dean Broadwater, Cresaptown, won the 13-inch dog class at Cambria license trials last Saturday at Evensburgh, Pa.

Bruce Drops Barton 4-0 In Soccer Game

Scoring the deciding point in the first quarter, Bruce High School's soccer team yesterday booted three more over the goal in the third quarter to defeat Barton High 4-0 and climb into a three way tie for second place in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League.

Verdeen Parsons, Bruce's center halfback, toed the ball over for the first point shortly after the opening whistle sounded, then Tommy Cain, playing inside left forward, put the game on ice during the third quarter when he booted three more field goals.

Bruce's win over Barton at Barton gave the Westernport eleven a .500 per cent mark in the win column and placed them in a three way tie with Central and Flintstone for second place position in the league. Beall High, Frostburg, is leading the league with two wins and no defeats.

Yesterday's defeat for Barton represented the second in as many starts.

Schlosser To Be Tried In Fatal Accident Today

Faces Manslaughter By Automobile Count

Ralph Allen Schlosser, 21, Cresaptown, alleged driver of the car which struck and fatally injured Doris Elaine Rosenberger, September 20, will be tried on charges of manslaughter by motor vehicle this morning at 10 a. m., according to Trial Magistrates.

The Rosenberger girl, a student at Allegany High School, was struck by the car, which police said was driven by Schlosser, as she attempted to cross Route 220 at Roberts Place near her home. She died 15 minutes later in Allegany Hospital.

Schlosser told police that he was driving to his home at the time of the accident and police quoted him as saying he was going between 30 and 35 miles an hour.

The youthful driver was questioned by State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris, but was released pending the trial, which was once set for September 27 postponed because the victim's mother, who told authorities she witnessed the accident, could not be present.

Trial Magistrates said they were informed yesterday by the State's Attorney's office, that Schlosser will be tried this morning on the charge. He was not given a preliminary hearing.

Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, who at the time was acting deputy medical examiner, said the Rosenberger girl died as a result of a fractured skull and inter-cranial hemorrhage. She also suffered a fractured left ankle and abrasions on the face and body, he stated.

The fatal accident resulted in Maryland State Police making a concerted drive to reduce hazardous driving on Route 220 along the Roberts Place section as well as through Bowling Green.

The number of arrests made since the fatal accident have neared the 100 mark, and police said every effort will be made to curb the speeding and reckless driving, which residents of the area complained to police about, following the accident.

Schlosser has been free since his questioning without bond. Magistrates said they were informed he will have a local attorney as his counsel today.

PCA To Ask City Fathers To Call For Price Action

The consumers committee of the Cumberland branch of the Progressive Citizens of America last night named a committee to contact the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, the Board of County Commissioners of Allegany County and lawmakers of the county to add their pleas for a special session of Congress to attack rising prices.

Named to the group were J. R. Bourckel, Mrs. Janet Castle, Mrs. Mae Mont, Mrs. Ada Conley Long, H. R. Wills, Mrs. Evelyn Coleman and Mrs. Madah Topsdn.

The group heard a report on the possibilities of forming a co-operative store here and voted to continue study on that project.

Members of the group reported good response from housewives contacted by telephone and asked not to buy meat which costs over 55 cents a pound.

Dr. Kerlin predicted that Congress will be recalled by the first of December in order to deal with urgent matters now facing the country and asked members to redouble efforts to secure signed petitions asking for the special session to deal with rising prices and to ask the retention of rent control.

The next meeting of the consumers committee will be held Friday, October 17, at 8 p. m. in First Methodist Church.

Rizer, Swick Are Hurt In Accident

Ralph Rizer, 28, son of City Engineer and Mrs. Ralph L. Rizer, and Thomas R. Swick, 21, this city, suffered minor injuries last night when the car in which they were riding struck a culvert on Route 240 near Hyattstown.

Attaches at Frederick Memorial Hospital, where the men were taken, described their condition as fair, and said both had suffered lacerations about the face. Both men were complaining about pains in their back, according to attaches, who said x-rays will be made this morning.

Hospital attaches said the two local men were taken to Frederick in the Hyattstown Fire Department ambulance, and added both men will probably be discharged this morning.

Police said the car in which they were riding skidded while turning a sharp curve and crashed against a culvert.

Two Kelly-Springfield Tire Company workers were seriously injured yesterday afternoon when the car in which they were riding toward their homes in Fort Ashby, W. Va., collided with an amesite-laden truck on Route 28, at Siple's curve, one mile north of Fort Ashby.

Most seriously injured was Roy Malone, 21, who was admitted to Allegany Hospital at 5:10 p. m. suffering from possible fractures of the skull and jaw and lacerated nose.

Robert Adams, also 21, driver of the car in which Malone was riding, was admitted for treatment of a possible fracture of the left knee and a lacerated forehead.

Both men were suffering considerably from shock when they were brought to the hospital here and attaches reported their condition as fair. X-rays will be taken today to determine the extent of the injuries they suffered.

West Virginia State Police said they understood the accident occurred shortly after 4:30 p. m. as the car Adams was driving collided with the truck operated by James Kalbaugh, Keyser, who escaped injury. They added they were told Adams was passing another car about 100 feet before entering the curve.

Cpl. R. R. Karickhoff, who investigated, said no charges have been preferred pending the completion of the probe into the cause of the accident.

Trio Released After Probe On Fur Coats

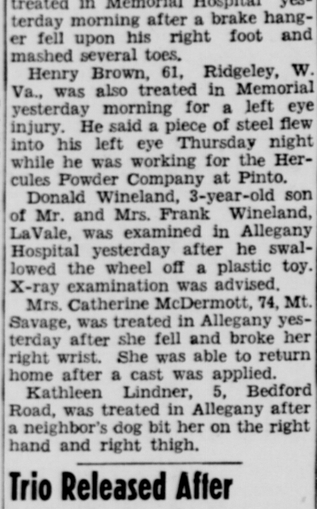

Two men and a woman held for questioning concerning 44 fur coats found in their possession were released yesterday after Pennsylvania State Police said New York and Ohio Furriers had positively identified the trio.

The three persons, who were arrested, after the woman allegedly attempted to make a sale in Cumberland and was followed to Bedford by Detective Edwin R. Lilya, were questioned Thursday night and again yesterday morning and then released, according to police.

The Pennsylvania troopers said they contacted furriers in New York and Ohio, whom the trio said they had made purchases from, and declared information received satisfied them the furs were obtained legally.

Local police said the woman allegedly attempted to sell one of the garments in this city for $150 then offered it for $50 and finally requested the prospective customer to name her own price.

Police said the trio, along with another woman who was identified as the wife of the second man live in trailers and travel across country with no permanent address.

RESIGNS—Harold R. Fletcher, 909 Fayette Street, has submitted his resignation as president of the Peoples Bank to the Board of Directors, effective Nov. 4, he stated yesterday. Fletcher said he did not resign as a director, but resigned only as president. His plans for the future have not been announced. He started his career with the bank here as a messenger in 1923, and advanced through various positions in the bank to the office of president, succeeding the late Harry Footer.

PALS-REAL ONES—Little Mary Jo Garlitz, (top) isn't going to enter her dog, "Taxi" in the Girl Scout Dog Show this afternoon, at 1:15 o'clock because she knows he isn't the most pure bred dog in the city, nor the most mixed breed, either. In fact, "Taxi" doesn't come under any of the 16 classifications in the show, but if they were giving ribbons for the best loved dog in Cumberland, "Taxi" would be a sure winner. Mary Jo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garlitz, 409 Franklin Street. However, Joseph Yutzy, Jr., (lower left) Pulaski Street, thinks his pet, "Mickie", will certainly strut home with at least three ribbons and "Mickie" seems to agree with his master. Donna Smith, (lower right) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith, 330 Pear Street, is going to show "Nickey", owned by Frank L. McCagh, Bedford Street, and Donna says he is the most pure bred dog in Cumberland and states seriously "he will probably be the best dog in the show." "Nickey" is a pedigreed collie.

Optimist Week Will Be Observed October 5 To 11

Faith In Future Is Clubs' Theme

"Faith in the Future" is the keynote of Optimist Week, which will be observed in Cumberland by the Optimist Club October 5 to 11, according to Hugh G. Funkhouser, club president.

Entering its second year here, the local service organization is joining with over 500 other Optimist Clubs in this country and abroad, in observing Optimist Week. Funkhouser said a special program is being planned for the regular meeting Wednesday night.

"Our faith in the future can best be reflected in the work we do to make the boys of today, better citizens and leaders in the world tomorrow," Funkhouser said. 'Curbing juvenile delinquency and the host of other problems that have been brought about by the postwar uncertainties has become the No. 1 problem of our club."

In working with the youth of the city, Funkhouser said members of the club are directing their efforts toward the rehabilitation and development of delinquent youth, and at the same time, are providing activities and interests which will help keep boys from becoming delinquent. "Our club is young," he said, "but we have already begun to build up a record of worthwhile activity in youth work and activity."

Optimists believe, Funkhouser said, "that the attitude of today's boy is certain to be the attitude of government and nations in the next generation. What happens then, will depend upon how we accept our responsibilities toward 'the boy' and what we do with and for him."

Longwell's Condition Reported Improved

Potomac Valley Hospital at Keyser, W. Va., reported that Lawrence Elliott, 57, Elk Garden, W. Va. remains in "satisfactory" condition. Elliott was admitted to the hospital Wednesday after slashing his left wrist with a razor blade in his cell at the Mineral County Jail in Keyser, where he was being held on a parole violation charge.

Girl Scouts Will Have Dog Show This Afternoon At Scout House

Is In Observance Of National Week

Cumberland's canine characters will step out of the doghouse and be allowed to frolic in the spotlight for an hour or two this afternoon at the dog show, sponsored by the Girl Scouts at Scout Headquarters, Greene Street.

The show will get underway at 1:15 o'clock when the judging will begin. Over 25 dogs have been registered in the show, which is the first city-wide affair of this kind to be held here for a number of years. Entry blanks were given to local Girl Scouts to distribute and, due to the fact that the 27 Girl Scout troops meet in different districts of the city, the entries represent every section of Cumberland.

The show is being held in observance of National Dog Week, which began Monday, and has been set aside as a time to pay special tribute to the dog and the part he plays in the life of human beings. Paul Whiteman, noted band leader, is general chairman of the national committee in charge of observance of the week and Girl Scouts all over the nation have been selected to uphold the standards of the committee in each community.

Ribbons will be awarded to the most mixed breed dog; the best pure bred dog; smallest dog; best groomed dog; whitest dog; dog with the most sympathetic eyes; blackest dog; dog with the most spots; dog with the longest tail; dog with the longest ears; most obedient dog; largest dog; best yellow dog; best trick dog; oldest dog and the best dog in the show.

Judges will include Dr. C. N. Foose, Jr., local veterinarian and a recognized authority on dogs; Mrs. Harold W. Meeks, Vale Summit, and Cliff Jeffries, dog raisers who have made an extensive study of dog care.

During the show brief talks on the handling and feeding of dogs will be given and a demonstration of first aid to animals will be presented by a group of Cumberland Boy Scouts, who have acquired badges in this field. All citizens are invited to view the display of dog talent.

Mrs. Seth Bowen, a member of the Girl Scout Council, is chairman of the committe in charge of arrangements.

Church Service To Be Held In School

Because installation of a new steam heating system at First Presbyterian Church has not been completed, morning services tomorrow will be conducted at the West Side School at 11 o'clock, Rev. William A. Eisenberger, pastor, said yesterday.

A Westminster Felowship meeting at 6:30 p. m. and the evening service at 7:30 will be held in the church house, the pastor said.

The old steam heating system is being replaced, but work has been delayed because a shipment of radiators has not yet been received, he explained.

A joint dinner meeting of the elders, deacons and trustees, originally scheduled for next Thursday in the lecture hall of the church, has been postponed.

Police identified the trio as James W. Fadley, 234 Mary Street, Milton Lease, 205 Spring Street, and Woodrow Calain, Boden, W. Va. They were arrested in an alley off North Mechanic Street by city and B. and O. police.

Gen. Purnell Urges Guard Enlistments

Brig. Gen. William C. Purnell, assistant division commander of the 29th National Guard Division, visited here yesterday and conferred with local National Guard officers, city officials of Cumberland and Frostburg, and representatives of local industries.

The group met for dinner at Ali Ghan Country Club, and discussed phases of the recruiting drive for the National Guard here and at Frostburg. Emphasis was placed by Gen. Purnell, in the co-operation of industrial and civic groups, in encouraging young men to join the guard.

Presbyterians Send 117 Pounds Of Clothing To World Service Center

The Presbyterian Churches of Cumberland have shipped to the Church World Service Center, New Windsor, clothing, bedding and shoes weighing 117 pounds which is now being processed for immediate shipment abroad, according to an announcement by the Center.

Because of the dire need in Europe and Asia, as great now as at any time since the war, the contribution from Cumberland will help materially in allaying the suffering during the winter, the Center said.

Oldest and largest of nine relief goods depots operated for Church World Service, interdenominational Protestant relief agency, the New Windsor Center in 1946 packed and shipped 12,000,000 pounds of relief materials to 28 foreign countries, with a loss of less than one-half of one per cent. To June 15, 1947, more than 1,300,000 pounds of clothing, shoes, bedding, food and other relief materials had been shipped out from the New Windsor Center alone and more than 1,500,000 pounds received.

All goods going out from New Windsor are carefully prepared. Clothing is inspected to make sure it is clean and whole. Then, packed with mothflakes and wrapped with water-proof paper, it is compressed into bales, strapped and protected by heavy burlap sacking. Shoes are inspected and paired, and foods and other perishable goods are packed in waterproof cartons or wooden boxes.

Overseas, distribution is handled by churches and church institutions in the needy countries. Care is taken to insure fair distribution. Clothing, shoes and bedding remain the primary needs this year. With no textiles manufactured for seven years in some countries, millions are wearing the only clothing they have. New garments, when they are available, cost two, three or four months' wages for the average man: shoes, $40; suits, $200; a shirt, $19. Wages are under $2 a day.

Food rations through much of Europe are set at 1,550 calories, 100 less than the subsistence level, 900 less than the amount needed for health. The average American eats 3,400 calories daily.

With the work of UNRRA stopped, the task of supplying the means of life to millions of destitute families falls to Church World Service and other private relief agencies.

Trinity Methodist Plans To Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. Rosenberger, who was appointed pastor of Trinity Church October 3, 1927, and served until October 5, 1931, when he was succeeded by Rev. W. D. Keene, is now pastor of the Methodist Church in Rockville, Md.

Former Pastors To Speak

Five other former pastors of the church will come to Cumberland to take part in the anniversary observance, which will be held at Sunday services throughout this month.

Rev. W. D. Keene, pastor from 1931 to 1933, will preach at the morning service next Sunday, October 12, on the theme of "Home Coming Day." The speaker at the evening service, when "Youth Night" will be observed, will be Rev. S. R. Neel, pastor from 1938 until 1944.

On Sunday, October 19, Rev. James H. Brown, pastor from 1936 to 1937, will preach at the morning service on the theme of "Servicemen's Day." At the "Community Night" service at 7:30 Rev. George Hasel, pastor from 1925 to 1926, will preach.

On May 9, 1897, the church was organized by Rev. S. A. Parker with 25 charter members, and the name "Trinity" was chosen for the new church. By the end of 1897, 30 additional members had been received, including Mrs. Ida Butler, who joined December 12 of that year and has been a member longer than any other living person.

Site Chosen In 1898

For the first year church services were held in Roberts Hall on Virginia Avenue. Rev. John H. Kulhmann, who was appointed pastor in March, 1898, called a meeting in May of that year to select a permanent site, and a location on Grand Avenue between First and Second Streets was purchased from the Cumberland Improvement and Investment Company.

The cornerstone was laid October 13, 1898, and the first service was held in the new chapel on December 1, 1898, with Rev. Rumsey Smithson, Charles Town, W. Va., as the guest speaker.

On the morning of November 12, 1899, the church, free of debt ,was formally dedicated by Rev. S. K. Cox, Winchester, Va.

During the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Wheeler, the present sanctuary was built adjoining the chapel, which was then converted to use as a Sunday School building.

The opening service in the new church was held January 30, 1916, with Rev. George Tyley, Fairfax, Va., as guest speaker. The building was dedicated January 12, 1919, by Rev. Harry M. Canter, presiding elder of the Washington District.

The present pastor, Rev. Mr. Main was appointed June 8, 1945.

2 Drivers Charged In Auto Accident

Charges were filed against drivers of both automobiles involved in an accident at Pleasant Grove, six miles east of Cumberland on Route 40, yesterday at 4 p. m., State Police said last night.

The drivers were identified as Marshall Webster Imes, Flintstone, accused of parking on the traveled portion of the highway when it was feasible to pull off to the side, and Herman E. Redinger, Route 1, Flintstone, accused of reckless driving.

State Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said Imes, heading west on Route 40, stopped, partly on the road and partly on the shoulder, to discharge a passenger. Redinger smashed against the rear end of Imes' car, the officer added.

Damage to the cars amounted to $225, about $150 of that to Redinger's, Trooper Baker said.

Both drivers will be given a hearing in Trial Magistrates Court on Monday.

At Westernport last night, Darrell Frances Saunders, 217 Beall Street, Cumberland, forfeited bond of $10.75 on a charge of exceeding 50 miles an hour when he failed to appear for trial before Magistrate John Laughlin. Saunders was arrested by Trooper Baker Wednesday on Route 36 near Westernport.

White Inspects B. And O. Terminal

President Roy Barton White of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, returned to Baltimore yesterday after inspecting the Cumberland terminal and the new $500,000 retarder operation here on Wednesday.

While in Cumberland, White inspected the B. and O. back shop, round house and bolt and forge. On his return to Baltimore on the Shenandoah yesterday, White was accompanied from Cumberland to Martinsburg, W. Va., by H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland Division.

On Thursday White went to Toledo, Ohio, to inspect the new coal dumping terminal there and to take part in ceremonies preliminary to construction of a new union station. Sticking to railroad practice, groundbreaking was dispensed with in favor of pulling up three spikes from track to the old station.

Schlosser To Be Tried In Fatal Accident Today

Faces Manslaughter By Automobile Count

Ralph Allen Schlosser, 21, Cresaptown, alleged driver of the car which struck and fatally injured Doris Elaine Rosenberger, September 20, will be tried on charges of manslaughter by motor vehicle this morning at 10 a. m., according to Trial Magistrates.

The Rosenberger girl, a student at Allegany High School, was struck by the car, which police said was driven by Schlosser, as she attempted to cross Route 220 at Roberts Place near her home. She died 15 minutes later in Allegany Hospital.

Schlosser told police that he was driving to his home at the time of the accident and police quoted him as saying he was going between 30 and 35 miles an hour.

The youthful driver was questioned by State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris, but was released pending the trial, which was once set for September 27 postponed because the victim's mother, who told authorities she witnessed the accident, could not be present.

Trial Magistrates said they were informed yesterday by the State's Attorney's office, that Schlosser will be tried this morning on the charge. He was not given a preliminary hearing.

Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, who at the time was acting deputy medical examiner, said the Rosenberger girl died as a result of a fractured skull and inter-cranial hemorrhage. She also suffered a fractured left ankle and abrasions on the face and body, he stated.

The fatal accident resulted in Maryland State Police making a concerted drive to reduce hazardous driving on Route 220 along the Roberts Place section as well as through Bowling Green.

The number of arrests made since the fatal accident have neared the 100 mark, and police said every effort will be made to curb the speeding and reckless driving, which residents of the area complained to police about, following the accident.

Schlosser has been free since his questioning without bond. Magistrates said they were informed he will have a local attorney as his counsel today.

PCA To Ask City Fathers To Call For Price Action

The consumers committee of the Cumberland branch of the Progressive Citizens of America last night named a committee to contact the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, the Board of County Commissioners of Allegany County and lawmakers of the county to add their pleas for a special session of Congress to attack rising prices.

Named to the group were J. R. Bourckel, Mrs. Janet Castle, Mrs. Mae Mont, Mrs. Ada Conley Long, H. R. Wills, Mrs. Evelyn Coleman and Mrs. Madah Topson.

The group heard a report on the possibilities of forming a co-operative store here and voted to continue study on that project.

Members of the group reported good response from housewives contacted by telephone and asked not to buy meat which costs over 55 cents a pound.

Dr. Kerlin predicted that Congress will be recalled by the first of December in order to deal with urgent matters now facing the country and asked members to redouble efforts to secure signed petitions asking for the special session to deal with rising prices and to ask the retention of rent control.

The next meeting of the consumers committee will be held Friday, October 17, at 8 p. m. in First Methodist Church.

Hospital attaches said the two local men were taken to Frederick in the Hyattstown Fire Department ambulance, and added both men will probably be discharged this morning.

Police said the car in which they were riding skidded while turning a sharp curve and crashed against a culvert.

2 Kelly Workers Hurt When Truck And Car Collide

B. And O. Worker Mashes Right Foot

Two Kelly-Springfield Tire Company workers were seriously injured yesterday afternoon when the car in which they were riding toward their homes in Fort Ashby, W. Va., collided with an amesite-laden truck on Route 28, at Siple's curve, one mile north of Fort Ashby.

Most seriously injured was Roy Malone, 21, who was admitted to Allegany Hospital at 5:10 p. m. suffering from possible fractures of the skull and jaw and lacerated nose.

Robert Adams, also 21, driver of the car in which Malone was riding, was admitted for treatment of a possible fracture of the left knee and a lacerated forehead.

Both men were suffering considerably from shock when they were brought to the hospital here and attaches reported their condition as fair. X-rays will be taken today to determine the extent of the injuries they suffered.

West Virginia State Police said they understood the accident occurred shortly after 4:30 p. m. as the car Adams was driving collided with the truck operated by James Kalbaugh, Keyser, who escaped injury. They added they were told Adams was passing another car about 100 feet before entering the curve.

Cpl. R. R. Karickhoff, who investigated, said no charges have been preferred pending the completion of the probe into the cause of the accident.

Bernard Youngblood, 27, 109 Fifth Street, a B. and O. worker, was treated in Memorial Hospital yesterday morning after a brake hanger fell upon his right foot and mashed several toes.

Henry Brown, 61, Ridgeley, W. Va., was also treated in Memorial yesterday morning for a left eye injury. He said a piece of steel flew into his left eye Thursday night while he was working for the Hercules Powder Company at Pinto.

Trio Released After Probe On Fur Coats

Two men and a woman held for questioning concerning 44 fur coats found in their possession were released yesterday after Pennsylvania State Police said New York and Ohio Furriers had positively identified the trio.

The three persons, who were arrested, after the woman allegedly attempted to make a sale in Cumberland and was followed to Bedford by Detective Edwin R. Lilya, were questioned Thursday night and again yesterday morning and then released, according to police.

The Pennsylvania troopers said they contacted furriers in New York and Ohio, whom the trio said they had made purchases from, and declared information received satisfied them the furs were obtained legally.

Local police said the woman allegedly attempted to sell one of the garments in this city for $150 then offered it for $50 and finally requested the prospective customer to name her own price.

Police said the trio, along with another woman who was identified as the wife of the second man live in trailers and travel across country with no permanent address.

RESIGNS—Harold R. Fletcher, 909 Fayette Street, has submitted his resignation as president of the Peoples Bank to the Board of Directors, effective Nov. 4, he stated yesterday. Fletcher said he did not resign as a director, but resigned only as president. His plans for the future have not been announced. He started his career with the bank here as a messenger in 1923, and advanced through various positions in the bank to the office of president, succeeding the late Harry Footer.

PALS-REAL ONES—Little Mary Jo Garlitz, (top) isn't going to enter her dog, "Taxi" in the Girl Scout Dog Show this afternoon, at 1:15 o'clock because she knows he isn't the most pure bred dog in the city, nor the most mixed breed, either. In fact, "Taxi" doesn't come under any of the 16 classifications in the show, but if they were giving ribbons for the best loved dog in Cumberland, "Taxi" would be a sure winner. Mary Jo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garlitz, 409 Franklin Street. However, Joseph Yutzy, Jr., (lower left) Pulaski Street, thinks his pet, "Mickie", will certainly strut home with at least three ribbons and "Mickie" seems to agree with his master. Donna Smith, (lower right) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith, 330 Pear Street, is going to show "Nickey", owned by Frank L. McCagh, Bedford Street, and Donna says he is the most pure bred dog in Cumberland and states seriously "he will probably be the best dog in the show." "Nickey" is a pedigreed collie.

Optimist Week Will Be Observed October 5 To 11

Faith In Future Is Clubs' Theme

"Faith in the Future" is the keynote of Optimist Week, which will be observed in Cumberland by the Optimist Club October 5 to 11, according to Hugh G. Funkhouser, club president.

Entering its second year here, the local service organization is joining with over 500 other Optimist Clubs in this country and abroad, in observing Optimist Week. Funkhouser said a special program is being planned for the regular meeting Wednesday night.

"Our faith in the future can best be reflected in the work we do to make the boys of today, better citizens and leaders in the world tomorrow," Funkhouser said. 'Curbing juvenile delinquency and the host of other problems that have been brought about by the postwar uncertainties has become the No. 1 problem of our club."

In working with the youth of the city, Funkhouser said members of the club are directing their efforts toward the rehabilitation and development of delinquent youth, and at the same time, are providing activities and interests which will help keep boys from becoming delinquent. "Our club is young," he said, "but we have already begun to build up a record of worthwhile activity in youth work and activity."

Optimists believe, Funkhouser said, "that the attitude of today's boy is certain to be the attitude of government and nations in the next generation. What happens then, will depend upon how we accept our responsibilities toward 'the boy' and what we do with and for him."

Potomac Valley Hospital at Keyser, W. Va., reported that Lawrence Elliott, 57, Elk Garden, W. Va. remains in "satisfactory" condition. Elliott was admitted to the hospital Wednesday after slashing his left wrist with a razor blade in his cell at the Mineral County Jail in Keyser, where he was being held on a parole violation charge.

Girl Scouts Will Have Dog Show This Afternoon At Scout House

Is In Observance Of National Week

Cumberland's canine characters will step out of the doghouse and be allowed to frolic in the spotlight for an hour or two this afternoon at the dog show, sponsored by the Girl Scouts at Scout Headquarters, Greene Street.

The show will get underway at 1:15 o'clock when the judging will begin. Over 25 dogs have been registered in the show, which is the first city-wide affair of this kind to be held here for a number of years. Entry blanks were given to local Girl Scouts to distribute and, due to the fact that the 27 Girl Scout troops meet in different districts of the city, the entries represent every section of Cumberland.

The show is being held in observance of National Dog Week, which began Monday, and has been set aside as a time to pay special tribute to the dog and the part he plays in the life of human beings. Paul Whiteman, noted band leader, is general chairman of the national committee in charge of observance of the week and Girl Scouts all over the nation have been selected to uphold the standards of the committee in each community.

Ribbons will be awarded to the most mixed breed dog; the best pure bred dog; smallest dog; best groomed dog; whitest dog; dog with the most sympathetic eyes; blackest dog; dog with the most spots; dog with the longest tail; dog with the longest ears; most obedient dog; largest dog; best yellow dog; best trick dog; oldest dog and the best dog in the show.

Judges will include Dr. C. N. Foose, Jr., local veterinarian and a recognized authority on dogs; Mrs. Harold W. Meeks, Vale Summit, and Cliff Jeffries, dog raisers who have made an extensive study of dog care.

During the show brief talks on the handling and feeding of dogs will be given and a demonstration of first aid to animals will be presented by a group of Cumberland Boy Scouts, who have acquired badges in this field. All citizens are invited to view the display of dog talent.

Mrs. Seth Bowen, a member of the Girl Scout Council, is chairman of the committe in charge of arrangements.

Church Service To Be Held In School

Because installation of a new steam heating system at First Presbyterian Church has not been completed, morning services tomorrow will be conducted at the West Side School at 11 o'clock, Rev. William A. Eisenberger, pastor, said yesterday.

A Westminster Felowship meeting at 6:30 p. m. and the evening service at 7:30 will be held in the church house, the pastor said.

The old steam heating system is being replaced, but work has been delayed because a shipment of radiators has not yet been received, he explained.

By the end of 1897, 30 additional members had been received, including Mrs. Ida Butler, who joined December 12 of that year and has been a member longer than any other living person.

Site Chosen In 1898

For the first year church services were held in Roberts Hall on Virginia Avenue. Rev. John H. Kulhmann, who was appointed pastor in March, 1898, called a meeting in May of that year to select a permanent site, and a location on Grand Avenue between First and Second Streets was purchased from the Cumberland Improvement and Investment Company.

The cornerstone was laid October 13, 1898, and the first service was held in the new chapel on December 1, 1898, with Rev. Rumsey Smithson, Charles Town, W. Va., as the guest speaker.

On the morning of November 12, 1899, the church, free of debt ,was formally dedicated by Rev. S. K. Cox, Winchester, Va.

During the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Wheeler, the present sanctuary was built adjoining the chapel, which was then converted to use as a Sunday School building.

The opening service in the new church was held January 30, 1916, with Rev. George Tyley, Fairfax, Va., as guest speaker. The building was dedicated January 12, 1919, by Rev. Harry M. Canter, presiding elder of the Washington District.

The present pastor, Rev. Mr. Main was appointed June 8, 1945.

2 Drivers Charged In Auto Accident

Charges were filed against drivers of both automobiles involved in an accident at Pleasant Grove, six miles east of Cumberland on Route 40, yesterday at 4 p. m., State Police said last night.

The drivers were identified as Marshall Webster Imes, Flintstone, accused of parking on the traveled portion of the highway when it was feasible to pull off to the side, and Herman E. Redinger, Route 1, Flintstone, accused of reckless driving.

State Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said Imes, heading west on Route 40, stopped, partly on the road and partly on the shoulder, to discharge a passenger. Redinger smashed against the rear end of Imes' car, the officer added.

Damage to the cars amounted to $225, about $150 of that to Redinger's, Trooper Baker said.

Both drivers will be given a hearing in Trial Magistrates Court on Monday.

At Westernport last night, Darrell Frances Saunders, 217 Beall Street, Cumberland, forfeited bond of $10.75 on a charge of exceeding 50 miles an hour when he failed to appear for trial before Magistrate John Laughlin. Saunders was arrested by Trooper Baker Wednesday on Route 36 near Westernport.

Presbyterians Send 117 Pounds Of Clothing To World Service Center

The Presbyterian Churches of Cumberland have shipped to the Church World Service Center, New Windsor, clothing, bedding and shoes weighing 117 pounds which is now being processed for immediate shipment abroad, according to an announcement by the Center.

Because of the dire need in Europe and Asia, as great now as at any time since the war, the contribution from Cumberland will help materially in allaying the suffering during the winter, the Center said.

Oldest and largest of nine relief goods depots operated for Church World Service, interdenominational Protestant relief agency, the New Windsor Center in 1946 packed and shipped 12,000,000 pounds of relief materials to 28 foreign countries, with a loss of less than one-half of one per cent. To June 15, 1947, more than 1,300,000 pounds of clothing, shoes, bedding, food and other relief materials had been shipped out from the New Windsor Center alone and more than 1,500,000 pounds received.

All goods going out from New Windsor are carefully prepared. Clothing is inspected to make sure it is clean and whole. Then, packed with mothflakes and wrapped with water-proof paper, it is compressed into bales, strapped and protected by heavy burlap sacking. Shoes are inspected and paired, and foods and other perishable goods are packed in waterproof cartons or wooden boxes.

Overseas, distribution is handled by churches and church institutions in the needy countries. Care is taken to insure fair distribution. Clothing, shoes and bedding remain the primary needs this year. With no textiles manufactured for seven years in some countries, millions are wearing the only clothing they have. New garments, when they are available, cost two, three or four months' wages for the average man: shoes, $40; suits, $200; a shirt, $19. Wages are under $2 a day.

Food rations through much of Europe are set at 1,550 calories, 100 less than the subsistence level, 900 less than the amount needed for health. The average American eats 3,400 calories daily.

With the work of UNRRA stopped, the task of supplying the means of life to millions of destitute families falls to Church World Service and other private relief agencies.

White Inspects B. And O. Terminal

President Roy Barton White of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, returned to Baltimore yesterday after inspecting the Cumberland terminal and the new $500,000 retarder operation here on Wednesday.

While in Cumberland, White inspected the B. and O. back shop, round house and bolt and forge. On his return to Baltimore on the Shenandoah yesterday, White was accompanied from Cumberland to Martinsburg, W. Va., by H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland Division.

On Thursday White went to Toledo, Ohio, to inspect the new coal dumping terminal there and to take part in ceremonies preliminary to construction of a new union station. Sticking to railroad practice, groundbreaking was dispensed with in favor of pulling up three spikes from track to the old station.
